The Story of TAMMANY

BY EDWARD C. KRAUSS

(Mr. Krauss, the writer of these articles, spent more than fifteen years in New York, State and city, as a newspaper worker, and knew the city as only a newspaper reporter can—from the inside. For several years he had intimate contact with New York politics and political personages, and on one occasion instituted an inquiry which resulted in removal of a grafting judge from the bench. He is now an editorial writer for The Times.)

XXVIII. (Continued)

The Lexow committee took some 5000 pages of testimony concerning the various ramifications of police-protected vice. Not only did Tammany collect from vice through the police, but some district leaders actually owned shares in brothels. Other Tammany leaders owned gambling houses—notably State Senator Timothy D. Sullivan, known as "Big Tim" and "Dry Dollar."

"Big Tim" got the latter nickname because, when he was a newsboy, he was found drying out a revenue stamp he had taken from a discarded beer keg under the impression it was a dollar bill.

William S. Devery was Chief of Police during part of the Croker regime — an enormous man physically, and known, of course, as "Big Bill." He was legislated out of office when it was found impossible to get rid of him in any other way, and New York never has had a Chief of Police since. It now has a Police Commissioner appointed by the Mayor, but subject to summary removal by the Mayor or Governor. Devery spent his last days as an anti-Tammany politician, running for office on several occasions but never successfully. Devery profited greatly by the graft collected under his regime.

LAWS BENEFIT TAMMANY

Many of the restrictive laws passed against the liquor and vice businesses played directly into the hands of Tammany Hall. One of these was the Raines law, sponsored by Senator Raines, a Republican and an ardent prohibitionist. To lessen the sale of liquor on Sunday the Raines law provided that it could only be vended by a licensed hotel in connection with a meal. A hotel had to have rooms for transient occupancy, and many saloons soon were equipped with them. The actual effect of the law was not to lessen liquor sales, but to increase vice and spread it all over the city, where Tammany protected it for a price. A sandwich, incidentally, was held by the courts to be a meal, and sufficient excuse for any number of drinks.

The Mazet committee of 1899 found the same conditions existing as the Lexow committee, and had the additional satisfaction of questioning Croker himself, as Croker — perhaps miscalculating the time of the committee's adjournment—returned to New York from abroad during the last of the session.

FAMOUS PHRASE UTTERED

Croker refused flatly to tell the committee of what he called his "private affairs," but Frank Moss, the committee's counsel, drew from his lips the famous phrase: "I am working for my own pocket all the time."

Lexow, Mazet and these ten words were the nemesis of Richard Croker.

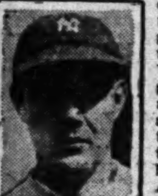
Cardinal Forces Outclassed

Slugging New Yorkers Shell Alexander to Showers in Third-Inning Splurge

Pipgras Staggers, Recovers and Holds St. Louis to Four Hits for Game

BY ALAN J. GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor



GEORGE PIPGRAS.

YANKEE STADIUM, NEW YORK, Oct. 5. (AP)—Having shattered the illusion that they were not able-bodied enough to go through a ball game and win, the New York Yankees staggered out today and destroyed another myth—the notion that they couldn't beat "Old Pete" Alexander.

With an attack that was short but cruelly savage, the rapidly recuperating champions of the American League leaped upon Old Pete, drove him from the box in the third inning with a barrage of base hits and trounced the St. Louis Cardinals for the second successive day.

The final score was 9 to 3, the margin of Yankee superiority was even greater than in the opening game and the prospects, as a result, point to another world's championship for the men of Miller Huggins. Unless the Cardinals take a sudden and decided brace, it may not take long to end the battle that will be resumed, in the third game, at St. Louis, Sunday.

COLORFUL CROWD

Another colorful crowd, totaling 60,714 in paid admissions and numbering slightly less than the opening-day throng, saw the Yankees capture their sixth straight world's series game in decisive but none the less unusual fashion. They saw the New Yorkers jump upon Alexander from the start, driving him to cover in short order. But they also saw George Pipgras, the youthful Yankee right-hander, emerge spectacularly from a close call in the early innings that nearly forced him to share the same fate as Old Pete.

Pipgras not only got off to as wild and woolly a start as he has ever experienced, yielding three runs in the second inning, but his support by the crippled cast also was shaky. Whether it was the bolstering effect of his own team's attack, the fate of old Alex or just a sudden return to form, Pipgras turned over a new leaf and blanked the National League champions for the rest of the game.

Pipgras let the slugging Cardinals down with four hits altogether, in spite of his bad getaway, but for the last seven innings he yielded only two safe blows and permitted no one but Frankie Frisch to get beyond first base. Where he had been as wild as a hawk to begin with, Pipgras had marvelous control through the last seven innings. Where he had been unsteady and obviously nervous he was as cool as a Mathewson or Hoyt. With monotonous regularity he turned back the invaders, featuring one of the best pitching comebacks the series has ever known by striking out eight men, including the slugging Jim Bottomley no less than three times.

ALEX EVEN LESS EFFECTIVE

Perhaps the only thing that saved the Yankees, as well as Pipgras, in the early stages of this melee, was

RESIGNATION REPORTS NOT CONFIRMED

Mexican Paper Says Gov. Rodriguez May Run for Presidency of Mexico

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 5. (Exclusive) Reports received here from Los Angeles and Mexicali to the effect that Gen. Abelardo Rodriguez, Governor of Lower California, may resign in November in order to become a candidate for the Presidency of Mexico at the national elections two years hence were unconfirmed tonight at the Governor's residence at Talmadge Park.

Gov. Rodriguez underwent another minor operation at his home here last Tuesday and his condition, while in no way serious, has kept him to his home under the care of Dr. M. M. Doria, his personal physician. Maj. Ramon Rodriguez, Familiar, his private secretary, declined to permit anyone to see his chief tonight.

REPORT IS DOUBTED

MEXICALI, Oct. 5. (Exclusive) Reports that Gov. Rodriguez of Lower California is to resign next month to lay a basis for candidacy for the Presidency of Mexico were received with some skepticism at the gubernatorial offices here tonight, though in the absence of the Governor and his personal aides no definite information was forthcoming.

It was pointed out that governmental etiquette makes it customary for holders of high Mexican offices to tender their resignations upon the taking office of a new President, in this case Portes Gil, provisional executive succeeding President Calles December 1 and to serve until the next national election two years from now. Such resignations are intended merely to give the new President a free hand in making his own appointments and in many cases the officials so resigning are reappointed.

On the other hand, friends of Gov. Rodriguez say that he entertains a desire to retire to private life in order to give more time to his business interests and believe that, if he contemplates resigning, it may be with this in view. The Governor has previously indicated that he did not wish to become a candidate for the Presidency.

PAPER HERE SAYS RODRIGUEZ MAY RESIGN

From what are described as "authoritative sources" at Mexicali, the Los Angeles Mexican daily, La Opinion, yesterday published the statement that Gov. Abelardo Rodriguez of Lower California will resign his office in November "so that he will be duly qualified to launch his candidacy for the Presidency of the republic."

The article further says it is understood that Gen. Joaquin Amaro, Mexican Secretary of War, will also give up his portfolio next month for the same purpose and that he will be succeeded by Gen. Ferreira.

La Opinion continues that Gen. Rodriguez is highly esteemed in Mexican governmental circles, due to his splendid record as Governor of Baja California.

If he should resign, the article says it is "understood" that Arturo Elias, Mexican Consul-General at New York, may succeed him.

SEWER CZAR'S SWAY CITED

Ghost of Phillips Stalks in Queens Graft Trial as Witnesses Tell of "Iron Hand" Rule

NEW YORK, Oct. 5. (Exclusive)—The contractors who laid the $29,000,000 "gold plated" sewers in the Borough of Queens told today how they paid to "see" the late John M. Phillips, Long Island overlord of sewers. They told how they had tried to buck him and failed. They told how he had forced them to pay four and five times the market price for his pipe. They told how easy it was to "get into Queens" when Phillips said the word and how impossible when he withheld it.

Through all the testimony at the conspiracy trial of former Borough President Maurice E. Connolly and his city engineer, Frederick Seely, there stalked the ghost of "Jack" Phillips, their asserted fellow conspirator. His power at the borough hall, his influence over "big" men, his dominance over everything relating to sewers were written into the records in Long Island City Courthouse.

No other city has seen graft of such magnitude as that pictured at this trial, and the constantly mounting totals of sums paid to the asserted sewer ring would stagger an adding machine.

STAR WITNESS

Today's star witness was Harry S. Hart, a sewer-pipe salesman known as the "little sewer pipe king." He related the tribulation he suffered in trying to "get into Queens." He tried to persuade Connolly to alter contract specifications to permit the sale of his type of small sewer pipe in Queens. Finally he "saw the light" and started attending the racing meet at Aqueduct track. It was easy to see Phillips there and within thirty days he was able to begin selling his pipe to Queens contractors.

Hart's pipe is made of cement by machinery and therefore more trouble arose.

"They wanted me to make my pipe on the job," he explained.

"What did you do?" asked Special Prosecutor Emory R. Buckner.

EAST IOWA BATTERED BY STORM

Much Damage Caused by High Winds That Sweep Over Large Section

CEDAR RAPIDS (Iowa) Oct. 5. (Exclusive)—A windstorm with almost hurricane force swept through Eastern Iowa late last night causing a great deal of damage to farm property, high-power lines, trees and crops. The storm extended as far east as Wheatland and as far west as Williamsburg, a distance of eighty miles. The towns hardest hit are Tiffin, North Liberty, Oxford, Fairfax, Wheatland, Anama colonies and Williamsburg.

Several of the towns were without light and power during the night. Nearly an inch of rain fell, followed by hail. Many trees were blown down here and streets were flooded.

A high-tension wire which fell across the hood of an automobile was responsible for Frank S. Lyons, lineman, receiving burns which may cause his death. Lyons touched the hood and was knocked senseless. The wire had been grounded by another wire which fell seven miles out of town, became tangled with the local circuit and re-energized the wire.

Will Rogers Remarks:

SPRINGFIELD (Mass.) Oct. 5.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I have been hearing appeals over the radio for funds and thought sure it must be for Florida or Porto Rico or some equally deserving cause, and come to find out it was the Democratic campaign treasurer seeking first aid. Nights when the candidates don't talk over the radio their treasurers do, asking for money enough to pay for the radio for the next night for the candidate.

Both parties have got to a point now where they will take old clothes or second-hand cars or anything. There are peculiar charities in this country.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

McAndrew Gets Important Post

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5. (AP)—William McAndrew, former superintendent of Chicago public schools and the target of Mayor Thompson in his campaign against what he termed pro-British text-books, has been appointed chairman of the resolutions committee of the department of superintendence of the National Education Association.

Dr. Frank D. Boynton, Superintendent of Schools at Ithaca, N. Y., and president of the department, made the announcement today through the National Education Association.

Coolidge to Give Dedication Talk

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5. (AP)—President Coolidge today accepted an invitation to speak on the 19th inst., at 3 p.m., at the dedication of the battlefield of Fredericksburg and Spottsylvania in Virginia.

The President also agreed to make an address of welcome at the general convention of the Episcopal church convening in Washington next Wednesday.

ALL-AIR LINE NEW PLAN

Planes Will Link Coast and Ohio

Latest Passenger Project Part of Cross-Country Rail Tie-up

Decision on Service Result of Recommendations by Lindbergh

NEW YORK, Oct. 5. (AP)—On recommendation of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, chairman of its technical committee, the Transcontinental Air Transport Company, organized to operate the air portion of plane-train service across the country, decided today to establish an all-air route from Columbus, O., to the west coast. Planes with sleeping accommodations will be used for night flying.

The "all-air service," President C. M. Keys of the Transport Company announced, will place New York one business day from the west coast. It will supplement the originally planned joint rail and air route giving a daily forty-eight-hour service between the coasts. Plans for this service, it is stated, are well under way.

PLANS HASTENED

Gradual development of an all-air route was the first intention of the executive committee of the transport company, Mr. Keys said. The plans, however, were hastened by the findings and recommendations of the technical committee, headed by Col. Lindbergh, who has been studying meteorological conditions and topography preparatory to opening of the air and rail routes.

"After personally inspecting the western portion of the route to be operated by Transcontinental Air Transport, and after inspecting meteorological conditions in this territory, I am ready to recommend that an all-air schedule be established west of Columbus," says a statement by Col. Lindbergh, given out with the announcement of the executive committee's action on his recommendation.

NIGHT FLYING

"This recommendation is made with unanimous approval of the technical committee. A study of equipment now available showed that night flying of passengers over suitable territory can be carried on in safety and comfort."

Col. Lindbergh's statement explains his recommendation was due in large measure to the findings of his associates on the technical committee—O. S. (Casey) Jones, president of the Curtiss Flying Service, Maj. Thomas G. Lanphier, Phil Love, former flying mate of Col. Lindbergh, and H. Clay Ferguson, operations head of the Curtiss Flying Service.

By using the all-air service, it was explained, the passenger could leave New York, say Wednesday night, lose only one business day and be in San Francisco or Los Angeles Friday.

SLEEPER PLANES

"This route will use the same planes that are used in the rail and air line between Columbus and a point in Kansas, and from that point to the Pacific Coast will use planes with sleeping accommodations, which will cover the larger part of the western route by night," Mr. Keys said.

"The rail and air combination is well under way. It will be put into operation as originally planned and will furnish a daily transcontinental service of about forty-eight hours between the coasts. The all-air service will place New York one business day from California and will furnish a service of from twenty-four to thirty hours between Ohio points and the Pacific Coast, with corresponding service from Chicago, St. Louis and Kansas City."

HOOVER OFF FOR DIXIE

Southern Votes Sought Today

Candidate Will Speak at Elizabethton, Tenn., and at Soldiers' Home

Numerous Conferences Had by Nominee at Capital Before Departure

The management of KFI, local radio station, announced last night that the station has been instructed to "stand by" for the reception of the Hoover speech at Elizabethton, Tenn., beginning at noon, Pacific Coast time, today. There still is some doubt, however, if the national hook-up will be able to reach Los Angeles—KFI is not mentioned in the official list of broadcasting stations to receive the address. The station management is is making all preparations for broadcasting the speech if it is available. Definite word on it is expected early this morning.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5. (AP)—Bound for the Eastern Tennessee Mountains, where he will deliver his fourth major speech of the campaign at Elizabethton tomorrow, Herbert Hoover left Washington at 11 o'clock tonight.

Accompanying the Republican Presidential nominee on his special train are Mrs. Hoover, their son Herbert, Jr.; his assistant, George Akerson, and a number of newspaper correspondents and photographers.

Although the destination of the Republican nominee is Elizabethton, Tenn., in the heart of a mountain stronghold of Republicanism, the speech that he will make there tomorrow will be carried by the radio into Democratic homes in the other southern States under an extensive broadcasting hook-up.

Word came to Hoover's personal headquarters before his departure that the people of the mountain town have furbished their streets and put themselves in readiness to welcome him in hearty southern fashion on his arrival tomorrow.

MANY CONFERENCES

Today saw the candidate busy in a round of conferences. Among his callers were thirty editors of foreign language newspapers, circulating among fourteen nationalities.

To them, Hoover expressed his thanks for their interest in the campaign and described its problems as of equal importance to all nationalities, regardless of race or creed.

"These campaigns resolve themselves into national debates and as a result of the great interest which they arouse give all sides an opportunity to spread information on important questions," he said.

The nominee reminded the editors that the rapidity with which new immigrants are blended into the nation is not determined by the races from which they spring but by the intelligence and ability of the individual under the conditions he finds in this country.

"There is no distinction of races in this national debate," he said. "It is a discussion entirely between Americans and must be so regarded; we do not want international disputes in America. There have been too many of them in the past."

Leaving Washington late tonight, the first stop of the nominee's priv-

LONDON, Oct. 5. (AP)—"Tay Pay," Thomas Power O'Connor, "father of the House of Commons," celebrated his eightieth birthday today. The last survivor of the Irish Nationalist party, Privy Councilor and a famous journalist, although a martyr to rheumatic ailments enjoys considerably better health than he has for some months past.

T.P.O'CONNOR

"Tay Pay," as he is affectionately known everywhere, this being also his cable address, describes his creed as that of a realistic optimist — realistic in the sense of a full consciousness of all the sadness of the world; optimistic in the sense that he believes every man can do something to relieve this sadness.

"The hope of so doing is the consolation of my old age," he said, "and the foundation of my hope that I may have some years more to do my share of this work."

SNUFF HIS HABIT

Mr. O'Connor does not smoke or chew tobacco, but still clings to the old-fashioned habit of taking snuff. He contends that snuff has a soothing effect quite different from tobacco used in other forms.

Besides his other accomplishments "Tay Pay" is the world's champion beggar, he boasts. It is political begging he does. In several trips to New York for the home rule cause he has charmed

GRAPE CONTROL DECLARED VITAL

Conn Says Price Troubles Can be Eliminated

Definite Plans Proposed to Effect Program

Association Directors Will Discuss Project

FRESNO, Oct. 5. (Exclusive)—Absolute control of the volume of fresh grape shipments leaving California must be provided in clearinghouse contracts between the California Vineyardists' Association and the shipper members if satisfactory returns are to be obtained for the growers, Donald D. Conn said today in a bulletin reaching local members of the organization.

Setting forth specific recommendations whereby he says this control can be achieved, Conn announced that the program will be laid before the directors of the association at a meeting here from the 18th to the 20th inst., inclusive.

Conn's statement says that had the association been in position to exercise such control this season the present low prices could have been obviated.

Asserting that juice grape prices now are the lowest in the history of the fresh-grape industry, Conn blames the condition, first upon "the needless collapse of the raisin industry," oversupply of markets, increased use of substitutes in the East and weather conditions both in California and the East. Regarding table grapes, he attributes the low prices to the following conditions: Poorer quality, price cutting, uncontrolled distribution, sympathy with low juice grape prices and heavy volume of competitive fruits in same markets.

PLANS DISCLOSED

Outstanding recommendations for revision of the clearinghouse contract to provide definite control over volume are given by Conn as follows:

For table grapes—control over starting time of shipments from each district; control over distribution to auction markets; adoption of a uniform package; establishment of basic minimum prices and policing of quotations, and adoption of uniform cash and consignment contracts.

The same recommendations are made for juice grapes, except that he recommends control over daily volume loaded instead of control over distribution to auctions.

Amendment to the present Produce Agency Act also is declared by Conn to be necessary, first, to provide for elimination of speculation in growers' crops and to define what a cash purchase is, in order to make payment compulsory when a purchase is effected; second, to fix State bonds based on estimated maximum tonnage to be handled by the shipper, and third, to exempt the clearinghouse member, acting as a contractural agent of the grower co-operative, from the provisions of the act.

A uniform credit policy is proposed for financing the crop movement as follows: Financing of clearinghouse members; financing growers for picking and packing with clearinghouse members' guarantee; elimination of bank credit to marginal vineyards, and extension of credit to growers only on understanding that they will market their grapes through the clearinghouse.

"Developments during the present and past seasons have demonstrated the value of the clearinghouse relationship between shippers," the statement continues, "would be impossible, but the clearinghouse recommendations—based on deliberate and unbiased study of the facts by experts—must be backed-up by definite control over the activities of individual members. Otherwise our success is only relative, depending on the degree of cooperation put forth."

Conn insists that the introduction of 190,000 tons from marginal vineyards has been a disturbing factor and "from every viewpoint should be eliminated."

CONTROL URGED

"It is of little consequence at the present time whether the grower or shipper was responsible for these conditions. The fact remains that if the C.V.A. or the Associated California Fruit Industries, Inc., are to assume the responsibility for the results of our program they must be vested with a reasonable measure of definite control. The sincere and earnest efforts of a large portion of the membership must not be continually influenced by others who, by short-sighted and selfish policies, act contradictory to the best interests of the entire industry, destroying price levels not only for themselves but for everyone else. These people should not be engaged in handling the fruit of growers.

"Having perfected clearinghouse agreements covering these necessities, growers must see to it that shippers participating in them act in common accord. If it is adhered to it should be all that is necessary to regulate our volume and distribution and to control prices.

IMMEDIATE NEED

"Readjustments in both clearinghouses—to which every grower and shipper must give his immediate attention—are absolutely necessary if California is to succeed in securing profitable prices for its grape and tree crops. With the increasing production of fruit throughout the United States, together with our own expanding acreage, I can see little hope of success to our growers unless we take complete advantage of the experience gained during the past year.

"This means we must view our problems from an 'industry' standpoint, stop abusive speculation with the growers' fruit and begin to merchandise it in the same manner that all other successful business is conducted. The greatest problem confronting our association is one of human relations between the individual people party to the production and distribution of the crop."

State Suffers Severely From Fires in Forests

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 5. (AP)—California is closing one of the most destructive years for forest fires in a decade, with a total of 1302 fires in national forests and 1261 in State forests and adjoining lands, the United States Department of Agriculture reported today.

Acreage burned over this year totaled 710,893, compared with 85,569 in 1927.

In the national forests lightning caused 530 fires, smokers 360, miscellaneous causes 151, incendiary 126, campers eighty-eight, railroads fifty-eight, brush burners forty-two and lumbering operations forty. More than half of the fires in State lands were caused by smokers.

MRS. NORTHCOTT BALKS QUIZZERS

Refuses to See or Talk to Riverside Officers

Extradition Hearing for Her Due in Calgary

Son Reported Weakening; Papers Expected

BY JAMES M. KENDRICK
"Times" Staff Representative

VANCOUVER (B. C.) Oct. 5.—Mrs. Louisa Northcott, jointly charged with her son, Gordon Sewart Northcott, of murder on an isolated chicken ranch near Wineville, Cal., in a statement issued from the Calgary (Alta.) jail today declared that under no circumstances will she see or talk to Riverside authorities, who are here awaiting extradition proceedings to return her and her son for trial.

"I have had nothing to say about this matter yet and I don't propose to do so," Mrs. Northcott stated.

"I have all the freedom I desire in the woman's quarters of this jail, get three square meals a day, sleep well and am contented. I am not going to be unnerved by interviewing any of these California people," she was quoted as saying.

MOTHER UNPERTURBED

Mrs. Northcott, it was reported, appears in excellent health and apparently is unperturbed over the charges against her. Her only worry, the report said, is as to the condition of her son in Oakalla prison here.

"I am told he is not allowed to read newspapers and has no means of passing time away. That is terrible for my poor boy," the woman said.

Mrs. Northcott's condition apparently is in vivid contrast to her son's. Northcott, it is reported, is sullen and rapidly breaking under the strain of his confinement.

Chief of Police Richie of Calgary announced that removal of Mrs. Northcott from Calgary to Vancouver in order to have a joint extradition with her son, will be bitterly opposed by him and his office.

"Mrs. Northcott will be given her hearing here, because this is the province in which she was arrested," Chief Richie said.

PAPERS AWAITED

Mrs. Northcott's hearing, scheduled for tomorrow, will be set over until the arrival of extradition papers from Ottawa, Canadian capital, where they will be transmitted from Washington.

Barrister Maitland, who is counsel for Riverside county, today declared that evidence submitted by Riverside officers is "more than sufficient grounds upon which to rush extradition of the Northcotts as soon as papers from Washington arrive."

The barrister told reporters today that the case as it now stands would be completed in a Canadian trial court in two days.

"I can't understand how an American court could prolong such an obviously heinous mess as this affair for a period of thirty days or more," he stated.

MOTHER'S HEARING FIRST

Mrs. Northcott's hearing in the extradition fight to return herself and son probably will be held several days before Gordon's. Her extradition papers will arrive in Calgary at least two days before they arrive in Vancouver, Riverside officials here were informed today.

Tomorrow night the Riverside investigators, Quinn and Kelley, are scheduled to depart for Calgary and be on hand when the papers arrive the middle of next week, unless another unforeseen delay develops. The newest move in the legal procedure to produce the pair in California and try them for the asserted butchery of four boys on young Northcott's chicken farm, is being made at the suggestion of Maitland.

A joint hearing of Northcott and his mother in Vancouver, however, still is held as possible following a conference between Quinn and Kelley and Frank Lyons, young Northcott's counsel. Immediately after announcement today that the Riverside officers will leave for Calgary tomorrow, Lyons asked for a meeting with them and urged them to delay their departure for a few days.

OFFICERS SKEPTICAL

"I have negotiations under way now that I believe will be successful, and if they are Mrs. Northcott will come to Vancouver," Lyons was quoted saying. The visiting officers, however, declared they are skeptical that Mrs. Northcott will agree to the plan, and they intend to proceed with the legal moves as planned.

Reports were again revived in official channels today that counsel for both Northcott and his mother are planning on waiving extradition eventually. Maitland, however, says that if this has not been done by the time extradition papers arrive it will be too late.

Immediately after the meeting with the officers Lyons left for Oakalla prison for a conference with Norcott. Agitation in the Northcott camp was more apparent than ever today as a result of Lyons's urgent request for a meeting with the Riverside officials, and from reports coming from Oakalla prison. Although the ban on all news from the institution is still on, it was learned from an authentic source that Northcott has completely given away to the suspense under which he has labored and is in a highly nervous state. For this reason the strongest guard ever thrown around the gates of Oakalla prison for the formality of releasing a prisoner and immediately taking him into custody again has been ordered by Walter Owens, assistant superintendent, and Forbes Cruickshank, inspector of provincial police.

Northcott will be free for a few minutes Monday morning if a Los Angeles warrant, also charging him with murder, arrives as scheduled. Northcott went through the same procedure at the time the Riverside warrant was served on him. At that time, however, he thought he had actually been freed. Probably knowing that the affair Monday will be a repetition of the previous one, officers fear that he may attempt to do himself bodily harm.

Today the search for two missing suit cases, believed by police to have been hidden during Northcott's flight through British Columbia, shifted to a cemetery near Burnaby, a Vancouver suburb. It was in this cemetery that two other grips were abandoned by Northcott and found under a nastily built earth mound.

Time of departure of Miss Jessie Clark for California where she is to be one of the two principal State witnesses will not be made public, Quinn and Kelley today stated. It previously had been announced that she would go unaccompanied, but today it was authentically learned that an officer is to be with her.

LOS ANGELES OFFICERS MAY AID IN EXTRADITION

Riverside county authorities now in Canada awaiting the extradition hearing of Gordon Stewart Northcott and his mother probably will be assisted by Los Angeles county officials, it was indicated last night.

Definite plans to send Capt. Bright, head of the Sheriff's homicide bureau, and either Chief Deputy District Attorney Murray or Dep. Dist.-Atty. Thoms, chief of the homicide department, to Vancouver, await a conference with Dist.-Atty. Keyes. The District Attorney is out of the city, but his aides expected to discuss the situation with him over long-distance telephone last night.

The move to send Los Angeles county officials to Vancouver came with receipt of a telegram from the Riverside authorities outlining the progress of the extradition proceedings, and information that Gov. Young has approved the Riverside documents and that they have been forwarded by air mail to Washington.

HARD FIGHT EXPECTED

In their telegram the Riverside authorities indicated, according to Capt. Bright, that the extradition proceedings will be prolonged and hard fought. The Los Angeles officials plan to proceed to Vancouver under an indictment returned against Northcott charging him with the murder of an unidentified Filipino boy, whose headless body was found near Puente in February.

A complete set of extradition papers covering the charges against Northcott in Los Angeles county was fordwarded to Sacramento last night, and will be in the hands of Gov. Young today at 10 a.m., for approval. No delay is anticipated in the forwarding of the papers to Washington, following the approval of the Attorney-General, and the Los Angeles authorities will leave for Vancouver Monday night if Dist.-Atty. Keyes approves the present plans.

QUICK APPROVAL SEEN

The State Department's approval of both Riverside and Los Angeles extradition documents is expected to be telegraphed to Gov. Young by Monday, and the authorities then will be notified that they can start legal proceedings seeking to bring the accused pair back to California.

A cap and shirt found at the isolated chicken ranch, believed by the investigating officer to have been worn by one of the Winslow boys and the Collins lad, were given to J. Clark Sellers, criminologist, yesterday for investigation. Positive identification of the garments by parents of the missing lads was not made, but the clothing is asserted by the parents to have been very similar to that worn by the youths at the time of their disappearance.

"Times" Hurricane Relief Fund

The Times will receive, acknowledge by publication and turn over to the Red Cross any contributions sent to this newspaper for the relief of the hurricane victims of Porto Rico, Florida and contiguous territory. This fund The Times has started with a contribution of $1000 of its own. All checks for this fund should be made payable to The Times Hurricane Relief Fund and should be mailed to The Times, Los Angeles, Cal.

The need is very urgent and President Coolidge has appealed to the generous American people to meet it with open hearts and pocketbooks. The Times urges all who can give, even in small amounts, to give quickly. If preferred contributions may be sent direct to the American Red Cross, Los Angeles Chapter, Transportation Building, Los Angeles.

A total of $1022.50 was received by The Times yesterday, bringing The Times fund to date to a grand total of $47,115.41.

Up to 3 p.m. yesterday The Times fund stood as follows:

Judge Reveals Primary Fraud

FLINT (Mich.) Oct. 5. (AP)—Approximately 1300 fraudulent Republican ballots were cast in the September primary election and fictitious names were entered on the poll books, Circuit Judge Parker declared today in reporting on his one-man grand jury inquiry into charges of election irregularities in Flint.

The inquiry has resulted in the indictment of fourteen men, including Mayor McKeighan.

House Campaign Funds Committee Turns D for Inquiry Into Her Activities

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5. (AP)—The House Campaign F
tion Committee today rejected a motion by Representative York to inquire into the activities of Mrs. Mabel Walker behalf of the Hoover candidacy, and reports concerning campaign which he charged is being conducted against Gov.

Black asserted that the decision proved that "the Republicans are absolutely tied up to the bigotry campaign," while Chairman Lehlbach declared that none of the circumstances cited for investigation had been proved to be based on fact. Lehlbach added that the committee considered the resolution as "a partisan political move and lost no time in voting it down."

Committee members said the motion was opposed by Lehlbach, Nelson of Maine, and Chindblom of Illinois, Republicans. Black alone supported it.

Black said he intends to bring the matter before the House in December.

The committee unanimously adopted a resolution by Black to ask the Democratic National Committee to file an itemized account,

RELIEF FUND DONATIONS FALLING OFF

Less Than $150 Received During Day by Red Cross; Quota Lacks $26,500

Less than $150 was sent in to the Red Cross headquarters yesterday for the Porto Rico and Florida hurricane relief fund. Only nineteen contributions were received during the day, including one $20 check and the balance ranging from $1 to $5 and $10, aggregating $138 in all.

The Times collected $1022.50 yesterday, bringing its relief fund total to $47,115.41.

Los Angeles, according to D. C. MacWatters, chairman of the local chapter of the Red Cross, now stands with a grand total of $73,500. The city's quota is $100,000, leaving a balance of $26,500 to be raised.

"We are lagging sadly behind in this humanitarian call," stated Mr. MacWatters yesterday. "This is a voluntary appeal made in the name of more than 500,000 men, women and children, victims of a disaster greater than any this country has ever before suffered.

"We have $26,500 to be raised, and I am sure that our Los Angeles citizens, realizing the urgency of this appeal, will not fail in their response. Send in your contribution today to the Red Cross headquarters, 610 Transportation Building, 122 East Seventh street."

AIR COMPANY FORMED

NEW YORK, Oct. 5. (AP)—Formation of a new company—the Sikorsky Aviation Corporation—disclosed today a contract giving the Curtiss Flying Service, Inc., exclusive selling rights of Sikorsky planes for commercial use in the United States. A similar contract for export was entered into with the Curtiss Airplane Export Corporation.

Safety

HOLLYWOODLAND

THE enemies of present day civilization are far more dangerous than those which caused the building of great castles on the hilltops for safety in the olden days. Today you must protect your family from the insidious, lurking dangers of Automobile Gases . . . Lowlands and Canyon Streets filled with the deadly carbon Monoxide of countless buses, trucks and machines . . . You must protect your children from the dangers of major traffic arteries . . . Protect your nerves from the ceaseless din and noises of metropolitan congestion.

COME TO THE HILLS . . . COME TO HOLLYWOODLAND . . . Find safety, health, happiness and recreation above the smoke, fog-dampness and turmoil of the great city. Here, five minutes from Hollywood Boulevard and Vine Street and thirty minutes from downtown Los Angeles is an ideal home place. Let us show you all of the advantages that Hollywoodland offers. GERMAN PRISONS LACK TENANTS

Crime Greatly Reduced But Civil Courts Complain Of Cramped Space

[Copyright, 1928, by New York Times.]

BERLIN, Oct. 5. (Exclusive) The prison at Regen, near Frankfurt, is completely empty since the last prisoner was released a few days ago. Berlin's largest penitentiary near the Lehrten railway station is offered for sale. Various other cities have combined their prisons, evacuating the superfluous ones.

All this indicates that criminal figures, which went up to a comparatively high mark immediately following the World War, have been greatly reduced. On the other hand, the civil courts are complaining of a lack of sufficient space and the authorities intend to use the spoils of the prison sales for the construction of larger buildings for their purposes.

Party Chairman's Reply to Anti-Catholic's Note Conveys Reproof

AURORA (Mo.) Oct. 5. (AP)—Hubert Work, chairman of the Republican National Committee, in response to a telegram from Charles Murphy, editor of the New Menace, anti-Catholic publication, today wired Murphy as follows:

"Both Mr. Hoover and myself desire the votes of all intelligent people interested in good government. The national committee is conducting a pro-Hoover and not an anti-Smith campaign."

Murphy had telegraphed Dr. Work as follows:

"Protests pouring in our office as result of your and Mr. Hoover's statements regarding the raising of the religious issue in Alabama and assertions that Mrs. Caldwell in Virginia has also raised that issue indicate belief that you do not wish the militant Protestant vote. It is up to us to find out."

GEORGIA DEMOCRATS PLEDGE SMITH VOTES

MACON (Ga.) Oct. 5. (AP)—With a band playing "The Sidewalks of New York" and delegates cheering wildly, a resolution pledging the support of the party to Gov. Smith of New York, Presidential nominee, and Senator Robinson of Arkansas, Vice-Presidential candidate, was adopted today by the Georgia State Democratic convention. The adoption of the resolution was the first act of the convention after assembling.

McNARY GOES EAST ON CAMPAIGN WORK

SALEM (Or.) Oct. 5. (AP)—Senator McNary, who is a member of the Senatorial campaign committee, left today for Chicago to make his report relative to Republican Senatorial activities in the Northwest. He had planned a trip this week to California, Washington, Nevada and Arizona in connection with the Senatorial activities, but had to abandon the trip.

SMITH ATTACKS DRUNK CHARGE

Quotes Pastor as Denying Having Made It

Affidavit, However, Imputes Language to Him

Preacher Later Qualifies Repudiation

ALBANY (N. Y.) Oct. 5. (AP)—The following statement was issued today by Edward G. Griffin, counsel to Gov. Smith, through the Capitol offices of George B. Graves, secretary to the Governor.

"A communication was received at the executive chamber stating that Rev. Manning E. Van Nostrand, pastor of the Emmanuel Baptist Church of Albany, N. Y., had made a statement at the Bible conference held at Winona Lake, Winona, Ind., that Gov. Smith of New York was so intoxicated when he was trying to talk over the radio immediately after he was nominated at Houston that two men had to hold him up.

"Immediately upon receipt of this communication Rev. Van Nostrand, at the request of the Governor, visited him at his office in the executive chamber. The Governor in the presence of his secretary, George B. Graves, and myself, then read the communication to Rev. Van Nostrand, giving the name and address of the writer, and asked Rev. Van Nostrand the direct question.

DENIES SAYING IT

"'Did you ever make any such statement about me?' Rev. Van Nostrand then asked the Governor whether the writer said that Rev. Van Nostrand had made the statement directly to the writer. The Governor then reread the letter and repeated the question. Van Nostrand then said—'I never said it.' Since that time there has been received the following affidavit:

"'(State of Indiana) ss.

"'(County of Carroll.)

"'The undersigned, being first duly sworn on oath, deposes and says that he or she on or about August 23, 1928, while in attendance at a Bible conference held at Winona Lake, Winona, Ind., heard one Dr. Van Nostrand, supposedly from Albany, N. Y., make a statement substantially as follows:

"'That Mr. Smith (referring to Alfred E. Smith, of New York) was so intoxicated when he was trying to talk over the radio the first Sunday after he was nominated at Houston that two men had to assist him in standing. Also that on another occasion in the railroad station where Mr. Smith was preparing to board a train he was much under the influence of liquor and was passing it around to men and ladies in his party.'

EVIDENT INTENT

"'The deponent further says that these statements were made on a public rostrum or platform at Winona Lake, evidently with the intent of belitting the character or personality of said Alfred E. Smith, who is now candidate for President of the United States.

"'Further the deponent sayeth not.

"'MRS. A. J. WICKARD.

"'Subscribed and sworn to before me this 17th day of September, 1928.

"'FRANK POUNDSTONE.

"'Notary Public.'"

Several hours after Mr. Griffin had distributed copies of his statement to newspaper men, Rev. Van Nostrand issued the following statement:

PASTOR EXPLAINS

"I was requested to call at the office of Gov. Smith at the Capitol in this city. He read to me an extract from a letter from the New York headquarters of the Democratic National Committee in which it was stated in substance that Indiana was in a ferment due to a statement made by me in that State to the effect that the Sunday following his nomination, the Governor broadcast over the radio and was so intoxicated that it required two men to hold him up.

"The Governor asked me if I had made that statement. I said that I had not.

"Upon that occasion the Governor did not ask me if I had made any similar statement or if I had made any other statement concerning him or to the effect that he had been intoxicated or to the effect that he drank.

"When asked specific questions in Indiana concerning Gov. Smith:

"I did make the statement in Indiana, but I had been informed that upon one occasion when Gov. Smith had broadcast that he was so intoxicated that he had to be supported by two persons.

GIVES HIS LANGUAGE

"I also made the statement in Indiana that I had been informed that on the Sunday following his nomination the Governor went to New York and that when he was in the Albany station he had been drinking.

"I also made the statement that in my opinion if any one asked the Governor that direct question as to whether or not during his occupancy of that high office he had used intoxicating liquors or had been a drinking man that the Governor would admit that he had done so.

"I further stated in Indiana that I had never read or heard any denial by the Governor himself that he was a drinking man; but the only denials I had heard of were made by others and I did not believe the Governor would deny it if he were asked the direct question."

SMITH TRIP ITINERARY NOT FIXED

Governor Continues Silent on Second-Tour Plans; May Leave Albany Monday

ALBANY (N. Y.) Oct. 5. (AP)—As the time drew nearer today for Gov. Smith to start on his second campaign tour, the Democratic Presidential nominee continued silent as to his detailed plans. He devoted several hours to a study of train schedules and other details in connection with the journey but at the end of the day announced he could not promise when the itinerary will be ready.

"There will be nothing on the itinerary today at least," he told newspaper men at the daily press conference at the executive mansion. "There are too many details to be straightened out. Halls, radio arrangements and all that are more or less up in the air."

It was indicated that the Governor will leave Albany sometime Monday for conferences in New York with party leaders before boarding his special train there for the campaign swing that probably will keep him on the road, with the exception of a day or two back here in the Capitol, until the Saturday night before election.

Anxious to get a little recreation this afternoon, Gov. Smith appeared in the press conference togged out in new knickers and without waiting for the questioning to begin warned the newspaper men to "speed it up and let me get out to play some golf."

"I started out to the club the other day," he explained, "but it was so late I never got there."

He said he undoubtedly will see Franklin D. Roosevelt, the Democratic nominee for Governor of New York, before he starts his second tour nevt week, provided Mr. Roosevelt is in New York during the time he expects to spend there Monday.

Robinson Rally Plans Complete

"First come, first served."

That, in effect, is the seating order for Senator Robinson's speech Tuesday night in the Philharmonic Auditorium, according to instructions issued yesterday by Milton Bryan, Southern California campaign manager.

Senator Robinson will arrive in Los Angeles from Phoenix, over the Southern Pacific Railway at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday. He is to be escorted to the Biltmore by a reception committee and will rest until the hour of his speech.

He will make a second speech on the beach at Venice between Windward avenue and the pier.

Raskob Memorial Will Honor Son

NEW YORK, Oct. 5. (AP)—A foundation which will have $1,000,000 to spend for the relief and assistance of needy children has been established by John J. Raskob, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, and his wife in memory of their son, William S. Raskob, II, killed in an automobile accident last July.

The foundation, which will be known as the "Bill" Raskob Foundation, was granted a charter by the Delaware State Department yesterday.

PARROT'S PARTY PLOT PERCEIVED

G.O.P. Phalanx Cognizant of Boss Stalking Horse

Little Likelihood of Trojan History Repeating

State Committee Expected to Re-elect Neumiller

BY FLOYD J. HEALEY

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 5. (Exclusive)—Indications tonight are that the Republican State Central Committee can meet in the Palace Hotel tomorrow to name a chairman, organize its working personnel for the coming biennium—and vote a resolution of thanks to the ancient Greeks and Trojans.

Events of the last several weeks have created a situation much like that which existed when the sturdy sons of Troy opened the gates and let the horse in. The difference between past and present is that the State Central Committee knows the horse is coming and that Kent Parrot of political parts and places will be inside wagging the tail, regardless of who it is that appears to public vision on the jockey's pad.

FOREWARNED, FOREARMED

Fortified by that knowledge the committee members, on the face of a summary tonight, stand in a position to repel the camouflaged steed on which Parrot would like to ride roughshod over the entire political structure of the State, and it is believed they will be re-electing as their chairman Charles L. Neumiller of Stockton, the incumbent.

Should that materialize, the 641 members of the committee will be in a position to get whole-heartedly behind the task of supporting Herbert Hoover for the Presidency, Senator Curtis for the Vice-Presidency and the host of Republican candidates for Congressional and State offices—a task which they had expected to launch without friction created by individual ambition two weeks ago.

They were withheld from their objective at that time by the arrival of Parrot's Los Angeles dispatch rider with a challenge against telegraphic voting proxies. The challenge was sufficient at the time to instill confusion into the rank and file of the Republican organization, but the devastation that was Troy's in the long ago was prevented in the present when Chairman Neumiller closed the gates to any form of voting and reformed the dazed lines.

WARRIORS DON ARMOR

Letters from the members of the party in all parts of the State and particularly from Los Angeles, where Parrot's political army has suffered enlightening reverses, point their cognizance of Parrot's aim for domination of State offices in return for "past favors."

Among those who have rallied by letter to the cause of Chairman Neumiller are Senator McKinley, Col. W. Eric Fowler, chairman of the Los Angeles County Central Committee; Theodore J. Roche, Alexander McCabe and Albert A. Rosenshine of San Francisco; Representative Englebright of Nevada City; Bert B. Meek of Oroville, a State cabinet officer; E. C. Denio of Long Beach; Charles A. Whitmore of Sacramento of the Governor's secretarial staff; Senator Swing of San Bernardino; Senator Nelson of Eureka; James F. Collins of Long Beach; James A. Johnston of San Rafael, former warden of San Quentin and Folsom; Frank A. Homan of Fresno and E. Forrest Mitchell of Belvedere.

REINFORCEMENTS RALLY

Aligned with them are leaders of the constructive element of the party throughout the State who are consistently and inexorably opposed to the principle of boss rule and its resultant distribution of plums on the basis of votes rather than ability.

Another element of recent development is expected to play a part in tomorrow's executive session. It has to do with San Francisco's repudiated man behind the throne, former Sheriff Tom Finn.

That the forces of Finn and the pupils of Parrot are comrades in arms is not denied, but that they are not entirely in harmony has become increasingly evident in recent days. It is discreetly hinted that Finn was forced into the alliance by reason of past performances, that he believes Parrot is slipping as a generalissimo of vote-gathering and that Finn does not choose to board a sinking ship with his eyes open and short of life-belts.

UNFORTUNATE LAPSE

Parrot's choice for the State Central Committee chairmanship two weeks ago was Walter B. Allen, Los Angeles harbor commissioner. Whether Mr. Allen will go to the post tomorrow is a matter of speculation tonight. The doubt exists because of a question that has gone from end to end of the party all week. Mr. Allen or any other aspiring politician probably would be willing to admit that it is somewhat awkward to have those for whom one is presumed to be doing a noble work pause and inquire:

"Why, who is he?"

Register! Says Last Appeal to Women Voters

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 5. (Exclusive)—A final appeal for women of California to register by tomorrow night in order to cast their votes at the November 6 election was issued today by Mrs. Edward F. Glazer, chairman of the registration committee of the women's division of the Hoover campaign forces.

At the same time it was announced that Senator Shortridge will begin his active campaign in behalf of Hoover next Wednesday, when he speaks at a local radio station. The following Saturday he will inaugurate his stumping program at San Luis Obispo, continuing on into Southern California.

Corrupt Practices Laid to Senator in Complaint

MADISON (Wis.) Oct. 5. (Exclusive)—The probe into primary election campaign expenditures broadened today to take in both the La Follette and regular wings of the Republican party and a second special prosecutor is expected to be named Saturday to press the regular Republican angle in the John Doe proceedings before Judge S. B. Schein of Superior Court.

Attorney Daniel H. Grady, Portage, has been serving as special counsel to conduct the probe for the La Follettes. With M. H. Hovey, Madison, secretary of the Lane county campaign for the regular Republicans, today filing complaints under the Corrupt Practices Act against Senator La Follette, Alfred T. Rogers, his campaign secretary and William T. Evjue, editor of the Madison La Follette newspaper, the probe promises to let no campaign irregularity pass unnoticed.

FLAREBACK HITS "BOB"

The inquisition originally was launched through La Follette sources with Conrad Hanson of Burke the complainant. "John Doe" was the only name appearing officially, although the proceedings were taken as aimed particularly at Walter J. Kohler, regular Republican nominee for Governor, and his political associates.

The new complaints filed today by Mr. Hovey also mentioned "John Doe" as the law violator, but the wording of the information makes it plain who is meant.

Mr. Hovey charges that Senator La Follette made certain disbursements and received certain contributions which were not accounted for in his expense account. A candidate for United States Senator is allowed to spend $5000.

NOT ALL IN ACCOUNT

Senator La Follette filed an expense statement close to this limit, $4935.92. The contention is made that had other contributions been included he would be shown to have spent a sum in excess of the legal limit.

Mr. Rogers, who acted as Senator La Follette's campaign secretary, is asserted to have received contributions and to have made disbursements of more than $5 which were not reported and that his statement as filed is untrue.

Mr. Evjue is said to have received a $100 contribution to cover subscriptions for his paper, which were distributed among voters, containing matter which affected their votes against certain candidates.

Mormons Deny Party Activity

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 5. (AP)—Denial that authorities of the Church of Jesus Christ, of the Latter-Day Saints, commonly known as the Mormon Church, favor one Presidential candidate over another, was made by President Heber J. Grant at the opening session today of the ninety-ninth semiannual conference.

President Grant took cognizance of what he termed a "whispering campaign to the effect that officials of the church favor one of the Presidential candidates," and added:

"This is positively unfounded; the church as an organization is politically impartial and the individual members are free to vote as their conscience guides them."

Smith Speaker Target of Eggs

PARRISH (Ala.) Oct. 5. (AP)—A fusillade of eggs was directed at Representative Bankhead of Jasper in the course of his address here last night in support of Gov. Smith, the Democratic nominee for President. The throwers missed their mark.

This part of Walker county is conceded by political leaders to be strongly anti-Smith.

CURTIS SPEAKS ON DINNER PAIL

Republican Prosperity Text in Indiana Tour

Steel Plant Workers Told of Administration Benefits

Nominee Leads Auto Caravan Through Factory Towns

GARY (Ind.) Oct. 5. (AP)—Motoring through the densely populated region of Northwestern Indiana at the head of an automobile caravan of several hundred cars, Senator Charles Curtis, Republican Vice-Presidential nominee, today urged the Republican cause with the slogan, "stick to the full dinner pail."

In half a dozen speeches in as many cities in this industrial center during the day the nominee spoke of Republican prosperity and called for the election of Herbert Hoover "if you would continue the prosperity of the administrations of Calvin Coolidge."

HIS BUSY DAY

He came to Gary tonight to wind up the busy day's program which had led him through Whiting, Indiana Harbor, East Chicago, Hammond, Lowell, Crown Point and Hobart. Despite his weakened voice the Senator spoke at every stop. The crushed finger on the right hand forced him to carry the hand in a sling but he was busy throughout the day shaking hands with the crowds with his left hand.

Republican candidates of Indiana, headed by Harry G. Leslie, gubernatorial nominee, met Curtis upon his arrival at the State line at 9:30 o'clock this morning and toured with him through the day.

At the head of the long motor procession which trekked through the busy thoroughfares of the city was a truck carrying a brass band. Banners on the side of the truck bore the words: "Stick to the full dinner pail—Vote for Hoover and Curtis." Under the smoke clouded sky of the factory section Senator Curtis talked on a theme from the slogan, declaring the era of this administration "one of the most prosperous in history."

"FITTED TO RUN"

He lauded Herbert Hoover "as one of the best fitted men ever to run for President."

Crowds lined the streets along most of the route and a battalion of motorcycle police with shrieking sirens heralded the approach of the picturesque caravan and cleared the path for it. At almost all points public and parochial schools were dismissed to permit the children to wave a greeting to the smiling Vice-Presidential candidate.

Women Unite in Hollywood to Aid Hoover

Hollywood women associated with Herbert Hoover during the World War or particularly active in war work yesterday organized for an intensive campaign in the film center between now and the November election. Meeting yesterday afternoon at the Roosevelt Hotel at the call of Mrs. Clarice MacQuarrie, the organization, "Hoover honorary woman's standing committee," was perfected.

Mrs. MacQuarrie, who is a member of the Republican State Central Committee was named permanent chairwoman. Other committee members are: Mrs. Louis W. Myers, Mrs. Charles Lippincott, Mrs. John Mead, Mrs. Charles H. Hubbard, Mrs. Carrie Jacobs Bond, Mrs. Alich Weinrich, Miss Marie Weinrich, Mrs. Cecil B. De Mille, Mrs. Wallace Reid, Mrs. Fred E. Keeler, Mrs. Frances Wise, Mrs. Ralph E. Sanders, Mrs. Seward Cole, Mrs. Antoinette Smith, Mrs. Vera Lewis, Mrs. Lorin B. Curtis, Mrs. Ralph Mallette Burdick, Mrs. Walter G. Hudson, Mrs. Henry T. Wright, Mrs. Jean Keith Lamb, Mrs. C. C. Craig, Mrs. Leone Bestler, Mrs. Burdett Norton, Mrs. Rollin B. Lane, Mrs. E. H. Burrows, Mrs. Emerson Bond Weirick, Mrs. W. A. Nicholl, Mrs. Louise Knappen Woollett, Mrs. Louis B. Wood, Mrs. Louis Fix, Misses Alice and Bessie McCluggage, Mrs. H. G. Redwine, Mrs. Edward Post, Mrs. Louis G. Muller, Mrs. George Grant Hunt, Mrs. Mary J. Gower, Mrs. Edward C. Chamberlain and Mrs. Queen Boardman.

Col. Roosevelt Argues Against Negative Action

RICHMOND (Ky.) Oct. 5. (AP)—Col. Theodore Roosevelt in an address delivered here tonight said the United States since the war has been engaged as a nation in recuperating and recovering its balance and can be satisfied no longer with negative action.

"We need, therefore, during the next four years," he said, "a man who will meet these problems with a sane, fearless liberalism, intent upon positive action.

"During the last eight years we have had startling and ominous instances of corruption. In New York State there has been a scandalous example of this. Herbert Hoover will tolerate no crookedness.

"I believe in Herbert Hoover because of his great administrative ability, his vision, his humanity, his cleanliness, and because he will be elected President."

Illinois Town Commemorates Historic Event

GALESBURG (Ill.) Oct. 5. (AP)—Galesburg has shifted its memories seventy years into history to commemorate the day in 1858, when Abraham Lincoln and Stephen A. Douglas argued the slavery question.

On the campus of Knox College, beside the old Main Hall, where the Emancipator spoke, will gather tomorrow men and women who heard Illinois' political rivals debate. A three-day program has been arranged to signalize the anniversary.

RAIL-MERGING PLANS DROPPED

Directors Withdraw Project Urged by Loree

Stock Market Changes Cited Basis of Stand

Southwestern Roads Not to Push Consolidation

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5. (AP)—The attempt to merge the Missouri-Kansas-Texas Railroad with the St. Louis Southwestern and the Kansas City Southern, instituted before the Interstate Commerce Commission more than two years ago by L. F. Loree and associates, today was formally abandoned.

In a petition to the commission, signed by President Haile of the Missouri-Kansas-Texas Company, it was declared that stock market valuation of the companies contemplated as constituent to the merger had markedly changed so that the stock exchanges planned could not be carried through.

PROCEEDINGS REVIEWED

It was said further that the commission might not be able to find the terms offered fair and reasonable as among the stockholders concerned. The petition detailed recent proceedings under the Clayton Act in which the commission refused to allow Mr. Loree to serve as a director of the Missouri-Kansas-Texas Company because of his status as an official of the Kansas City Southern Company.

Reviewing the facts and the objections arising to the merger both from communities in the territory and from other railroads, it was explained that the directors of the Missouri-Kansas-Texas had resolved to withdraw the application and terminate the proceedings.

LOREE BLOCKED

At the outset of the Loree Southwestern merger, it was proposed that the Kansas City Southern acquire control of the other two roads by stock purchases and exchanges, but the commission held that the capitalization of the Kansas City Southern company "presented too small a base" for financing the enterprise and in addition recited the complaints of communities served that railroad competition would be unduly restrained by the consolidation. Later Mr. Loree and his attorneys switched the tentative plan around so as to make the Missouri-Kansas-Texas the central corporation and renewed the application.

COMPLAINTS FILED

During the interim the commission filed complaints on its own motion to the effect that the acquisition of stock by the companies preparatory to the merger had involved unlawful proceedings under the antitrust law and the Loree directorate matter was the first of these to be brought to decision.

Whether any further steps toward merging the line will be taken by the interests concerned is not known in Washington today. The withdrawal of the Southwestern merger application is in conformity with a set of precedents now laid down by the commission proceedings in a number of consolidation proposals under which nearly all of the extensive plans for consolidating railroads have been ineffectual in bringing about actual mergers.

Bishop Rebukes Church Politics

WILMINGTON (Del.) Oct. 5. (AP) The Wilmington Every Evening today published an interview with Bishop Philip Cook of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of Delaware in which the prelate deplores the injection of religious differences into the Presidential campaign.

"A discussion of religious issues and an appeal to religious prejudices," the bishop said, "simply have no place in this political campaign. They only stir up bitterness; produce heat and no light. They are bound to react harmfully to American life and national concord."

Bishop Cook said he regarded this situation as a dangerous development in American politics. "The minister," he said, "who thinks he can tell his congregation how to vote is, to my mind, a poor sort of citizen and unsafe spiritual leaders."

Borah Declares Outlook Bright

CHICAGO, Oct. 5. (AP)—Senator Borah arrived in Chicago today to confer with western Republican headquarters, and said the campaign looks all right to him. He left later for Washington, where he expects to complete plans for further speeches, including several in some of the northwestern States.

North Dakota, he said, will be placed in the Republican column definitely through indorsement of Hoover by Senator Frazier, nonpartisan league Republican.

Democrats Give Data on Funds

NEW YORK, Oct. 5. (AP)—The financial statement covering contributions and disbursements of the Democratic campaign fund made public today by James W. Gerard, treasurer of the Democratic National Committee, shows total receipts from July 11 to September 30 of $1,570,628.10, with expenditures of $1,393,516.48.

Contributions for September totaled $876,420.63, and disbursements for the month were $933,036.93.

Boy Dies From Torture Ordeal

KENTON (O.) Oct. 5. (AP)—Fright, caused when he was tied to a tree and a dog set upon him, resulted in the death today of Benny Whitmore, 10-year-old schoolboy, county juvenile authorities said.

Officials said Benny was tied to a tree by two other boys as a prank.

UNION BLAMED FOR BOMBINGS

Arrested Kenosha Striker Makes Confession

Tells of Violence Done in Industrial Clash

Search Begun for Three Men Implicated

KENOSHA (Wis.) Oct. 5. (Exclusive)—Kenosha city police today arrested Lawrence Schilling, a striking employee of the Allen A Knitting Mills and obtained a confession from him which cleared up the bombing of one home, a barrage directed at a widow's house, an attack on an automobile load of nonunion employees and may lead to a solution of many acts of violence attendant on the protracted industrial clash.

Schilling when taken from his bed at 4 a.m. admitted that the bombings were directed from headquarters of the knitting employees' union and that in at least one instance a bomb was made in the rear room of the headquarters.

TELLS OF BOMB

"On the night of July 31," Schilling said, "I went to union headquarters with my wife and I met a man named Louis Williams, who had a black powder bomb wrapped up in a package under his arm. Williams said the bomb was made in the back room and that he was going to Winthrop Harbor to blow up a house. I happened to notice him in this way: One of the men pointed Williams out and told me to go over to him and tell him to take the first car. I asked Williams what was meant by the first car and then he told me where he was going and why. That night the home of A. B. Bryant in Winthrop Harbor was bombed. Three strike breakers lived at his place."

Schilling then told how the home of Mrs. Augusta Morsefeld, a widow, resident two blocks from union headquarters, was "shot up" on the night of June 19.

SHOT UP HOUSE

"I was standing in front of union headquarters," Schilling said, "talking to Carl Haubrich, when John Bucko drove up in a car and said, 'I want a couple men to do some shooting.' Haubrich and I jumped into the car. Each of us carried a gun. As we drove by Mrs. Morsefeld's house we emptied our guns into it. Each of us fired six shots. Her son is a strike breaker."

The bullet wound in Schilling's leg which sent him to a hospital in July was inflicted when he with four other men attacked a carload of nonunion men. Bricks were heaved at the strike-breakers.

"Tom Glowacki was the driver of our car," Schilling said, "Anthony Peters was in it, but I cannot remember the names of the other two. We got out to beat up the men, but the driver of the other car—I think it was Frank Christensen—drew a gun and fired at us. The bullet struck my leg."

Police Chief John Sullivan ordered a search for Williams, Bucko, Glowacki and Peters and said he would request the State's attorney at Waukegan to get out a warrant for Williams.

LEPER CURE TO BE TRIED ON CONVICT

Death Sentence Lifted at Riga and He Will be Inoculated With Disease

RIGA (Latvia) Oct. 5. (Exclusive) Gustav Zemgals, president of Latvia, has reprieved the murderer, Janis Kirschstein, who was under a death sentence. Kirschstein has agreed to submit himself to the experiments of the local professor, Paul Sniller, who has received permission from the government to inoculate Kirschstein with leprosy. The experiment is the second in medical annals. The first was made some years ago in Hawaii. Baltic medical authorities are interested, believing they are nearing the discovery of a cure for the disease.

The authorities are confronted with the problem of where to keep the prisoner, since the inmates of the Riga prison threaten to strike unless Kirschstein is removed, while the manager of the local leper colony refuses to harbor a criminal.

Robinson Plans Slightly Upset by Engine Blast

CLOVIS (N. M.) Oct. 5. (AP)—An explosion of the engine boiler of the Scout, crack Santa Fe train from Chicago to California, tonight forced Senator Robinson to use a special train from Amarillo, Tex., to this city to keep a speaking engagement. The Senator's two private cars were to have been attached to the train drawn by the engine, which was wrecked. The explosion occurred about thirty miles east of Amarillo.

W. E. Goodloe, division freight and passenger agent for the Santa Fe, said he was advised that Engineer Larson and Fireman Simmons, who manned the engine on the Scout, had been burned seriously.

Mr. Robinson tonight opened the Democratic campaign in New Mexico. He assailed the Republican farm record and the attitude of Herbert Hoover, Republican Presidential nominee, on that issue.

Amnesty Bill by Portes Gil

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 5. (AP)—Emilio Portes Gil, Provisional President-elect, has drawn up a bill granting freedom to numerous military and civil prisoners on November 30, next, the date when President Calles's term expires and Senor Portes Gil takes over the Presidency.

The measure will be sent to the Chamber of Deputies for approval.

SHIP LINES GET PACT APPROVED

Pacific European Carriers in Rate Agreement

Shipping Board Allows New Passenger Rates

Uniform Schedule of Fares Object of Treaty

A new rate-making body, the Pacific European Conference, has been effected by all lines operating passenger carriers in that service, and uniform rates have been adopted after sanction by the Shipping Board, it was disclosed yesterday.

Rapid expansion of the passenger business, together with the introduction of many new ships with greatly augmented cabin facilities, made such a conference necessary, it is said, for the mutual protection of participating lines.

Steamship companies comprising the conference are the Furness Pacific, Hamburg-American, Holland-America, Royal Mail Steam Packet, Libera Line, North German Lloyd, Johnson and the Trans-Atlantic Steamship companies.

The conference is the outgrowth of the remarkable gain in travel direct between Europe and the Pacific Coast via the Panama Canal. During the last year more than a dozen new ships have been added to this run, each with forty to sixty-passenger capacity instead of the usual dozen heretofore. Simultaneously with their entry has come passenger bookings practically filling every cabin each direction, not only to and from Europe but the Mediterranean as well.

Incidentally Los Angeles has been the coast's greatest embarking and debarking port for most of these services.

AIRPORT SOUGHT ON TERMINAL ISLAND

Proposal that Allen Field on Terminal Island should be made an airport of entry, is to be brought before the directors of the San Pedro Chamber of Commerce next week.

Authorization as an airport of entry would come from the United States Department of Commerce, under the Air Act of 1926. It would permit planes to take off for and land from foreign fields direct in accordance with customs and other regulations.

Supervision of the foreign flights would come under the jurisdiction of the collector of customs of this district.

At present only four fields in the United States are so designated, two at Seattle and one each at St. Paul and Key West. Mines Field, the municipal airport near Inglewood, also could readily show the necessity for such designation, it is declared.

Santa Claus rode in on the Hamburg-American motor liner Osiris from Germany yesterday, bringing more than 200 tons of Christmas toys, some doing everything but think. The liner has 3500 tons for the Coast, of which 2200 is for Los Angeles, the rest being distributed among five northern ports. Foreign cement, 5980 bags of it, is making its appearance here again after an absence of two or three years when more than 100,000 bags entered yearly. A Mercedes Benz special auto from Hamburg also was discharged here for Dr. Edward F. Janss of Los Angeles.

The little Mexican freighter Salva Tierra, owned by Jose Martinez of Guaymas, arrived from there yesterday to receive a new bottom and copper sheeting at the yards of the Harbor Boat Building Company. She received new superstructure here last year.

E. A. Winkler, Pacific Coast passenger manager for the Hamburg American Line, arrived from San Francisco to confer with W. P. Montague, local passenger agent on the Globe cruiser Resolute's visit here May 13, next. That liner will sail eastbound out of New York January 7. Winkler will return north tonight.

Three new 115-foot bait boats, just completed for California Packing Corporation, were to be put in commission today, in the high seas tuna trade out of San Diego and later out of here. They are the California and Saint Veronica, built by the Campbell Construction Company at San Diego, and the Taiyo, built by Al Larson of East San Pedro. The company has three other modern bait boats at sea, and ten small craft and two tenders fishing at Turtle Bay.

Four speed boats of the H 10 Water Taxi Company went over to Catalina Harbor, Catalina Islands, yesterday to work several days for First National Pictures, filming "Changling," featuring Milton Sills and Dorothy Mackaill. F.B.O. will follow with a sea picture at the islands. United Artists just completed sea work on the Rescue, blowing up the windjammer Dauntless as the finale.

Two hundred members of the county constabular force and deputy sheriffs as guests, will take an excursion to Catalina Islands the 20th inst., returning the following day. Harry Osterholdt, chief of constables, will conduct the caravan.

Storms are slowing up San Pedro bound ships north of San Francisco. The lumber schooners Astoria and Cascade have been slowed down from 240 miles to 175 miles daily.

LECTURES GIVEN CLASS IN BED

Professor Turns to Radio so Students May Rest While Learning

CHICAGO, Oct. 5. (AP)—When Prof. T. V. Smith of the University of Chicago calls his class in philosophy together these mornings at 8 o'clock all that is necessary for students to do is to lie in bed and listen.

The hour of 8 a.m. is a bit early for student philosophers to arise. Prof. Smith, himself a philosopher, realizes this.

To meet the situation he now broadcasts his lectures. Members of the class, if they so desire, may "attend" classes by turning on their radios.

INTRIGUES PREVALENT

When the campaign got under way there were all sorts of intrigues. Hamilton wrote Gov. Jay of New York, in the hope of saving the State to the Federalists, to summon the retiring Legislature, which was Federalist, and let it select Federalist electors. Jay, in filing it away unanswered, indorsed the letter "proposing a measure for party purposes which I think it would not be becoming of me to adopt."

In Pennsylvania there was a Republican Assembly and a Federalist Senate. On joint ballot it would have been overwhelmingly Republican, while on a concurrent vote it was a tie. The Senate held out and divided the electoral vote, eight for Jefferson and seven for Adams.

Massachusetts and New Hampshire followed Pennsylvania in disfranchising the people in this election, but it all went for naught, for the returns showed the downfall of the Federalist party.

When the returns showed that Jefferson and Burr had tied, Jefferson announced that the House would have to settle it. The Federalists had a plan of tying up the election by deadlocking the House until the fourth of March. That would have placed the duties of the Presidency upon the shoulders of the president of the Senate, under the succession law of 1797, and he would have had to call another election. There was such a general howl over this program that it was abandoned.

SPEAKER VITUPERATIVE

Hamilton showed his patriotism by trying to avert the election of Burr. He declared that personally he was friendly with Burr, while if there was any man in the world he ought to hate it was Jefferson, and yet the public good should outweigh every private feeling and interest. Speaker Sedgwick, hailing from Massachusetts, declared the electoral system a failure, since it "has, at one election, placed at the head of our government a semimaniac who, in his soberest senses is the greatest marplot in nature, and at the next one a feeble and false, but enthusiastic, theorist and a profligate without character and without property, bankrupt in both."

There were great doings in Washington when the House took up the election of a president. Although the journey to Washington was tiresome and expensive, people hastened there by the hundreds. In one boarding-house fifty men slept on the floors because no beds were to be had. After the electoral count the Senate retired and the House got down to its serious business. Sumter of South Carolina was sick, and so was Nicholson of Maryland, but he was carried to an adjoining committee room on a bed.

The gallery was cleared, the doors closed, the delegates from each State grouped themselves together, chose a teller if they saw fit, and the voting began. Each State had a ballot box of its own, and when its vote was cast the ballots were taken out and counted. If Jefferson had a majority, two little slips with his name on were made out, and if Burr a majority, his name was placed on them instead. If the vote was a tie, the word "divided" was written on the slips.

HOW VOTE WAS VERIFIED

Then came the sergeant-at-arms with two other ballot boxes. One of these slips was put in each box, each by a different member of the State delegation, if more than one was present. Each State then chose a teller to assist at the speaker's desk, and eight tellers counted the slips in each ballot box. The reports from the two sets of tellers agreeing, it was considered the true vote of the House. On the first vote eight States supported Jefferson and six Burr; Vermont and Maryland being divided.

They balloted twenty-seven times that day and night. Many members sent home for nightcaps and pillows, and, wrapped in shawls and overcoats, lay about the floors of the committee rooms or sat sleeping in their seats. The House at breakfast time recessed until noon, took one ballot, recessed until the next day and then again recessed after one ballot. When the thirty-third ballot was taken a recess followed until Monday.

It was not until the thirty-sixth ballot that the Federalists gave way. Jefferson was named President and Burr became Vice-President.

Such an election as the Jefferson-Burr contest can never happen again, since the Twelfth Amendment now makes it impossible for a candidate for Vice-President to oppose the head of his ticket in a House election.

Two Revivalists' Methods Flayed

CHICAGO, Oct. 5. (Exclusive)—Evangelistic methods of Billy Sunday and Aimee Semple McPherson were criticised before the Rock River conference of the Methodist Church by Prof. Harry F. Ward of the Union Theological Seminary, New York.

"In the beginning revivalism served a useful purpose in American life," he said. "Now it has become nonmoral and is a mere appeal to the emotions. The last depth in the degradation of revivalism is reached in the methods of Billy Sunday and Mrs. McPherson."

Follow the Winner when you buy Real Estate

VERY SOON Dickinson and Gillespie Corporation will offer publicly a new unit—the Unit Supreme—of their charming Palisades Del Rey ocean front project. In the belief that many readers of this newspaper will be interested in this last, closest and cleanest of the Los Angeles beaches there will appear each week in this paper an announcement devoted to this property. We will endeavor in these messages to give a complete analysis of the qualifications of this property as a homesite and from the investment standpoint. Dickinson and Gillespie believe that there are many people in Southern California who choose to buy real estate sanely after thorough investigation rather than being talked into it. Those who desire to make a study of Palisades Del Rey will be furnished upon request the entire series of announcements as each appears. Address Dickinson and Gillespie Corporation or phone MUtual 3181.

This first announcement is naturally devoted to the company behind the undertaking—Dickinson and Gillespie, who for 25 years have been identified with substantial and successful community development.

AS you drive down the street and notice the surprising number of real estate offices and signs you can't help but conclude that it's a pretty good business to attract so many—and not so good because it has.

IT is mighty good for some. They eventually forge ahead to leadership. The vast majority of real estate concerns sooner or later drop out.

There was a time a few years ago when any good talker could sell real estate. Today, with conditions nearer normal and more sound, to be a real success in real estate you've got to have something for the public besides talk and circus stunts. More emphasis on the quality and actual value of the property. Less emphasis on selling schemes.

Perhaps it has never occurred to you, but it is well worth remembering that a wise system in buying real estate is to follow a winning real estate company. A concern successful in selecting, buying, developing, improving and selling under all conditions and over a long period of years. A company with a record of substantial earnings for its clients as well as for itself.

Dickinson and Gillespie, for instance. They have pushed ahead to the front not only in Southern California but in many communities throughout the vast territory west of the Mississippi River. They started in business in a modest way 25 years ago.

Buying vacant property. Developing and improving it. Selling efficiently. To-day they have a large following of clients who purchase without hesitation when each new tract is offered. Permanent clients. Consistent money makers.

Just what is it about their methods that has brought them out ahead this way? Take the buying of property for an example. Don't overlook the fact that Dickinson and Gillespie first buy with their own money what they later sell. Make no mistake about it...in 25 years of successful operating you gain experience and shrewdness in selecting property that leaves very little to guesswork...chance. This ability has already earned millions of dollars for the company. And many more millions for their clients.

DICKINSON AND GILLESPIE buy property only after putting it through their rigid 14-point test. Each essential is checked minutely...transportation, zoning, restrictions, convenience, view, drainage and dozens of other details.

Dickinson and Gillespie will not purchase a piece of ground that is not in the path of a city's population and development trend. Nor one that will not benefit the whole city when developed. They will not buy a tract too small to permit high class community development or one that cannot be engineered to conform to best city planning practices.

After they put their cash into a piece of property, Dickinson and Gillespie back their judgment still further by spending additional money to develop the raw land.

In the case of the Palisades Del Rey project over a million dollars is going into improvements.

Nothing haphazard about this either. No scratching the surface to make a big show, to attract quick buyers. Here again long experience counts. Sound engineering. Intelligent zoning. Correct, artistic landscaping. You can get a good illustration of the thoroughness, the stupendous size of such a development program by going out to the UNIT SUPREME overlooking the Pacific at Palisades Del Rey.

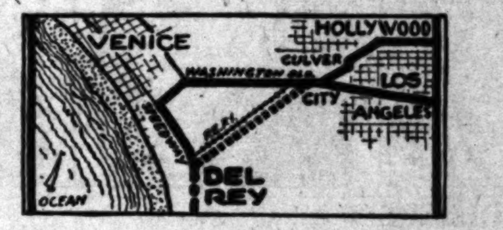
STOP at the office in Del Rey and look over the surveyors' and planners' maps. Note the careful engineering behind this masterful project. Go over the ground. Watch the steam shovels at work. The paving crews. The sewer gangs. See the parks, boulevards and landscaping going in. Walk through that entrancing gem of beauty, Surfridge Park.

Imagine if you can, the barrenness of this raw land before Dickinson and Gillespie put their army of men to work. We'll miss our guess if you don't get a new respect for the real estate business. A new appreciation of real estate as a sound investment.

Intelligent, truthful salesmanship is another fixed policy of the Dickinson and Gillespie organization. You'll seek and respect the advice of Dickinson and Gillespie men. You will sense the fact that they are after satisfied permanent customers—not promiscuous one-time lot sales. Dickinson and Gillespie salesmen are wide awake, successful business men. Many of them are financially interested in the company.

* * * * *

We repeat—follow the winner when you buy real estate. Deal with a company that has made a record of success for itself and its clients. Buy property out of which the gamble has been taken. Buy with your eyes open. Investigate thoroughly. Then you'll have a site that will always be a source of pride and satisfaction. And you'll make money. Real money. Just the way the winner does.



YOU are invited to inspect the UNIT SUPREME at Palisades Del Rey. Pre-showing reservations are now being made.

To get there: BY AUTO—Drive West on Washington Boulevard straight to the ocean. Then South two miles to Palisades Del Rey.

Reign of Terror Grips Macedonia

SOFIA (Bulgaria) Oct. 5. (AP)—Bitter feuds among opposing factions of the Macedonian revolutionists are becoming fiercer and fiercer and assassinations are reported daily.

The latest news, more sanguinary than ever, was received from Kustenjil stating that twenty-three followers of the recently assassinated Comitadji leader, Gen. Alex Protogoureoff, including Gen. Barbunski, were hanged in a forest just outside of the town a few days ago by a rival Macedonian group.

This latter group is said to be followers of Ivan Michailoff, leader of the Macedonian autonomous faction.

"HE MUST NOT DIE," MURMUR BLIND AS NOTED DOCTOR LIES ILL

NILES (Mich.) Oct. 5. (AP)—Scores of blind or half-blind persons of Niles and vicinity, who were his patients, are watching with great anxiety the fight for life being waged here by Dr. Fred N. Bonine, world-famed eye specialist, critically ill with bronchial pneumonia.

In front of his modest office and home, which he has occupied for forty-two years, groups of his patients form each day to await word from his bedside.

"He must not die," is the phrase murmured and echoed on the streets.

Patients from all over the world have come here to receive treatments from the white-haired old man. None has paid more than his fixed charge of $2 for the first examination and $1 for each treatment thereafter, and many have paid nothing at all.

Dr. Bonine is 65 years of age. In his youth he was an athlete at the University of Michigan and in 1886 won the world's championship for the 100-yard dash. He is a member of the Michigan Boxing Commission.

OFFICER WHO FOUGHT DALTON GANG PASSES

NOWATHA (Okla.) Oct. 5. (AP)—John A. Cansdell, veteran peace officer, one of the men who assisted in repulsing the Dalton gang when it raided the Coffeyville (Kan.) banks, October 5, 1892, died at his home here today. Cansdell also was known as a poet and a song composer.

New Record Set by Berengaria

NEW YORK, Oct. 5. (AP)—The Berengaria of the Cunard Line, arriving today, broke all her previous records for crossing from Cherbourg breakwater to the Ambrose lightship. She made the voyage in five days, thirteen hours and thirty minutes, against her former record of five days, thirteen hours and forty-six minutes.

CHUCKLES from LIFE

Of Course

Now that balanced and matched sets of golf clubs are in general use, we may expect dialogues like the following to occur wherever the game is played:

"Hey, Joe, what did you make it in today?"

"Shot a 96."

"Way off your game, eh?"

"No. I've got to take my clubs to the service station and have them properly tuned."

The Lindbergh Influence

"Is it a tough job?" the plumber was asked.

"Naw," said he, "we ought to get it done in two-three hours."

"'We?' You and your assistant?"

"Me and me assistant, hell!" answered the plumber. "Me and me wrench!"

And he went back to his shop for it.

Fancy Costumes

"You say the censors have closed Moe's movie theater? Why?"

"He always dresses his usherettes up to fit the film and the exchange sent him a production called 'The Garden of Eden.'"

ELKS' MEET NEARS END

Oakland and Bakersfield After Honor of Holding Next State Convention

SANTA BARBARA, Oct. 5.—With Oakland and Bakersfield fighting for the honor of entertaining the California State Elks' convention next year, members of both lodges tonight were lining up votes for their respective cities. The Oakland lodge is given an admitted edge to gain the meet. Bakersfield put in a bid for the convention last year but the Bay City lodge, through intensive campaigning, had lined up tonight nearly sufficient votes to land the convention at tomorrow's meeting.

The election of officers is scheduled for tomorrow morning, following which will be one of the biggest parades in the history of the State organization. Because of the position of Santa Barbara midway between Los Angeles and San Francisco, nearly 5000 members of the antlered herd will be here in the morning for the final day's gathering. A grand ball and presentation of trophies will wind up the convention tomorrow night.

Showing precision, uniqueness and pep, the drill team of Oakland Lodge, 171, won the trophy for drill teams here this afternoon, with San Francisco Lodge, No. 3, second, and Pasadena Lodge, No. 672, third. Bakersfield Lodge, which boasts of the national championship drill team, did not compete, but will appear in the Elks' parade here tomorrow afternoon.

Santa Monica Lodge, No. 906, band was awarded the trophy in the band competition; Los Angeles Lodge, No. 99, directed by Harold William Roberts, taking second, and Glendale Lodge, No. 1289, winning third place.

The Benjamin cup for the winning ritualistic team, was awarded to the San Diego Lodge, No. 168, team, with Berkeley Lodge taking second, and Long Beach Lodge, No. 888, in third place. San Francisco Lodge, No. 3, was holder of the trophy last year.

The Long Beach baseball team downed Alameda, 4 to 1, to retain its trophy won last year at Monterey. The Fresno Elks' Lodge was announced today as winner of first place in the glee club contest.

Charging distribution of lewd literature, a misdemeanor complaint against Andrew Hass, 6109 Fountain avenue, Hollywood, was issued late this afternoon by Dist.-Atty. Clarence C. Ward after officials of the California State Elks' Association and newspapers had complained to police against the passing out of immoral "contracts" by a man dressed as an Elk last night.

The slips contained a "contract" for signature following a paraphrase of legal agreement and were handed out by men wearing Elk insignia, at the doors of theaters and hotel lobbies, to men, women and girls. Police tonight were preparing to send an officer to Los Angeles having information that Hass had gone south.

MOORE SAYS OPPONENTS INCAPABLE

"Johnson or Randall Not Able to Get Boulder Dam Bill Passed," He States

RIVERSIDE, Oct. 5.—Minor Moore, Democratic candidate for United States Senator, before a large audience in the County Courthouse here tonight, attacked both his Republican and Prohibitionist opponents, and declared them to be incapable of putting through the Boulder dam legislation.

"Neither Johnson nor Randall," said the speaker, "is able to put over the Boulder dam measure. Neither has the solid support of a major party. Johnson has for twelve years nagged at the Democrats and irritated the Republicans. No one of them is wild to support any of his local measures.

"Arizona Senators have worked for a long time with the Democrats and are in a position to ask them to support Arizona in opposing the measure in its present form.

"Last February a tentative agreement was entered into among the commissioners of the lower-basin States, which, if properly managed, might have resulted in the immediate passage of the measure. Legislation is as a rule the result of compromises, and the measure should have been amended and passed.

"Councilman Randall is in an equally awkward position. He oscillates between the two major parties, always playing safe for a nomination running as a Prohibitionist. He would make a poor spectacle in the Senate trying to represent California.

"The Democrats have half of the Senate now. Why not have one Democrat in the Senate on behalf of California?"

Celebration to Mark Completion of Highway Plan

COVINA, Oct. 5.—As a celebration of the completion of Foothill Boulevard and Huntington Drive, both major highways through the valley, an entertainment prefaced with dinner will be held at Marigold Gardens on the evening of the 16th inst., Myron Haig, secretary of the San Gabriel Development Association, sponsor of the event, announced today. Twenty-one cities throughout the valley will be represented by chamber-of-commerce executives and other city officials.

According to tentative plans laid by a committee of three, speeches and music will follow dinner at 6:30 p.m. Haig is arranging for the speakers, who will be both city and county officials. The affair is entirely invitational, Jones said.

COLLEGE DELEGATES' CONVENTION CALLED

SANTA BARBARA, Oct. 5.—Representatives of twelve colleges of Southern California will meet here November 16 and 17 to attend the annual fall conference of the intercollegiate organization of the Associated Women Students, which is to be held by the Santa Barbara State College Chapter. Colleges invited to send representatives are Fresno State, Pomona, Occidental, Redlands, Southern California, Whittier, Fullerton, Pasadena, Riverside, San Diego, Santa Maria and Santa Ana.

POLICE GIVE WARNING

PASADENA, Oct. 5. — Residents of this city were warned by the police to beware an asserted imposter who, representing himself as a county park official, offers to remove shade trees for $8 each and threatens to arrest the home owners if the trees are not removed. The man is described as about 35 to 40 years of age, and of tall and slender build.

[illegible] ACTS FOR AIR BASE

The [illegible] designated Councilman [illegible] Dowell to represent the [illegible] with the Good- [illegible] He will lend assist- [illegible] John W. Clifton, rep- [illegible] landowners, and or- [illegible] representing the [illegible] of Commerce. This trio [illegible] tomorrow afternoon, going [illegible] Chicago and thence to [illegible] confer with the Good- [illegible]

[illegible] the trio will proceed [illegible] to interview navy [illegible]

[illegible] the East the committee will get into communication with Congressman Phil Swing to enlist his assistance in laying the city's proposition before the navy officials. Congressman Swing went east last week to make campaign speeches, and Councilman Dowell will endeavor to reach him in time to have him join the San Diego party either at Akron or at Washington.

The resolution adopted by the Council this morning precedes a contract with the Mack brothers, yet to be signed, by which the city takes over approximately 1000 acres of land to be used by both the Goodyear people for a factory and by the United States Navy as a lighter-than-air base. The contract of the Goodyear-Zeppelin Company with the Navy is to build two Zeppelins at an approximate cost of $8,000,000.

CARNAHAN SAYS TAXES TO BE LESS

Lieutenant-Governor Tells Clubmen New System Will Reduce Levy on Taxpayers

GLENDALE, Oct. 5.—Predictions that the taxes levied on California property owners will be reduced as a result of the revision of the State tax system by the 1929 Legislature were made today by Lieut.-Gov. H. L. Carnahan in an address before the Verdugo Woodlands Breakfast Club. The surplus that has accumulated in the State treasury by the present administration, Carnahan said, would permit the lowering of the present levies, and he asserted that there is no prospect that any increase is to be feared by the taxpayers of the State.

The State executive urged support for Proposition No. 3 on the November ballot, asserting that the amendment as proposed should be approved by the voters, as failure to secure indorsement would mean that it would be impossible to tax national banks. A national consequence of such a condition, he asserted, would be that levies amounting to $22,000,000 would have to be spread around over other sources of revenue that are now bearing their share of the taxes.

"The amendment, as proposed, would be entirely fair to the banks and other corporations that would be affected by it and it would also aid the collection of taxes on intangible and solvent credits," he said.

The annual election of the club resulted in the re-election of Mayor Harry G. MacBain to the presidency, and F. P. Newport, real estate operator, and Rev. J. Whitcomb Brougher, Jr., were elected vice-presidents. Dr. L. L. Craven was chosen secretary and Frank M. Brock treasurer of the club. Twelve directors were also chosen.

SANTA BARBARA ACTS ON FLYING ORDINANCE

SANTA BARBARA, Oct. 5.—The City Council today took steps to amend a recently framed ordinance regulating the height of flying over the city to allow aviators to land on fields within its limits, which provision had been lacking. Earle Ovington, a local aviator, appeared in the meeting, asking the Council to make this change, since he could not use his field and others would be hindered by the provisions of the original document. The section in dispute declares that airplanes cannot fly at a height of less than 1000 feet over the city.

GIRL'S RELEASE DEMANDED

VENTURA, Oct. 5. — Purl and Alma Black have obtained a writ of habeas corpus from Judge Edward Henderson, asking that their daughter, Anna Black, 14 years of age, be freed from the Ventura School for Girls, where they assert she has been held illegally despite the demands of her parents. The matter is to come up in the Superior Court here for hearing.

FIRE DANGERS DEVELOP ANEW

Brush Blaze Near Greenspot Becomes Grave Menace

Men and Redlands Firemen Try to Turn Flames' Path

Edison Plant, Many Homes May Go if Disaster Spreads

MENTONE, Oct. 5.—A new brush fire, this time outside the forest reserve and in the county lines, but headed toward the mountain, broke out north of Rainbow ranch in the foothills above Greenspot today. Tonight it was running under a west wind toward part of the territory burned over by the big forest fire while 100 men and a pump from the Redlands fire department sought to turn it into the burned area.

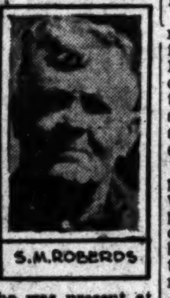
There is danger that if it runs to the mouth of the canyon, where there is a big Edison power house, it will jump the road and get into the south side of the canyon, which is heavily timbered and where so many beautiful summer homes stand. Roy Moore is in charge of the fight and government rangers are helping.

COUPLE TO CELEBRATE GOLDEN DAY

Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Roberds of Cucamonga "at Home" on Fiftieth Anniversary

MRS. S.M. ROBERDS

CUCAMONGA, Oct. 5.—With the golden fruit of their orange groves as a symbolic setting, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Roberds, pioneers of this district, tomorrow will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary at their home, Archibald avenue and Feron street. Mr. and Mrs. Roberds, in their many years of residence in this community have made untold friends and an open house reception is planned for them and relatives from 2 to 5 and 7 to 9 p.m.



S.M.ROBERDS

The reception will be given by their children, Mrs. Foster Todd of Los Angeles, Mrs. W. C. Axley of Ontario, Howard Roberds Upland; Harry Roberds, Alta Loma, and their families, which include twelve grandchildren. The home has been decorated with fall flowers.

A special guest of honor will be Mrs. Hannah Wells of Loma Linda, a sister of Mrs. Roberds, the only other person now living who was present at their wedding fifty years ago in Madison, Wis.

Half of the fifty years of Mr. and Mrs. Roberds's married life has been spent here. They have been active in business and social life of the community and each year when October 6 arrived, they have been splendidly remembered by their scores of friends.

FIFTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY OF WEDDING CELEBRATED

VAN NUYS, Oct. 5.—A reception was held today honoring Mr. and Mrs. Daniel M. Gibson, 76 and 71 years of age, Van Nuys pioneers, upon their fifty-fifth wedding anniversary, at their home at 14655 Sylvan avenue. The couple came here when there were only ten small houses in the Van Nuys district, Mr. Gibson later becoming the second postmaster.

Mr. and Mrs. Gibson have lived in California practically all their lives, the former coming when six months of age in an ox cart driven from Arkansas by his parents. Mrs. Gibson was born in El Dorado county. They have five grown children, Mrs. Dorothy B. Harper, with the National Veterans' Bureau, Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Lucile Johnson, teacher in the local elementary school; Mrs. C. A. Scull, Beverly Hills; J. E. Gibson, Mill Valley, and Ernest D. Gibson, present postmaster here. There are seven grandchildren.

HOOVER OFFICE OPENED

HUNTINGTON PARK, Oct. 5.—Hoover-Curtis headquarters have been opened here at 6218 Pacific Boulevard. The club was organized several weeks ago with Louis H. Hamilton, president; Warren Butler, secretary, and J. N. Robinson, treasurer.

MAUSOLEUM READY SOON

Final Resting Place for Mr. and Mrs. Huntington Will be Completed Within Few Months

SAN MARINO, Oct. 5.—Started three months before his death by the late Henry E. Huntington, the $232,000 mausoleum which will be the final resting place for Mr. and Mrs. Huntington, will be completed within a few months, it was announced today by William Hertrich, general manager of the Huntington estate.

The classic monument was started by Mr. Huntington for his wife, the late Mrs. Arabella D. Huntington, but the philanthropist and railroad magnate died before the foundation was completed.

Marble pillars for the structure are being brought here from Colorado quarries and will be in place within a few days.

John Russell Pope of New York City is the designer of the Grecian temple structure and William C. Crowell of Pasadena is the contractor. No expense is being spared to make the mausoleum the most lasting which can be constructed. The latest type of earthquake-resisting devices are being used.

The structure will be circular in shape and measure 104 feet around the outer row of columns. This will be crowned by a dome thirty-one feet in height. Three series of columns will encircle the crypts. The columns, measuring sixteen feet in height, will support lions' heads. The marble sarcophagus will be in the center of the inside ring of columns and will be open from all sides.

The mausoleum will be surrounded by five marble terraces and grass terrace, which will make a graceful descent from the high knoll on which the memorial is erected.

WALNUT MEN OPEN YEAR IN ANAHEIM

Final Payments for Last Crop Follow Preliminaries for Current Product

ANAHEIM, Oct. 5.—Today marked the opening of the season's activities at the Anaheim Walnut Growers' Association house. Manager Walter Ross announced that a payment totaling approximately $40,000 has just been made to member growers in final settlement for nuts marked during last year's phenomenal season.

This sum swells to approximately $400,000 the amount returned to local growers for last year's crop with payment for culls still to be made. Cull money is expected to be disbursed the latter part of this month, Ross said.

Fifty tons of nuts have been received since the house first opened its doors for the new season last Monday morning. With a light crop in prospect this year and with the nuts slow in falling, this season is getting off to a slow start and the nuts so far received are of only average quality, he said.

In view of the shortness of the present crop growers are awaiting with unusual interest the setting of prices, which is expected to be accomplished at a meeting of the board of directors of the association to be held in Los Angeles next Monday.

CANTERBURY ELECTED BY REDLANDS LEGION

REDLANDS, Oct. 5.—Ray Canterbury, real estate dealer, is to be the leader of the American Legion for the coming year, it was decided at the annual election held last night. Others elected to office were Frank Godshall, first vice-commander; Wilson Spoor, second vice-commander; Harry T. Nott, finance officer; Herbert Woodruff, historian; Rev. H. C. Slater, chaplain; William Bailey, sergeant-at-arms; Earl Prior, Dan Stanton, Harold Macomber, Jack Brewster, H. H. Ford, Jr., and A. B. Drake, executive committee.

A turkey dinner was served in honor of the drum and bugle corps and attended by 112 veterans. Eula Wolfe and her melody maids from Riverside gave a program.

REALTY MEN BANQUET AT BACK-YARD FEAST

VAN NUYS, Oct. 5. — Sixty realty men, their wives and friends last night enjoyed a venison roast dinner in the back yard of Charles A. Bevis, the deer meat being a gift from Leslie Taylor, president of the local realty board, who recently returned from a hunting trip in the high Sierras. Frank W. Berkshire, prominent realty man, served as chef, while Taylor, Rockwell Smith and Jerry Olmstead acted as waiters. Venison, Mexican beans, honey and hot biscuits were served. Mrs. Queen Goldman, secretary of the board, baked and served more than 300 biscuits.

GLENDALE ACTS FOR AIRPORT

Spicer Interests Obtain City Owned Land to Round Out First-Class Field

GLENDALE, Oct. 5.—The City Council today concluded negotiations with C. A. Spicer, Los Angeles, for the sale of eleven acres of city-owned land, to complete the holdings already acquired by the Spicer interests on which it is planned to lay out an airport. At the same time Council agrees to purchase eleven acres of land adjacent to the Spicer holdings to be used as a storage ground for supplies of the Public Service Department.

Negotiations are already under way to develop the field in such a manner as to make it suitable for planes of the largest size. The runway will be 4000 feet long and it may later be extended to 5000 feet and the field will be enlarged to accommodate giant air liners, with room at the sides for hangars and factory buildings for airplane manufacturers and allied industries. The Spicer interests also have acquired a tract of land adjoining the field on the northwest, from which the trees have already been removed in preparation for the establishment of the airport.

The Southern Pacific Company has agreed, officials state, to build a station at the airport and to establish rapid transit facilities between the field and downtown Los Angeles, to transport mail or passengers from the local field into the metropolis. The plans that are now under way for the development of the Griffith Park field as an air station will, it is stated, harmonize with the plans of the Glendale field, and it is possible that the tract now used by the National Guard may be linked with the Glendale airport to make it possible for a greater volume of traffic to enter and leave the airport here.

Man Suspected of Suicide Try

SANTA ANA, Oct. 5.—Following a failure of the jury last night to agree as to his guilt or innocence of an offense against his own little grand-daughter, James George, 77 years of age, of Santa Ana, was in the County Hospital today in a critical condition, suspected of having swallowed ground glass in an attempt at self-destruction.

George was on trial on the statutory charge yesterday in Superior Judge James L. Allen's court. The jury, after deliberating on a verdict from 3:30 p.m. to 9:06 p.m. failed to agree.

The parents of the child in the case testified yesterday for the defense, saying that their child, whose stories had caused a neighbor to file the complaint against the grandfather, was known to be untruthful.

Services Set for Mrs. Jumper

AZUSA, Oct. 4. — Funeral services for Mrs. Ellen Mary Jumper, born in London, Eng., in 1859, and was 70 years of age, who died yesterday morning at her home on San Gabriel avenue, following a protracted illness, will be held from the White undertaking parlors at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. The local Eastern Star chapter will have charge of the ceremonies at which Rev. Robert H. Smith, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will officiate.

Interment will take place at the Fairhaven Mausoleum in Santa Ana. Besides her husband, Stetson R. Jumper, she leaves four sons, Fred T. of Ojai; Roy F. of Shafter; Albert P. of Whittier, and Harry Jumper of this city.

FUNDENBERG RITES SET FOR TODAY

PASADENA, Oct. 5.—Funeral services for Dr. George B. Fundenberg, 65 years of age, of 27 North Oak Knoll avenue, who died at the Pasadena Hospital last night following a four-day illness, will be held at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow in the chapel of Turner & Stevens Co., North Marengo avenue at Holly street. Rev. Robert Freeman, pastor of the Pasadena Presbyterian Church, will officiate.

Dr. Fundenberg had been a resident of this city twenty years and was the owner of Colorado-street business frontage. He leaves a son, William C. Fundenberg, and two daughters, Ximenia and Louise Fundenberg. Before coming to this city, Dr. Fundenberg was a physician and surgeon in Pittsburgh, Pa.

WEST PREFERS TO NOT CHANGE JOBS

SANTA ANA, Oct. 5.—Dist.-Atty. Z. B. West, Jr., will not be a candidate for appointment as United States District Attorney for Southern California, he announced today.

Two considerations moved West to his decision, he said. One is his desire to retain his residence in Orange county. Another is his belief that he should "finish what he has started" in the District Attorney's office here.

SECOND SUSPECT ARRESTED

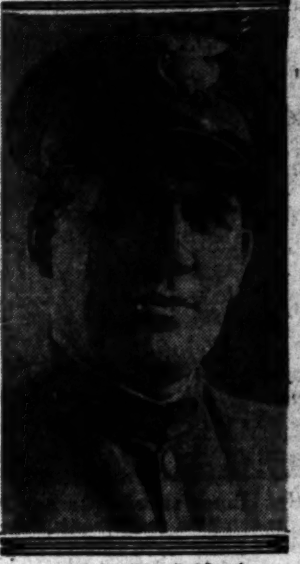
Police Capture Jose Mariscal, Listed by Murder Victim as One to Consider in Case of Violence

SANTA BARBARA, Oct. 5.—Jose R. Mariscal, booked as a suspect in connection with the murder of Jose Mora Vega, police informer, at Lompoc Monday, was arrested last night in the Santa Ynez River bed, by Chief of Police Bland and Constable Floyd McCabe of Lompoc. With the arrest the officers reported finding a still running full blast and twenty-five gallons of liquor. Half a sack of marihuana was found, it was said, in Mariscal's possession.

He is the second person to be arrested in connection with Vega's death. Emilio Bezera, taken into custody at Lompoc as a suspect on Wednesday, is still being held. Both Mariscal and Bezera were listed by the deceased as persons to suspect should he be found slain, as both had assertedly theatened his life because of his reports to the officers concerning bootlegging and gambling activities in Lompoc Valley.

Vega left a list of persons whom he charged with being moonshiners and dope dealers, and in one of his last reports he wrote: "The bootleggers have all come to an understanding to make an attempt against my person and have no one know who killed me."

"TINY" MORRIS DIES IN RAILROAD CRASH



Massey "Tiny" Morris

MONROVIA, Oct. 5.—Disfigured almost beyond recognition, the battered body of Massey E. (Tiny) Morris, veteran police officer who was instantly killed this afternoon when his light car was struck by an east-bound Santa Fe passenger train at the crossing of Myrtle avenue, was found crushed to the cowcatcher by Engineer J. Weintz, T. O. Smith, fireman, and F. A. Wills, conductor.

According to J. H. Bowes, eye-witness to the accident, who is an employee at the Duarte-Monrovia Citrus Association, north of the tracks, Morris was traveling west on Duarte Road and had made the turn on Myrtle avenue, coming almost to a dead stop at the tracks. He looked east on the tracks, Bowes said, but did not look in the other direction as a freight train sidetracked on the west obstructed his view of the oncoming passenger train which struck him broadside, dragging his car along the tracks for nearly 200 feet.

The body was taken to Renaker's undertaking parlors where an inquest will be held Monday morning at 9:30 o'clock.

Morris, who was 44 years of age, had been a member of the local police force for the past eight years, serving as night patrolman and was acting Chief of Police during the vacation this summer of Chief Frank Scott. Besides his widow, he leaves a daughter, Dorothy, and a son, James.

According to Scott, Morris was on duty and was collecting dog licenses in the southern part of the city. A watch found in Morris's badly torn suit, had stopped at eight minutes past 2, Scott said.

Capt. Conlee of the Sheriff's substation at Temple, and the homicide squad from Treager's office, investigated the accident.

Crash Basis of Suit for Hurts

SANTA ANA, Oct. 5.—Margaret Haase, residing west of Orange, was plaintiff today in a suit for $25,400 damages filed against John Cameron and his mother, Mrs. Helen Cameron. The action is based upon injuries received by the girl in a collision between the Haase and Cameron automobiles at the intersection of Los Angeles street and Broadway, Anaheim, last July 31, when the girl asserts she was thrown from her car to the pavement and received bruises and lacerations that left her face permanently disfigured, and the left side of her face paralyzed.

PROBATION OFFICERS STUDY CHILD WIFE

VENTURA, Oct. 5.—The probation office today was investigating the matter of school attendance of Mrs. Pocopio Molina, 14 years of age, of Piru, following investigation by Attendance Officer L. B. Mayfield of that city.

Molina journeyed into Mexico about three months ago and returned with a child bride. He has refused to send her to school since settling in Piru. The matter also has been referred to Federal Immigration Officer McMahan to see if she is a subject for deportation. The City Council of Piru has also made an investigation.

OXY SMOTHERS LA VERNE TEAM

Keinholz's Squad Runs Up 43-to-0 Victory

Leopards No Match for Boys from Eagle Rock

Eberhardt and Rozelle Each Tally Three Times

BY BRAVEN DYER

Oozing power all over the landscape, Eddie Keinholz's Occidental varsity opened the Southern Conference season with a smashing 43-to-0 victory over La Verne at the Rose Bowl yesterday afternoon. The Tiger mentor smothered the Leopards under an avalanche of players, more than three complete Occidental teams partaking in the rout of the La Verne boys.

ED KIENHOLZ

Keinholz shot player after player into the fray until it looked as if there were more Tigers tramping the greensward than there were spectators in the stands. La Verne battled from start to finish, but never had a ghost of a chance. The Leopards never got really dangerous, their offense being weak as restaurant soup, despite the heroic efforts of Hubbell and Shirk, two very good backs who did what they could both offensively and defensively, but to no avail.

Occidental seems to have just about everything. The two Schweizer boys, and Eberhardt and Rozelle form a ball carrying combination of much punch and speed, with black-haired Eberhardt the real ace of the quartet. The Oxy line is big and fast, the ends are alert and all-in-all the Tigers will make the going very tough for their foes.

GOAL KICKING AWFUL

Keinholz's goal kickers have definitely ousted Southern California's booters from their position as the worst converters in the business. Oxy made seven touchdowns yesterday and could kick for but one point. This is a record which far surpasses anything the Trojans have ever accomplished—or failed to accomplish.

The feature of the game was the soph-frosh tie-up between halves. This rough and tumble fracas made the football affair look like a pink tea. The boys were positively brutal as they grappled with each other. Lou Daro should have been there to sign up some of the headlock artists. There was one Japanese who could teach Strangler Lewis something about the use of the toe hold. Somebody announced after it was all over that the sophs had won, but it looked to us as if the freshies were the better battlers.

Just by way of making the affair more interesting (?) several unemployed upperclassmen with nothing else to do stood around and soused the fighters with water from a hose. This was supposed to be the comedy touch of the battle.

As to the game, Capt. Eberhardt scored three touchdowns, Rozelle three and Elliott, a sub back, the seventh. The Tiger leader provided the real fireworks when he raced through the entire La Verne team on a dash of 55 yards to a touchdown in the fourth stanza.

SCORE EARLY

The Tigers scored twice in the first quarter, Rozelle going over from the one-foot line. Lathrop got off a poor punt later and Jack Schweizer reeled off 24 yards to the fact that Alexander was even less effective than his young rival. Certainly opportunity beckoned to the Cardinals in the first two innings, without being capitalized as much as it might have been. Meanwhile old Pete went to his doom in unceremonious, if also somewhat tragic, fashion.

PLAYED HOB WITH THE TROJANS LAST YEAR

Vernon Ellers, right guard of the Oregon State team which plays University of Southern California in the first Coast Conference game of the season at the Coliseum this afternoon. He was one of the heroes in the 13-to-12 victory of the Trojans last year and because of his playing the Trojans named him on their all-opponent's team at the end of the season. He made practically every other all-star team and is mentioned in the official football guide as one of the outstanding guards of the season last year.

A rousing home-run smash into the right-field bleachers by Lou Gehrig in the first inning with Cedric Durst and Babe Ruth on base started the downfall of Alexander. The chutes were still greased for him in the second, when the Yankees put over another run, and he slid out of the picture entirely in the third, yielding the mound to the veteran southpaw Clarence Mitchell, as the Yankees scored four runs with an attack led by Babe Ruth.

Old Pete didn't have a thing. The marvelous control that has always been his forte and the stuff that had enabled him to battle the entire Yankee array two years ago were gone. Forty-one years it seemed had finally taken their toll. The weather-beaten Nebraskan, fidgeting and fumbling with his ill-fitting cap, shifting his chew of tobacco, was a somewhat pathetic figure on the same mound from which he walked off, acclaimed one of the greatest of world's series heroes, two years ago at the end of the deciding game of the 1926 series.

The first man to face Alexander, young Hurst, slashed out a single that Frankie Frisch jumped for and barely missed with his gloved hand. The third man, Babe Ruth, walked on four pitched balls, and the fourth, Gehrig, drove the first ball pitched deep into the right-field bleachers. The end for old Pete was in sight right there. In the pinch his control had failed him, and the crack of Gehrig's bat sounded the impending doom for the veteran.

CLIMAX COMES IN THIRD

Alex weathered the second inning with no more than a run produced by a pass to Bengough, sacrifice by Pipgras and Durst's second single, but the climax came in the third. Facing old Pete was the Babe. It was a situation that had all of the well-known elements of drama. These two had been the last to match wits in the final game of the 1926 series, in which Ruth had failed to get a hit of any sort off Alexander's delivery in the three games the latter pitched.

Alex worked the count to two

DIEGEL TRIMS SARAZEN TO GAIN GOLF FINALS

BY F. G. VOSBURGH
Associated Press Sports Writer

FIVE FARMS COURSE, BALTIMORE, Oct. 5. (AP)—Gene Sarazen went down to a one-sided defeat today in the semifinal round of the National Professional Golfers' Association championship tournament, a victim of his own temporarily palsied putting touch and of the brilliant golf of Leo Diegel.

GENE SARAZEN

Taking full advantage of the little Italian's many unaccountable miscues, the sharpshooting Diegel downed Sarazen by the crushing margin of 9 up and 8 to play. Thus Diegel accomplished the notable feat of eliminating Walter Hagen, the defending champion, and Sarazen, a former title-holder, on successive days. In both matches his opponents were the favorites.

The decisive victory carried the White Plains (N. Y.) professional into the final round tomorrow when he will fight it out for the championship with Al Espinosa of Chicago. The jovial, sun-tanned Al reached the final bracket by defeating young Horton Smith of Joplin, Mo., 6 and 5, with an impressive display of par-equaling golf. Neither man has ever won the championship. All four of the previous winners—Hagen, Sarazen, Jock Hutchison and Jim Barnes—have passed out of the running. rounds.

While the erratic Diegel, having one of his good days, would have been a tough proposition even for a Sarazen at the peak of his game, his work was made much easier by some of the saddest putting Gene ever produced in national tournament play. Time after time he muffed the easiest of three-foot set-ups. As though to make it even more heart-breaking, Diegel on the last two holes came from nowhere to stage some remarkable recoveries from traps. On the last two holes his ball was in the sand, while Gene was on the green, yet Leo won one of them and halved

SPAULDING LEADS BRUINS TO ROSE BOWL TODAY FOR CLASH WITH ENGINEER FOOTBALLERS

BY FRANK ROCHE

Playing their first game of the season away from the home fireside the University of California Bruins take a short hop over to the Rose Bowl at Pasadena today where they tangle with a bitter rival of Southern Conference football days—the Caltech Engineers, coached by Fox Stanton, one of the craftiest gridiron coaches in Southern California. The Bruins today face the Engineers not as Southern Conference rivals but as a Coast Conference team. The Engineers will line up as a Southern Conference outfit. While the game means nothing so far as the standing of either team is concerned in their respective leagues it is an important occasion for both institutions as intense rivalry exists whenever they clash on a football field.

"Fox" Stanton

The Engineers, coached by Fox Stanton, have been the jinx of the Bruins for many years. The Caltech boys have a regular habit of downing the U.C.L.A. teams in the past. In the last eight years the Caltech teams have beaten the Bruins six times, tied them once and lost one game. The Bruins have not forgotten the fact that on two occasions the Engineers robbed them of Southern Conference titles. In 1925 the Engineers tied the Bruins, 10-10, allowing Pomona to claim the championship and in 1926 the Pasadena boys defeated the Bruins by 7 to 3 margin, providing the big upset of the conference season. Last season the Bruins drubbed the Engineers 13 to 0, which was the first time they ever appeared on the right side of the ledger in series between the two institutions.

Today Spaulding is taking a really strong team to Pasadena that will rule a heavy favorite to down the Engineers. Despite the fact that the Bruins will not have Capt. Joe Fleming and Jerry Russom, star

TROJAN MENTOR PREDICTS CARD, CALIFORNIA WINS

Picks Notre Dame to Beat Wisconsin on Offensive Strength; Teams Battle for National Title

BY HOWARD JONES

Football Coach, University of Southern California

[Copyright, 1928, by the North American Newspaper Alliance.]

After two weeks of preliminary practice games teams of the Pacific Coast Conference swing into action this Saturday in regular conference contests which have a bearing on the championship.

HOWARD JONES

From now until November 29 the rival gridiron machines will be traveling at a rapid clip and it will take a lot of power and skillful engineering to pilot the ultimate winner to the title, for the road is rocky and the obstacles are many.

Stanford still is the favored team. Coach Warner's charges showed plenty of power in defeating the Presidio Army eleven two Saturdays ago by a score of 21 to 8, though losing to Olympic A.C. Saturday. Stanford team develops slowly and by the time the more important games roll around Warner will have his eleven running smoothly, which means that the Cardinals will be one of the hardest teams in the country to beat.

Stanford plays in one of the three conference games scheduled for Saturday. Warner takes his team north to oppose Oregon University at Eugene. Washington State plays against Montana at Missoula, while Oregon State opens against Southern California here in Los Angeles. Unless all advance signs fail the Oregon State-Southern California game should be the toughest struggle of the three. Last year we were able to nose out the Oregonians, 13 to 12, only after a terrific battle.

MANY VETERANS

Coach Paul Schissler has many veteran players back this fall, and his team has the added advantage of having worked twice daily during the first two weeks of practice. In Howard Maple, quarterback, Schissler has one of the best back-field men on the Pacific Coast.

Last year Oregon State played wide-awake, alert football, and I am sure that our team will have to be on its toes and battling every minute if we are going to be returned victorious. I look for a close game and naturally I hope that we will be able to win.

As for Stanford the Redshirts should defeat Oregon, although probably not by a large score. Warner's teams rarely run up many points in their early season games for they have not yet reached the perfection of team play, which results in long runs and many touchdowns.

Capt. Biff Hoffman is better than any backfield man Oregon has at this writing and it will take a strong Oregon line to stop him. The Stanford leader has three capable backfield helpers in Wilton, Sims and Smalling. Warner is generating more power this year by the use of a bigger man in the quarterback berth. This man leads the interference on many plays and gives Hoffman and the other ball-carrying backs plenty of help in cracking opposing lines.

Washington State ought to take the measure of Montana, although there is nothing very sure about this game. Montana has been one of the weaker teams of the conference ever since entering the circuit and unless there is a decided change for the better Coach Milburn's eleven will not win many game this fall.

STRONG TEAM

Coach Hollingbery has the nucleus of a strong team at Washington State. He lost Butch Meeker, his star quarterback, but latest reports have it that Rohwer, a halfback from last year, is doing well in the signal-calling position. Washington State defeated Montana last year, 35 to 0, while Stanford upset Oregon, 19 to 0.

California meets St. Mary's of Oakland this Saturday in an important nonconference game. Last year the Golden Bears sprang one of the big surprises of the season when they defeated Slip Madigan's team after the St. Mary's players had trimmed Stanford 16 to 0.

San Francisco fans are expecting great things of California this year, and if the Golden Bears get over St. Mary's successfully they will be on their way to what may be a great season. St. Mary's is always a hard team to beat, and the game will probably be the closest of any played on the Coast this week-end. Last year's score was 13 to 0.

Three other nonconference games are scheduled; Washington plays Whitman, Idaho meets Gonzaga and the University of California at Los Angeles encounters California Tech. Washington should win handily.

GONZAGA TOUGH

Idaho may have some trouble with Gonzaga. It was this team that defeated Idaho, 13 to 0, at the close of last year's season when the Vandals were untrimmed. California Tech may prove tough for U.C.L.A., but Bill Spaulding's team should win.

In the Southern California Conference Whittier ought to take the measure of Redlands.

Here's how Howard Jones dopes this week's Coast games:

California-St. Mary's, California after a hard battle.

Stanford-Oregon U., Stanford.

Idaho-Gonzaga, Idaho.

Washington State - Montana, Washington State.

Washington-Whitman, Washington.

U.C.L.A.-California Tech, U.C.L.A.

Southern California-Oregon State, a toss-up.

RISKO MAY GET FIGHT AT OLYMPIC

Baker Boy is Figured as Prospect to Box Clisby-Johnson Winner

Johnny Risko may be brought here from Cleveland to box the winner of the Neal Clisby-John Lester Johnson bout, it was announced by the Olympic Club yesterday.

Clisby and Johnson mix next Tuesday night on an all-colored card. Risko defeated Eddie Huffman here in his only appearance. More recently Risko ranked with Tom Heeney as Gene Tunney's challenger. He also defeated George Godfrey in Brooklyn.

John Lester is boxing at the Manhattan gymnasium. The veteran black heavyweight looks to be in just as good shape as he has ever been. He is confident of beating Clisby.

Matchmaker Wad Wadhams completed the supporting card yesterday. Dynamite Jackson, negro pupil of Wirt Ross, is paired with Leroy Kinney in the semi-wind-up.

PLAY BY PLAY OF SECOND GAME OF WORLD'S SERIES

FIRST INNING

St. Louis—Douthit grounds out to first. High is walked. Frisch gets pass after fouling several balls with the count 3 to 2 against him. Pipgras lacks control at the start, his high balls being particularly wide. With the call 3 to 2 against him, Bottomley fouls out to Bengough. Hafey strikes out, and ends what looked like a bad inning for Pipgras. The Cardinals made Pipgras work hard by hitting many fouls and not biting at those just off the plate. Pipgras threw thirty-six balls.

No runs, no hits, no errors.

New York—Durst singles, ball hitting Frisch's glove as Frisch makes sensational jump for it. Koenig fouls out to Hafey. Ruth is walked on four balls. Gehrig hits first ball pitched to right-center bleachers for a home run, scoring Durst and Ruth ahead of him. Meusel strikes out. Lazzeri out, Alexander to Bottomley.

Three runs, two hits, no errors.

SECOND INNING

St. Louis—Harper goes to first on pass. Pipgras still seems unable to find corners of plate. Wilson hits to deep right for a double, and Harper scores. Maranville hits single to right, but Ruth fields ball so quickly Wilson is held at third. Alexander hits a grounder to Lazzeri, who throws a bit high to Gehrig. Lou lets ball slip through his glove, and Alexander is safe. Wilson scores and Maranville stops at third. Time out when Maranville goes to Yankee dugout to adjust his uniform. Douthit hits to Koenig. He throws to Lazzeri, who catches Douthit at first on a fast double play, Maranville scoring on play, thus tying the game. High flies to Robertson. It was a bad pitch, and High would have walked had he let it go by.

Three runs, two hits, one error.

New York—Robertson grounds out to Bottomley. Alexander walks Bengough on four straight balls. Pipgras sacrifices, Wilson to Bottomley. Durst singles to center field, scoring Bengough. Koenig out on fly to Frisch.

One run, one hit, no errors.

THIRD INNING

St. Louis—Frisch singles off Pipgras's glove. Lazzeri tries to field it, but can't. Frisch steals second on first pitch. Bottomley strikes out. Hafey hits to Koenig, and is out at first. Frisch takes third on play. Harper strikes out, the third being called as he watches it go by.

No runs, one hit, no errors.

New York—Ruth singles through second. Alexander walks Gehrig. Meusel hits into edge of stands in left field for a ground rule double, scoring Ruth. Lazzeri grounds to High, who throws him out and holds Gehrig at third. Alexander walks Robertson, filling bases. Bengough singles to right, scoring Gehrig. Alexander is taken out with bases filled. Mitchell goes to mound for "Old Pete." Mitchell is left-handed. Mitchell hits Pipgras, forcing in Meusel. Paschal is sent in to bat for Durst. Paschal singles to center, scoring Robertson, but Bengough is caught at plate, Douthit to Frisch to Wilson. Koenig out on high fly to Bottomley.

Four runs, four hits, no errors.

FOURTH INNING

St. Louis—Paschal now playing centerfield for Yanks. Wilson grounds to Pipgras, and is out at first. Maranville safe on first when Koenig fumbles easy grounder. Mitchell flies out to Koenig, whose catch is spectacular. Douthit fouls out to Gehrig.

No runs, no hits, one error.

New York—Ruth doubles to deep center. Gehrig flies to Douthit. Meusel flies to Hafey. Lazzeri out, Mitchell to Bottomley.

No runs, one hit, no errors.

FIFTH INNING

St. Louis—High out, Robertson to Gehrig. Robertson makes wonderful play, throwing the ball after falling on the ground while stopping it. Frisch strikes out. Bottomley strikes out again.

No runs, no hits, no errors.

New York—Robertson grounds out, Frisch to Bottomley. Bengough flies to Frisch. Pipgras flies to Maranville on first pitch.

No runs, no hits, no errors.

SIXTH INNING

St. Louis—Hafey flies to Meusel. Harper flies to Ruth. Wilson grounds out to Gehrig.

No runs, no hits, no errors.

New York—Paschal walks, on four balls. Koenig fans. Paschal is almost caught off first by a quick throw by Wilson. Ruth strikes out. Gehrig flies to Douthit.

No runs, no hits, no errors.

SEVENTH INNING

St. Louis—Maranville strikes out. Mitchell pops out to Robertson. Douthit flies to Paschal.

No runs, no hits, no errors.

New York—Mitchell walks Meusel. Meusel steals second. Lazzeri sacrifices, but Mitchell fumbles the ball and he is safe at first. Meusel going to third. Dugan batting for Robertson. He flies to Harper, Meusel scoring. Bengough grounds into a double play, Frisch to Maranville to Bottomley.

One run, no hits, one error.

EIGHTH INNING

St. Louis—Durocher goes to second for Lazzeri. Dugan takes Robertson's place at third. High flies out to Gehrig. Frisch singles through second on the first pitch. Bottomley strikes out and Frisch steals second. For the third time in succession Pipgras strikes out Bottomley. Hafey flies out to Meusel.

No runs, one hit, no errors.

New York—Wilson throws out Pipgras after dropping the third strike. Paschal pops out to Wilson. Koenig flies to Hafey.

No runs, no hits, no errors.

NINTH INNING

St. Louis—Harper pops out to Dugan. Wilson strikes out. Pipgras walks Maranville. Orsatti bats for Mitchell. He grounds to Gehrig for the final out.

No runs, no hits, no errors.

DIEGEL TRIMS GENE SARAZEN

the other for the match. Diegel's shot game was well-nigh perfect.

From the very beginning of the match to the end of the twenty-eighth green, Sarazen bore little resemblance to the iron-nerved little giant whose greatest claim to fame has been his deadly work with the putting iron. His other clubs were misbehaving, too.

At the short thirteenth Sarazen flunked on a perfect chance to win back a hole, missing a putt of no more than one foot. For the first time in the match, Gene sank a ten-footer at the long and narrow fourteenth and it got him a half, but he missed three-footers on the next two holes to go five down and this margin was increased to six when Diegel made a birdie two on the one-shotter seventeenth. Banging his brassie into an orchard on the eighteenth, Leo conceded that hole, content with a five-up lead at lunch.

It was whispered that Sarazen would tighten up after lunch and put on a whirlwind finish. Perhaps more successfully than Hagen did yesterday. But it was Diegel instead who tightened up.

It was Espinosa, however, who played the best golf of the day. He finished the morning round seven up and until the eighteenth green, Smith was unable to win a single hole. Espinosa shot that round in 71, 1 over par. For purposes of comparison it is interesting to note that Smith needed 80, Sarazen 81, and Diegel 75.

Smith made a notable rally in the afternoon round when he went out in 33, getting back three holes. After that Espinosa riddled him with runs of two pars and two birdies which ended the match at the twenty-first green.

BRUIN FANS WILL PARADE TO CLASH

Accompanied by an escort of motorcycle policemen, a caravan of motor cars carrying rooters of the University of California at Los Angeles will leave the Bruin campus at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon to reach the Rose Bowl in Pasadena fifteen minutes before the start of the U.C.L.A.-Caltech football game. All cars in the caravan will be decorated with blue and gold streamers and stickers.

MONROVIA CAPTURES TILT FROM CHAFFEY

Monrovia defeated Chaffey Union yesterday, 12 to 7, in a hard-fought game. Yeats, a Monrovia substitute, scored both of his team's touchdowns in the second period, dashing off runs of twenty and sixty yards. Cooper scored for Chaffey in the third period, and Allen converted.

Pipgras Pitches Fine Ball After Wobbly Start

Gehrig Hits Homer in First With Two on Paths

strikes and one ball but Ruth caught the next pitch on the end of his bat and punched it to center for a single.

It was revenge for Ruth and the beginning of the end of Alexander. Gehrig was walked and Bob Meusel, again holding up his end of the heavy Yankee firing, drove a long fly down the left-field line that bounded into the boxes, off the foul line, for a two-bagger under the ground rules. Ruth trotted home. Lazzeri was retired on a nice play by Andy High but Robertson walked. Bengough singled to right, scoring Gehrig, and Alexander's work for the day was over.

There was anything but a pleasant situation facing Mitchell when the southpaw spitball artist took the hill with the bases full. He did not improve it by hitting the first man to face him, Pipgras. This forced in Meusel. Ben Paschal, taking the place of Durst because of the shift in pitchers, smashed a single to center that scored Robertson, but Bengough was caught at the plate on the throw in and Koenig retired to end the inning.

MITCHELL CHECKS ATTACK

Mitchell put an abrupt check to the Yankee attack after that, allowing only one safe hit and one run for the remaining five innings he toiled, but sufficient damage had been done to decide the game and the southpaw's fine relief efforts were wasted, so far as any effect on the outcome was concerned. The only other run he permitted came in the seventh when Meusel walked, stole second and came in on successive sacrifices by Lazzeri and Joe Dugan.

The Cardinals, aided by the wildness of Pipgras as well as loopholes in the Yankee defense, collected all their runs in the second inning. They missed other opportunities to take advantage of their rivals' mistakes in the first and third. Their big guns, Bottomley and Chick Hafey, didn't have a solid shot to fire all afternoon, whether there were men on bases or not. After the third inning, only four men got to first base and the opportunities to score were correspondingly scarce.

With one out in the first Pipgras walked High and Frisch in succession, but Bottomley fouled out weakly and Hafey struck out. The Yankee pitcher was constantly in the hole and it looked as though his stay on the mound would be brief when he walked Harper to start the second frame. In succession, Wilson doubled, Maranville singled and Lazzeri threw wild on Alexander's grounder, letting in two runs. Maranville scored the third when Douthit hit into a double play, engineered by Koenig, and High popped out to end the inning.

Frisch opened the third with a sharp hit that Lazzeri mishandled. The Fordham Flash stole second as Koenig let the throw from the plate slip through his fingers. Bottomley fanned and Frisch got to third on Hafey's infield out but Harper struck out.

FINALLY STRIKES STRIDE

Pipgras had finally struck his stride. Safely past this crisis he mowed the Cardinals down from then on. Frisch singled and stole second again in the eighth, Maranville was safe on Koenig's error in the fourth and walked in the ninth, but otherwise not a man got safely to first.

The Yankee defense that seemed about to go to pieces at the start rallied, along with Pipgras, to hold safe the margin that their bats had provided. In the last few innings Huggins again shuffled his cast, replacing Lazzeri with Durocher and Robertson with Dugan. The other cripples stuck to their posts, among them Babe Ruth, who now has five hits for the series and leads both clubs at bat by a big margin. With a day of rest tomorrow on the way to St. Louis, they appear able to muster at least a full team for the third game, likely to find Tom Zachary, veteran left-hander on the firing line for the Yankees and Jess Haines for the Cardinals.

POLY AND GLENDALE BATTLE 6-TO-6 TIE

Coach Voyle Brennen's Polytechnic Mechanics and the Glendale Dynamiters battled to a 6-to-6 tie in a hard-fought practice game yesterday at Dunn Field. Poly scored first in the second quarter after two previous assaults on the Glendale goal had failed. A pass, Young to McBride, gained 24 yards and then Capt. Young broke loose twice to lug the ball to the 1-yard line, from where French went over. Strutzel failed to convert.

Capt. Dave Hanson's 20-yard pass to Gene Hibbs, who ran 20 yards farther, accounted for Glendale's touchdown in the third period. Hibbs then fozzled the Dynamiters' try for point by messing up a pass play from place-kick formation.

The rival captains, Young and Hanson, were the outstanding players on offense. In the last quarter the Dynamiters made another touchdown on a pass, Hanson to Key, but it was not allowed because Hanson passed when he was less than 5 yards behind the line of scrimmage. Line-ups:

MANUAL ARTS BEATS PASADENA ELEVEN, 7-0

The best ball packer on the field in yesterday's game between Manual Arts and Pasadena, which the Toilers won by a 7-0 score, was the referee, John Laurenson. There were penalties for almost every known offense and Laurenson carried the pigskin on the average of about every four plays.

The game was very closely contested with Coach Blewett's boys scoring in the fourth period when Moeller blocked Blacker's kick and Jay Small pounced on it for the lone touchdown. Tom Cashill converted.

quarterback, in the line-up they will have a squad that should win by at least two touchdowns.

Spaulding will start a new backfield composed of Earl Fields at fullback; Bert La Brucherie and Cliff Simpson as halfbacks and Buddy Forster at quarter. In his line he will have Rasmus and Bishop at ends; Tandy and Brown at tackles; French at center, Gould and Noble at guards.

Nothing much is known of the Caltech team. Fox Stanton may be ready to spring one of his regular surprises, but at this writing the railbirds have been unable to dig up anything that indicates such is the case. In the Engineers' tentative line-up are Keeley and Exley at ends, Daly and Frick at tackles, Stroud and Alderman at guards, and Kuhn at center. The backfield is composed of Caldwell, Muff, Shields and Levine.

They are rated as heady players and they may prove a thorn in the football hides of the Bruins. The U.C.L.A. peagreeners, coached by Fred Oster, tackle the Glendale Jaysee team in the preliminary game.

Southern Conference football bugs will also keep their eyes on the outcome of the Redlands-Whittier battle which will be staged at Whittier today. The Redlands outfit, however, is not given much chance to collect anything but a defeat by the experts. The Bulldogs besides having a weak squad out for the opening practice have lost a couple of their backfield mainstays by the injury route. The Poets, on the other hand, romped to an easy win over the U.S.S. Idaho eleven last Saturday in a practice game.

CHICAGO, Oct. 5. (AP)—A deluge of base hits, misplays and pitchers swept across Wrigley Field today and from the chaos that went under the name of a baseball game the White Sox emerged victorious over the Cubs, 13 to 11, in the third game of their series for the city baseball title.

touchdown and Montgomery fumbled when he was trying to run with the ball from his own goal line. These boys will be out to redeem themselves today, and they will have nine mates on the firing line who will do their best to help them.

ALMOST SAME TEAM

With the exception of the two ends Oregon State will start almost the same team today as the one that met defeat last year. This is one factor that counts heavily in Oregon's favor, and supporters of the team who came south with it agree that Schissler has developed a powerful offense—one far superior to last year's, when Oregon only gained 90 yards on running plays as against the Trojans' 280 yards.

Schell and Luce are big tackles and Carlson and Eilers, particularly the latter, are two of the best guards on the Coast. Eilers made practically every all-star Coast team last year. Geddes, the center, is a big fellow who fits in well with this combination. Striff and Whitlock, ends, both saw service last year when Logan and Robbins left the field. In the backfield Thompson, an Indian fullback from the Siletz Reservation, is said to be a better all-around man than Gilmore, last year's regular. Honolulu Hughes, the barefooted kicking wonder, will replace the injured Whitlock at one half, with Capt. Maple at quarterback and Montgomery at the other half.

As far as injuries are concerned, the teams seem to be at a standoff. Twitchell, who outbooted the Trojans' kickers from here to Halifax last year, is definitely out of the picture. Tappaan, the regular Trojan right end, is unlikely to be of any use to Jones because of the jaw that was injured in practice, and Wilcox, his sub, is also out with a bum leg.

Coach Howard Jones sent his hopefuls through signal practice at Bovard Field last night and announced the line-up he has been using all week will stand.

WILLIAMS STARTS

This will see Dynamic Don Williams starting the game at quarter, Edelson and Thomas at halves and Saunders at full. With Williams at the helm, Jones hopes this ball-packing combination can roll up enough scores in the first two quarters to give some of his younger hopefuls a chance to show their wares. Marshall Duffield is coming along fine and if Williams is removed he will get the call at quarter.

With his new offensive combination Jones will have three tackles in the game—Anthony, Shaw from last year's freshman team, and Capt. Jess Hibbs. On the defense Hibbs will play his regular tackle with Shaw going to guard and Boren leaving his offensive position of running guard to play left end on defense.

Boren played end last year, so there is nothing new about the position to him. The switch of Hibbs to end on offense has been designed to build several running plays and forward-pass combinations about him.

These have been worked up particularly for the Oregon State game, which shows that Jones is not taking the invaders lightly. Last year he took the game in stride, priming for the Stanford game a week later.

The kick-off is scheduled for 2:30 with a preliminary game between the U.S.C. frosh and Pasadena J.C. getting under way at 12:30.

The U.S.C. management announced last night that 50,000 seats will go on sale at the Coliseum this morning, the advance sale having taken care of 25,000.

BY JI MBOTTOMLEY

(Copyright, 1928, by the North American Newspaper Alliance.)

SUNNY JIM BOTTOMLEY

YANKEE STADIUM, NEW YORK, Oct. 5. — The Yankees took full advantage of their early opportunities and we didn't. That's the story of our second defeat.

Had we inserted a couple more when Pipgras was having difficulty in locating the plate in the early going, we undoubtedly would have knocked him from the box.

We couldn't supply those hits and so we gave the New York right-hander a chance to steady himself.

Where we failed the Yankees succeeded. They uncovered a carload of power at the plate, and when they piled up those four runs in the third inning to take a substantial lead they wrapped Pipgras in clover. He then had plenty of confidence, which was further bulwarked by his ability to strike a couple of us out when he was in that third-inning jam.

YANKEES HIT

The big point about the Yankee attack is that it was general. All of the Yanks, or most of them, were meeting the ball solidly. They also received frequent aid and inspiration from their lead off batters, Durst and Paschal, who were on base every time I looked around.

Once past the third inning, Mitchell had the Yankee game well under control, but Pipgras also became more effective with his speed and curves as the game progressed, making Mitchell's effort futile.

Barring our second inning outburst, we were as helpless before Pipgras as we had been against Hoyt in the first game. We got only four hits all afternoon, and now have a grand total of seven for two games. Only two of our men had any success against Pipgras, Frisch collecting two of the hits off him, and Wilson and Maranville one apiece.

SIX SUCCESSFUL

In contrast, six of the New York players hit safely. The Yanks were there on the short game as well as the long, as they say in golf, three of the New York blows being sweet for extra bases. Ruth and Meusel hit doubles and Gehrig blasted that powerful home run with two men on in the first inning.

Despite that siege gun socking, Mitchell gave evidence that the Yankees can be stopped. They have a big jump on us now, but I am confident we'll come out of our batting slump. I don't think it is in the books for us to remain submerged.

Our line-up is dotted with good batters, and when we find our eye we'll change the complexion of this series.

We move to our own back yard now. We will be surrounded by our friends in St. Louis, in a park we know well. We have one of the greatest pitchers in the game, Jess Haines, all groomed for the third battle.

FAIRFAX TEAM HELD TO TIE BY WILSON

A strong battling Fairfax eleven was held to a 0-to-0 tie by Woodrow Wilson High School of Long Beach in a tense game played yesterday on the Colonial gridiron. On two occasions the Fairfax team was about to score having the ball within one yard of the goal, but Woodrow Wilson held for four downs both times. A fumble by Johnson, Fairfax captain, on the Long Beach 15-yard line, halted another march for a touchdown. The line-ups:

HOYT PRAISES PIPGRAS

Yankee Hurler Explains Why He Had Such a Tough Time in Early Innings of Game

BY WAITE HOYT

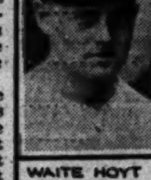
Pitcher, New York Yankees, American League Pennant Winners

(Written exclusively for The Times and the North American Newspaper Alliance.)

[Copyright, 1928, in all Countries by North American Newspaper Alliance.]

ALBANY (N. Y.) Oct. 5. (Aboard the Yankee special en route to St. Louis.)—This is the happiest trip that a Yankee team has made in many years, because we are upsetting a lot of dope that had no basis of fact. We are on top right now and the fair-haired boys are the underdogs.

The story of today's game is the story of Pipgras's pitching. He was very shaky at first, but he buckled down to his job and finally got himself straightened out. On the bench we knew that something was wrong, but we couldn't quite figure it out.



WAITE HOYT

After the game Pipgras wasn't so sure himself, but concluded that it was a little bit of everything.

"Did you ever wake up in the morning," he said to me, "and do everything wrong that day? Well, that was the way I felt. At first I was letting the ball go too soon and it wouldn't break right Then I discovered I wasn't following through. I was pulling back, like a fighter pulls a punch.

"Before I got that corrected, I found myself shifting from one end of the rubber to the other and that naturally didn't help. While all this was going on, the base hits were going out. I wasn't very nervous, but I was sore at myself for being such a sap."

When he once got clear of the trouble, he was far from a "sap" because he had them eating out of his hand. His control was great and he came up with the best curve ball he has shown this year.

Of course he couldn't have won if the Yankees hadn't made some runs for him and that brings us to Gehrig, Ruth and Meusel. Gehrig flattened out a screwball that I thought never would stop rising. It sailed and sailed, but it didn't sail too far for us on the bench. There was a noticeable sigh of relief when it cleared the fence.

LINCOLN, SANTA ANA IN 14-14 TIE GAME

While completely outclassed in every department of the game, Coach Pop Bates's Lincoln Tiger gridders managed to hold down Tex Oliver's hard-hitting Santa Ana grid squad to a 14-to-14 score in a game played at Santa Ana yesterday.

The Tigers' tallies came in the first and second quarters due to the fact that they were playing the Santa Ana second string squad. However, at the beginning of the third period Tex Oliver sent in his regular squad.

Alphy Osborne and Capt. Pete Vitale did most of the ball-toting for the Tigers, each being responsible for one Tiger touchdown. Lincoln's pet fault, inability to stop passes, gave the Saints their first tally, while a line play made by Reboin netted the other tally for the Saints.

JACK ROPER COPS GO AT HOLLYWOOD

Fitzsimmons Loses Wind-up; Cardoza, Hector Fight Draw in Semifinal

Jack Roper, big hard-hitting heavyweight, handed Red Fitzsimmons a terrific beating last night in the top spot of a double main event bill at the Hollywood American Legion.

Roper won eight of the ten rounds decisively, while two could be called even which was giving the sorrel top a break. Fitzsimmons was all cut up at the end of the fight and looked like a new subdivision. The only thing the fight proved was that Red could take punishment, which he did very well, from the first round till the tenth without a knockdown.

In the first half of the main event Mike Hector and Joe Cardoza slugged ten rounds to a draw. Mike started out fast getting the dge in the early rounds with Cardoza getting stronger as the fight kept on. Cardoza piled up quite a lead in the last three periods. The last round was a thriller, the two battlers staging an old-fashioned slugfest, going at it like a couple of longshoremen out for a good time.

Just before the main events went on Announcer Dan Tobey gave the fans a short talk on the coming election. Vote no on No. 5 was the gist of Dan's dissertation.

Jack Gibbs, an up and coming young battler, scored a knockout over Mike Marshie in the fifth round of their scheduled six-rounder. Rudy Guyton shaded Paul Kirkman in the four-round opener.

MONTEBELLO WALLOPS BELMONT HIGH, 35-0

The Montebello Oilers ran rough shod over the Belmont Hill-Toppers reserves yesterday turning in a 35-0 score. Childs, Oiler quarter, scored four touchdowns, while Montoya and Cannon each pushed one over. The feature run of the game was made by Molloy in the fourth period, when he ran a punta back 43 yards. STOCK MARKET VALUES MOUNT

Trading Activity Bolsters Security Prices

Issues on Local Exchange Mark Advance

Operations Traced for Nine Months of Year

Value of trading on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange exceeded that of the San Francisco Stock Exchange every day this week, excepting one, officials of the local market declared yesterday.

The value from Monday to the close yesterday aggregated $29,732,240, against $24,887,275 for the Bay City mart, a gain of $4,844,965, or about 20 per cent.

Market value of securities listed on the exchange at the close of September, last, aggregated $4,523,765,803, as against $3,858,155,328 as of January 1, last, an increase of $665,610,475 or 17 per cent, according to a compilation issued yesterday by the statistical department. Excluding fourteen new listings during the period and four stocks that were withdrawn, the remaining eighty-five stocks which were listed at both times increased $546,526,475, or nearly 15 per cent in market value for the three-quarter period.

Greater public interest in petroleum shares manifest in the last few months served to put this division of the market in the foreground in point of increase. Market value of the thirty oil shares listed increased $320,895,478 or nearly 25 per cent.

Public utility shares stood next in point of gain principally because of the new listings. Excluding additions and removals the actual appreciation in market value of stocks listed both periods aggregated $121,308,018. Bank shares increased $143,200,000 over the period.

Industrials, exclusive of new listings, showed a gain of $11,119,505 or about 11 per cent. Miscellaneous shares decreased in value due in a large part to the slump in market value of Bancitaly Corporation.

Bank of Italy showed a gain in market value of $103,000,000 or about 30 per cent. Bancitaly dropped off $52,000,000, approximately 7 per cent. Merchants' National gained $13,000,000 or about 65 per cent. Rio Grande jumped more than $15,000,000 to a total more than nine times its value at the first of the year. Richfield more than doubled its value.

'Katy' Seeks to Drop Plans for Loree Rail Line

NEW YORK, Oct. 5. (Exclusive)—Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railroad Company has filed an application with the Interstate Commerce Commission for withdrawal of its application for authority to acquire control of the Kansas City Southern and the Cotton Belt Line.

It was announced that the company had decided on this course after consultation with L. F. Loree, chairman of the Kansas City Southern, and Winslow S. Pierce, chairman of the Cotton Belt, who are in accord with this decision.

At the time the plan was formulated and the application was filed, the proposed basis for the exchange of stocks of the companies involved had been reached with considerable difficulty owing to a number of factors affecting the relative values of the securities.

Land Bank Loan Data Given Out

BERKELEY, Oct. 5. (AP)—Farmers in California, Utah, Nevada and Arizona sought $856,700 in loans from the Federal Land Bank of Berkeley during September, a report made public by the bank today showed. There were 131 applications during this period. Of these, eight-seven, whose requests aggregated $514,300, were from California farmers.

During the same period fifty-seven loans aggregating $275,900 were granted and eighty-nine appraisals, covering 31,774 acres, were made. Of these, seventy of the appraised ranches were in California.

The bank has made 18,138 gross loans totaling $69,556,600 since its organization in 1917. Of these, 10,096 were on California property, totaling $40,891,400.

COTTON PLEA VOICED

Mississippi Representative Asserts Crop Estimates Faulty

TUPELO (Miss.) Oct. 5. (AP)—Representative Rankin of the First Mississippi District and a member of the cotton investigating committee of the last Congress, has appealed to President Coolidge to help cotton growers by demanding that the United States Department of Agriculture base its monthly estimate "on the present condition of the crop as reflected in the reports of deterioration and the ginners' report."

In a sweeping indictment of the government crop-reporting board, Mr. Rankin told the President in a lengthy telegram that the board "is contributing to the financial distress of the cotton farmers by giving out inflated estimates not justified by facts."

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Oct. 5. (AP)—Further pre-bureau liquidation promoted by a favorable view of weather conditions over the greater part of the South and relatively easy Liverpool cables, seemed responsible for further moderate declines in the cotton market here today. Trading was quiet with prices showing net declines of about 7 to 10 points during the middle of the afternoon.

DAIRY BUSINESS DEVELOPS

Large Corporations Now Distribute Milk and Its Products on Broad Scale; Rumor Arises

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Business corporations in the last few years have taken hold of the dairy business and raised its status to the proportions of a national industry, distributing milk products on a nation-wide basis and collecting the raw material from a constantly widening zone of production. In the Western States are two such companies, which have given the dairymen the benefits of wider markets, mass distribution, sales promotion, and large-scale manufacture.

When once farmers' co-operatives along the Pacific Coast represented the status of the dairy business, the Golden State Products Company and Western Dairy Products Company are the two agencies that now handle the bulk of the milk produced, and manufacture and distribute the products. By process of consolidation and purchase these holding companies have built up enterprises that undoubtedly rank as sound and growing industrials.

COVERS WIDE FIELD

National Dairy Products, which operates in 1600 cities throughout thirteen States, is the model upon which the western companies are built. This company was successful in making the ice-cream business a profitable adjunct to the dairy business, and in the manufacture and sale of trade-marked products, such as health milks, beverages and other by-products.

Last year National Dairy Products and its subsidiaries sold 27,000,000 gallons of ice cream; 147,500,000 gallons of milk, cream and buttermilk; 78,000,000 pounds of condensed milk, milk sugar, casein, etc.; 21,600,000 pounds of butter, and 77,000,000 pounds of semisolid buttermilk.

In the vanguard of this company's march of expansion, the name of Golden State Milk Products has arisen, along with other rumors, as a likely prospect for annexation to the National Dairy Products system. This yarn has been in circulation for the last several weeks and is advanced as the explanation for the rise of Golden State shares on the San Francisco and Los Angeles exchanges.

EXPANDS IN STATE

Golden State, however, has been expanding on its own initiative, and only lately reached the status of a State-wide dairy business. The company claims the distinction of being the principal producer, manufacturer and distributor of dairy products in California. It manufactures and sells ice cream, powdered milk, and other products, and distributes milk, cream and butter. Its powdered milk and butter are distributed to thirty-eight foreign countries.

Both Golden State and Western Dairy have acquired companies in Los Angeles. The former recently purchased the Los Angeles Creamery Company, while the latter acquired the L. J. Christopher Company, ice cream manufacturers. Western Dairy's operations in California are carried on by an operating company, California Dairies.

Several interesting features are offered in the securities of dairy companies from the standpoint of the long-term investor. Butter and milk are necessities, and per capita consumption grows steadily each year. Diversification of products has lent stability, advertising and sales promotion have increased distribution, and the business is largely on a cash basis. Moreover, the vexatious problem of inventories is virtually nonexistent, since most of the products are in the perishable class.

Italo Acquires Julian Refinery

Italo Petroleum Corporation of America has acquired the refinery of the Perfection Refining Company, generally known as the Julian Refinery, at Hines, it was announced yesterday by A. G. Wilkes, vice-president. The refinery has been inactive for several years but was modernized by Federal receivers when under lease to Julian Petroleum Company, it was announced.

The refinery has a 5000-barrel daily crude capacity and facilities for 250,000 barrels steel storage on a twenty-acre tract. Officials of the Italo announced that before the plant is put in operation, installation of the Trumble cracking process will be made. Italo owns this process through purchase from Milon J. Trumble.

Short Air-Mail Line to Open

OAKLAND, Oct. 5. (AP)—The shortest air-mail line in the United States will open the 15th inst., when the Oakland-San Jose service will be inaugurated. The run will be made in twenty-five minutes.

The line is the first leg of a mail route which is planned by postal officials to connect the bay region with Central California cities, extending to Monterey on the coast and to Sacramento, Stockton and Fresno in the interior.

MARMON PLANS NEW TYPE OF MOTOR CAR

NEW YORK, Oct. 5. (Exclusive) Marmon Motor Company is planning several developments that will strengthen its position in the automotive industry, it was announced today. One plan is the acquisition of an old-line automobile body company, while another is expansion of its manufacturing facilities with introduction of a new straight eight to sell under $1000.

EARNINGS INCREASE

NEW YORK, Oct. 5. (Exclusive) United States Asbestos Company reports net income of $273,322 for the six months to June 30, last, equal after preferred dividends to $2.53 on the common, against $159,177 or $1.39 a share in 1927. Sales for the nine months totaled $2,767,000 against $2,231,000 a year ago, an increase of 24 per cent.

Week's Trade Survey Held Good Omen

NEW YORK, Oct. 5. (AP)—Dun's tomorrow will say: "With additions to recent gains, the last quarter of the year has begun with increasing vigor and buoyancy in business. Responding to the stimulating forces that invariably exist during the autumn, current operations are at an accelerated rate, their scope is widening, and commodity price unsettlement is a conspicuous exception.

"A natural reaction to these constructive phases appears in a spreading of confidence in the outlook, conservative optimism being the dominant note in dispatches covering the principal commercial areas. The harvesting and marketing of crops, supplemented by seasonable weather, has given a distinct impetus to trade in rural districts, while activities in various manufacturing localities are broadening.

"The most notable expansion continues to center in the great iron and steel industry, yet progress extends to some other fields and a decided quickening in the textile division, where some unsatisfactory aspects have prevailed, is a particularly encouraging development."

Weekly bank clearings, $13,432,919,000, increase of 15.3 per cent over last year.

Copper Group Earnings Gain

Reported profits of nine copper companies aggregated $23,822,775 for the first six months of 1928, as compared with $16,540,591 for the corresponding period of 1927, a gain of $7,282,184, or about 44 per cent, according to a compilation of the statistical department of Ernest & Ernest.

Capital Cut of Bank Approved

Stockholders of the National Bank of Commerce have approved the recent proposal of directors to reduce the capital stock of the institution from $500,000 to $250,000 and to issue new stock to the amount of $250,000, Erle M. Leaf, president, announced yesterday following a meeting of shareholders.

Under the plan, the new stock consisting of 10,000 shares of $25 par value each will be sold to present stockholders at $32.50 a share and the $250,000 capital reduction together with the premium on the new stock will be added to undivided profits, the total amount being $325,000. Stockholders have already subscribed for the new stock, it was stated.

Gear and Tool Profits Gain

CHICAGO, Oct. 5. (Exclusive)—Net earnings of the Ross Gear and Tool Company for the nine months ended September 30, last, after allowing for Federal taxes, amounted to $637,630, equal to $4.25 a share on 150,000 shares outstanding, and is at the rate of $5.67 a share for the full year. This compares with earnings for the first nine months of 1927 of $334,730, or $2.23 a share on the same amount of stock outstanding.

Earnings this year are approximately 90 per cent greater than last year. Prospects for the last quarter are gratifying, according to officials of the company with present volume of business greater than any in the company's history.

British Exports of Gold Gaining

NEW YORK, Oct. 5. (AP)—The third gold shipment from England in two weeks was announced today by the American Exchange-Irving Trust Company, which is importing £1,000,000 in gold bars on the Mauretania sailing Saturday. This brings the total to nearly $10,000,000 since sterling dropped to the gold importing rate.

Goldman Sachs & Co. is receiving a shipment of $2,500,000.

NEW HIGH FOR MART SEAT

DETROIT, Oct. 5. (Exclusive)—Sale of a seat on the Detroit Stock Exchange at a new record price of $26,500 has been arranged. The name of the purchaser of the seat, which formerly belonged to Benjamin Dansard & Co., was not made known.

OFFER MADE ON GROCERY CHAIN STOCK

Kroger Company Bid for Piggly Wiggly Given in Letter to Holders

NEW YORK, Oct. 5. (Exclusive) Otto Marx, manager of the Piggly Wiggly Corporation, has addressed a letter to stockholders offering a proposition to sell their common stock at $50 a share to the Kroger Grocery and Baking Company. At least two-thirds of the common stock must be available to allow consummation of this transaction, he stated.

Stockholders depositing stock on or before the 15th inst. may receive cash of $50 a share, or in lieu therefore, an equivalent amount of common stock of the Grocery and Baking Company, taken at its average price on the 23rd inst.

Mr. Marx announced that, in his opinion, it is possible to consummate the proposed transaction and considers it favorable to common stockholders of the Piggly Wiggly Corporation.

Kroger Grocery and Baking Company has recently been acquiring a number of stores operating under the Piggly Wiggly franchise in various sections throughout the country. Purchase was made recently of twenty stores in the Cleveland area from the Piggly Wiggly Western States Company, while a number were acquired from the Columbus Piggly Wiggly company in Columbus and surrounding territory. The most recent purchase was that of a chain of stores in Louisville, Ky., from the Louisville Piggly Wiggly company.

New Oil Field Find Forecast

NEW YORK, Oct. 5—Indications are that the Gulf Oil Corporation through its producing subsidiary, the Gypsy Oil Company, has found an important oil field in Lea county, N. M., just north of the Hendrick pool, Winkler county, Tex. At present, the well is making about 12,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily, but the opinion of geologists is that it will make a large oil producer when drilled deeper.

The geological formations found in the well are similar to those in the Hendrick pool and many believe that it may uncover an oil pool comparable to this pool. The Gypsy Oil Company has several thousand acres of leases in the vicinity of this well and, if completed as an oil producer should add considerably to the already large oil reserves of the company.

German Imports of Gold Point Up

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5. (Exclusive)—Imports of gold into Germany are increasing, the Department of Commerce was advised today from Berlin. During the first seven months of this year the gold imports totaled 129,376 kilos, as compared with only 46,162 kilos during the period last year.

Since the end of July, last, gold imports continued strong and the gold reserves of the Reichsbank have increased by about 70,000,000 marks, between July 21, 1928, and September 7, 1928, it was reported.

CANNERS LAY BLAME ON CO-OPERATIVES

ADVERTISEMENT SAYS PLAN TO CURTAIL OUTPUT HAS BEEN IGNORED

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 5. (AP)—The Canners' League of California, in a half-page advertisement inserted in San Francisco newspapers, today laid the blame for the present peach-price situation on the shoulders of the co-operative canners.

While practically all commercial canner members of the Canners' League signed an agreement to curtail the pack to 13,000,000 cases, representatives of co-operative canners "flatly refused" to participate in the curtailment plan, the statement asserted.

As a result, the canners say, the pack probably will be in excess of 14,800,000 cases and the price will be $20 a ton instead of the $25 a ton agreed upon, for the No. 1 variety, had the pack been limited.

The $25 price for fewer peaches would have been more profitable than $20 for the greater pack, the statement added.

In the paid advertisement, headed "The Canning Peach Situation," the canners declared that the facts presented are borne out by minutes of Gov. Young's conference committee and other readily available evidence.

SIMMONS COMPANY SALES SHOW DROP

NEW YORK, Oct. 5. (Exclusive) September gross sales of Simmons Company totaled $3,765,724, compared with $3,842,383 in 1927, a decrease of $76,659. This was due to one less working day in September of this year, officials of the company announced. Nine months sales aggregated $25,583,134, against $25,385,716 last year, an increase of 8.6 per cent.

UNIVERSAL PRODUCTS BUSINESS GROWING

DETROIT, Oct. 5. (Exclusive)—New contracts for additional business in excess of $1,000,000 a year have just been secured by Universal Products Company, it was announced today. The company's plant is now operating at capacity and the concern entered October with a record volume of unfilled orders on its books.

RISE OF ROY A. YOUNG TOLD

Close Up View Given of Federal Reserve Bank System and Career Traced

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

[Copyright, 1928, in all Countries by North American Newspaper Alliance.]

"That fellow has a mighty pleasing personality," a Mississippi banker said to me after Gov. Roy A. Young had finished his address before the American Bankers' Association this week, on the subject of Federal reserve policy. "What's his history? I'd like to know more about him."

When I met Roy A. Young the first time, about ten years ago, his hair was black and thick. He was then 36. Now his iron gray hair, covering a well-shaped head, makes him appear a little older than he really is. But his florid face is youthful looking, with no age lines.

Probably no man in American banking is being studied with more interest these days than the Governor of the Federal Reserve Board.

Mr. Young was born in Michigan. After attending high school in Marquette, he entered the First National Bank there at 18 years of age as a messenger. For the next seventeen years he didn't leave Northern Michigan, confining his activities to three banks in that section. But a Scotch friend was destined to be of great influence in his life.

When the Federal Reserve Board of the Ninth District (Minneapolis) was formed, John W. Black of Houghton, Mich., was selected to represent the Northern Michigan section. He was a warm friend of Mr. Young, then vice-president of the Citizens' National Bank of Houghton. Upon Mr. Black's recommendation, Mr. Young was selected as Deputy Governor of the Federal Reserve Bank at Minneapolis. Two years later, in 1919, upon the resignation of Theodore Wold, its first Governor, Mr. Young, at the age of 37, became the youngest Governor in the Federal Reserve system.

For the next eight years, which included the deflation period of 1920-21, he remained in the Minneapolis post resigning only last year to become the Governor of the Federal Reserve Board at Washington.

Gov. Young is a strong, well-built man of perhaps 180 pounds. He is smooth shaven, and has regular features and a high forehead. His face shows vitality and determination. He mixes easily, makes friends readily, is an excellent speaker and a capital story teller.

Probably no man connected with the Federal Reserve system has had such a wide experience in Federal Reserve practice. Mr. Young's banking knowledge was gained more from life than from books. For the Governor is not a bookworm. He is ambitious. He left a position paying $25,000 a year to accept one paying $12,000. Gov. Young saw that by so doing his field of banking influence would broaden, and become national instead of local in scope. Apparently he is interested in the long pull.

Who can say that the banking ambitions of Roy A. Young, now 46 years of age, have yet been satisfied?

RAILWAY OFFICIAL IN OPTIMISTIC OUTLOOK

NEW YORK, Oct. 5. (Exclusive) F. E. Taplin, president, Pittsburgh and West Virginia Railway, is optimistic on the outlook and predicts earnings for the full year will surpass 1927 when net income was $1,714,531 or $5.67 on common. August net income amounted to $205,213 against $103,712 last year and eight months $1,269,228 against $1,179,776. This was the first time this year that income for the period surpassed 1927, as the decline in the first few months, because of the coal depression, was rather large.

PUGET SOUND POWER SALE ON CALENDAR

NEW YORK, Oct. 5. (AP)—Absorption of the Puget Sound Power and Light Company of Seattle by the Engineers' Public Service Company, Inc., of New York, through an exchange of stock was approved today by Puget Sound company directors.

WOOL TRADE GETTING OUT OF OLD RUT

Survey Reports Market as Becoming Adjusted to New Price Levels

BOSTON, Oct. 5. (AP)—The Commercial Bulletin will say tomorrow:

The demand for wool was slackened in this market in consequence of the uncertainty prevailing in London and Australia, but now appears to have become fairly well readjusted to the new level of values. On both sides of the Atlantic, the markets for goods and clothing are reported liquid and with prices of wool at their present level, good business should not long be delayed. Some small lots of fall Texas have been purchased at 32 @ 32½ cents.

The mohair market is firm with business light. About 2,000,000 pounds of the fall clip in Texas is understood to have been moved and prices now are at 65 and 75 cents, respectively, for adult and kid hair. Foreign markets are firm.

The rail and water shipments of wool from Boston from January 1, 1928, to October 4, 1928, inclusive, were 123,113,000 pounds, against 154,028,000 for the same period last year. The receipts from January 1, 1928, to October 4, 1928, inclusive, were 269,795,948 pounds, against 297,571,926 pounds for the same period last year.

The Bulletin will publish the following wool quotations tomorrow:

Scoured basis: Texas, fine 12 months (selected,) 1.10@1.12; fine 8 months, 1.00@1.05.

California, northern, 1.08@1.10; middle county, 1.00@1.05; southern, 90@95.

Oregon, fine and F.M. staple, 1.10; fine and F.M. Fr. combing, 1.03@1.08; fine and F.M. clothing, 95@1.01; Valley No. 1, 1.02@1.05.

Mohair: Good original bag Texas spring, 61@62; Texas kid, 81@83; good original bag Arizona and New Mexico, 55@57; original bag, average 12 months, Oregon, 58@60.

Graded stock, first combing, 75@80; good carding, 45@50.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Rio Grande and Republic Petroleum Soar to New Heights on Bullish Drive

Rio Grande Oil swept upward on a wave of bullish enthusiasm yesterday and continued to dominate trading operations on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange. The issue soared 11⅛ points to 124 to mark a fourth successive new record price. The stock closed at the top figure to record an advance of 35¼ points from the close on the same day a week ago. The lowest point in yesterday's operations was at 113⅛, where the stock opened.

Republic Petroleum, marking a new record for share turnover, was another high-light of the market. This issue jumped 18⅛ cents to a new all-time peak at 107½ and closed at this point after recording a transfer of 406,775 shares. The activity was accompanied by rumors of negotiations pending for sale of the company to larger oil interests.

Signal Oil issues continued their rapid advance in the early part of trading. Both stocks scored new highs only to drop back in the afternoon on selling pressure. Signal Oil "A" set a peak at 54, up 1 1-8, and reacted to close at 52½, off 3-8 net. The "B" stock sold at 53 3-8, a new top and up 1 point. In the afternoon an odd lot transferred at 52. Richfield, after reaching 50, finished unchanged at 49 3-4. Standard of California eased off 1-8 to 60 5-8. Union Oil and Union Associates were maintained at 50.

Merchants' National featured the bank trading and jumped 5½ points to 215 on a transfer of more than 1000 shares. Bank of Italy added 1-4 to finish at 194 1-4 while Bancitaly fell back 3-4 to 123. California Bank dropped off 1 to 122. Los Angeles-First National held firm at 115 1-4.

Piggly Wiggly Western continued the strong spot of the miscellaneous group and scored another new peak on a jump of 3-4 points to 38 1-4. The issue was particularly active and finished at 37 7-8, up 2 7-8 net.

Stock transfers totaled 542,359 shares valued at $7,848,128. Bond transactions amounted to $48,000.

LOS ANGELES CURB

Barnsdall Oil continued to feature operations yesterday on the Los Angeles Curb Exchange. Going ex-dividend the issue advanced 1 1-4 points to a new top price at 40, where it closed. The rights moved in a similar manner and set another new high, up 1 point to 15½. The Barnsdall issue in the two preceding sessions not only set new high prices but marked new records for trading volume for any stock on the curb.

Rio Grande convertible bonds were transferred to the total par value of $15,000 and jumped 27 points from the last sale Wednesday to a new high at 402. The issue closed at 400. Tidewater Associated preferred sold at 22½ and Italo Petroleum common advanced 5 cents to 1.25. Universal Consolidated Oil was traded to the extent of 3500 shares and ranged between 3.00 and 2.85 finishing at the latter price.

Byron Jackson Pump jumped 3 1-4 points to 103 1-4. Caterpillar Tractor eased off 1-8 to 81. Claude Neon Electrical Products slumped 1 3-4 to 42. Kolster Radio advanced 3-4 to 74½. Lockheed Aircraft fell off 2 points to 54. Golden States Milk sold briskly to fall off 5-8 to 63 1-4 after reaching 64½.

SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 5. (AP)—An irregular market, with moderate trading, characterized the session on the San Francisco Stock Exchange, although a few new highs were recorded.

In the industrial list, Byron Jackson Pump opened up a fraction at 100⅛, dipped to 99⅝ and in the middle of the session soared to 103¾, to sell off at the close to 102¼, rising 3 points. Opening strong at 35, Piggly Wiggly shot forward to a new high at 38¾ and ended the day with a gain of 3 at 38. Kolster Radio commenced up a point at 74¾, reacted to 73½, and in the late trading moved up to 74⅞, netting a rise of 1⅛. Magnavox from its start of 5, slipped to 4.85 and then jumped to a new high at 5.50, but eased to a finish at 5.37½, up ⅜. Increasing from 80½ to 81¼, Caterpillar Tractor was high by 1⅛. Golden State Milk Products was moderately active. Selling from 63½ to 64½, to end off ⅜ at 63⅝. Beginning strong at 62⅝, California Ink lowered to 62¼ from where support came in, carrying it up to a new high of 63¾, later dropping to 62¾ at the close, appreciating 1. Oliver "A" was weak, selling off from 53¼ to 52½, down 1¼. A new low was registered by Crown Zellerbach vtc. at 24, after opening at 24⅛. It finished lower by ⅜ at 24¼.

The oils were very quiet. Richfield was off ⅛ at 49⅝, from its opening at 49¾. Standard of California sold from 60⅝ to 60⅝, to end off ⅛ at 60⅝. A fractional gain was shown by North American, increasing from 42⅝ at the opening to 43, higher by ¼. Union Associates was even at 50, and Union of California netted ⅛ to 50.

Among the banks, Bancitaly Corporation commenced at 123⅝, hit 123¾, and then slumped to 123⅛ at the end, losing ⅝, and Bank of Italy sold at 193, for no gain. American was steady at 148.

Total sales: Bonds, $3000; stocks, 104,290 shares of $5,253,365 market value.

SUGAR MARKET

NEW YORK, Oct. 5. (AP)—The raw sugar market was unchanged early today at 3.89 for spots, duty paid, with no sales reported.

In refined, a fair inquiry was reported for prompt shipment and prices were unchanged at 5.35@5.40 for fine granulated.

Futures closed steady; approximate sales, 17,200 tons; December, 2.08; March, 2.14; May, 2.22; July, 2.30; September, 2.39.

WOOL MARKET

BOSTON, Oct. 5. (AP)—A sizeable line of Ohio 64s and finer Delaine wools has been sold at 46 cents in the grease. This sale represents a drop of 1 cent a pound and directly reflects a reaction to unsatisfactory reports coming from the London auctions and from the sales in Australia this week.

Grain Futures Gain Ground in Day's Trading

CHICAGO, Oct. 5. (Exclusive)—Heavy profit-taking was in evidence in the grain markets today, but there was a broadening in the outside trade and March and May deliveries of corn, oats and rye sold at a new high for the season, with the close at the top. Wheat finished ¼@⅝c higher, corn up 1⅛@1⅝c, oats ⅜@⅝c and rye 1⅛@1⅝c higher. Wheat and rye at Winnipeg showed independent strength, with wheat gaining 1@1⅝c, while rye was up 3⅝@4c.

Strength in Liverpool and Winnipeg wheat led to scattered buying of wheat here early, but selling by the Northwest found the market poorly supported and a break of around 1½c from the top followed. Toward the last, however, there was a return of aggressive buying and the greater part of the lost ground was recovered. Winnipeg closed at the top, with further buying of October by cash interests in evidence. There has been persistent absorption of wheat here on the breaks for some time and it is commencing to have an effect on sentiment. A local house was a good buyer here against sales at Winnipeg.

Duluth No. 1 northern spring wheat was reported offered abroad at about 1½c under No. 3 Manitobas, but no sales were claimed. The seaboard estimated 700,000 bushels had been disposed of in all positions, including durums and Manitobas, the latter from the Pacific Coast. Liverpool closed ⅝@1⅝d higher, with liberal short covering in evidence in the near-by futures, while the continent was credited with taking cash grain. The Saskatchewan crop report estimated 80 per cent of the wheat in that province had been threshed, with about 30 per cent grading contract, although only 48 per cent of the arrivals at leading terminals on Thursday graded No. 4 northern or better. Farmers in the American Northwest were said to be taking futures in exchange for about 80 per cent of the arrivals at Duluth.

Selling by local longs and against offers was instrumental in checking the upturn in corn, but the undertone was strong the greater part of the day, and the finish was at the top. Strength in the cash grain is having considerable influence, with the local spot basis unchanged to 1c higher, while at Kansas City the cash was up 1⅛@3½c, as compared with December. Shipping sales here were 137,000 bushels. Two cars of sample grade new grain were received and sold at 68@71, both cars being in a heating condition.

There were reports of good export sales of oats having been put through at the seaboard, but quantities were not given. Houses with foreign connections were on the buying side of futures.

Rye was active and higher, with strength in Winnipeg having considerable influence. Purchases of 500,000 bushels cash grain were said to have been made to come here from Duluth, while the seaboard reported 250,000 bushels sold abroad.

Packers were credited with being on both sides of the lard market at intervals, yet the day's range was only 10c and the close at 2½c net decline. Trading was not large and no new features developed. Bellies had poor support, as selling of 50,000 pounds depressed values 50 cents, with a trade in October at 14.25, while in ribs there was no trading.

OIL NEWS

BY HOWARD C. KEGLEY

The operators' committee charged with handling the gas and conservation problem at Santa Fe Springs met yesterday at the Chamber of Mines and Oil and organized permanently by electing H. Macmillan chairman; E. R. vice-chairman, and Ed- Higgins, secretary.

After a review of the repressuring of all zones in this State, by A. the original committee of appointed a technical subcommittee consisting of Chairman Parsons, T. E. Swigart, Joseph A. E. Davis, L. E. Porter, Stanley and O. O. Allen. This subcommittee is charged with the following duties:

To make a survey to determine as closely as possible what production may be expected as the wells are drilling to the Buckbee zone brought in; to secure from the companies a statement as to the quantity of oil that they will be able to handle from these wells; to secure from marketing companies an opinion on the economical use of the expected production; to acquaint itself with prorating and curtailment methods that have been used in Oklahoma, Texas and other oil-producing districts.

This information to be presented at a meeting of the committee to be held at 10 a.m. Friday, the 19th inst. in the offices of the Chamber of Mines and Oil.

Recemented

A cement job is in order in the field for the Voorhies No. 1 of the Associated Oil Company which yesterday tested wet after having drilled to 5442 feet. The latter part of the week a complete water shut-off and production test is expected to be made. The company's Pacific Southwest No. 1 well was swabbed down to feet, but failed to develop production. The hole is drilling ahead at approximately 4850 feet.

The Cypress No. 3 well, which has been recemented twice, is again being cemented at 3238 feet. The well encountered water trouble at the shoe, but this trouble has been remedied and casing is to be in a few days. It has drilled approximately 3500 feet.

Reopening

The Empire Petroleum Corporation has taken its Marine No. 26 off production in the Los Cerritos field to deepen it. Hole is down 6609 feet, where oil sand has been penetrated. By the latter part of next week it will probably be returned to production.

The company's Marine No. 21 is now pumping 685 barrels of oil a day.

Coring

In the Rosecrans field the Cy- Oil Company's Rosecrans No. is coring oil sand. It has drilled to 6037 feet, and by the first part of next week is expected to go on production. The No. 1 well is the old Mar- No. 2 well that was drilled but later abandoned at 5000 feet because there was not enough

Casing

The General Petroleum Corporation is setting casing in its Santa Fe No. 200-C well at Santa Fe Springs. It has drilled to 4160 feet.

On Pump

In the Fillmore district the California Western Oil Company's & Investment No. 1 well will be placed on the pump today. It is expected that the well may produce approximately 200 barrels of oil a day. It was drilled to 2870

Fishing

The Harland Oil Company has a fishing job in its Macimiento No. It is situated in the Montebello on the Hellman ranch. At a few sections of drill pipe, but within a few days it is expected, the well may go ahead. It is down 4900

Abandoned

In the Arvin district of Kern the Texas Company has abandoned its Pauley No. 1 wildcat. It encountered a fishing job which was remedied, but having drilled to 8000 feet without a showing the hole was abandoned. It was on a 5000-acre lease originally owned by the Oil Company.

Well Cemented

In the Midway field near Fellows, Oil Company's Western No. 1 well is to stand cemented a few days longer. It is on Sec. 27, 32-23. The hole is 3388 feet with casing set at

Spudded

In the east end of the West Coyote Gaston Bastanchury is building a rig for his No. 1 wildcat on Bastanchury Rancho, of several thousand acres. He is to do his own drilling. The well will be on

Wildcat

Richfield Oil Company, it is said, will start work on its No. 1 wildcat in the Puente today. The gas service boilers has just been in-

Producing

In the West Coyote Hills the Petroleum Securities Company yesterday placed its McNally No. 1 well on production with hole down 5498 feet. Some time ago the well plugged back and was drilled out for and at that depth it was placed on the pump and is now producing 300 barrels of oil a day. A week ago it was plugged at 5500 feet and after it was made a test was made, but no production was obtained. It was plugged back to 5474 feet, and tested wet.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, Oct. 5. (AP)—"Bullish" demonstrations in industrial and automotive shares sent nearly a score of issues into new high territory on the curb market today, as week-end liquidation caused considerable heaviness throughout the list. Total sales approached the million-share mark.

Marmon Motor was again a strong point, adding 5 points to its 7-point gain of yesterday, and chalking up a new high at 65, in buying inspired by reports that the company is planning to absorb a body company and to put out a straight-eight selling under $1000. Checker Cab extended its gain then fell back, while Durant crossed its previous high. Bendix "B" touched 206 on announcement that the Electric Auto-Lite Company has bought into the Eclipse Machine Company, which holds the Bendix manufacturing rights. Pines Winter Front "A" jumped 3 points to a new top.

Zenith Radio soared 18 points to a new top at 134 in a small turnover, while Godchaux Sugar spurted ahead 8 points to a new high. Campbell Wyant, which has been sagging for some time, snapped back in a gain of 8 points which carried it to a new top. Apponaug Company advanced 7 points, and Celluloid Company, Columbia Graphophone, General Mills, Kimberly Clark, Nichols & Shepherd, Schulte Real Estate and others sold at record prices for the year or longer. Consolidated Laundries extended its gains on reports that under new management it had wiped out its bank loans and was in the best cash position in its history with sales 30 per cent above a year ago. American Laundry Machinery fell more than 4 points and National Rubber Machinery was in supply.

A number of oils responded to reports of a pending advance in fuel oil prices. Lion, Darby Petroleum and Pantepec were in demand at somewhat higher levels. Standards were heavy, however, Kentucky dropping 2 points. Mines were irregular, Comstock Tunnel and Noranda gained 2 and 1 points, respectively, while Newmont fell nearly 3 points.

In the utilities, Puget Sound sold up 4 points to within a fraction of its previous high on reports of acquisition by the Engineers' Public Service Company. United Gas Improvement made a fair gain, while Electric Bond and Share and Electric Power and Light were under pressure.

The closing price is omitted when same as the high, and both low and close when same at the high.

METAL MARKETS

CLEVELAND, Oct. 5. (Exclusive)—Daily Metal Trade today says:

"Marked strength in the basic pig-iron market is developing. Recent orders have been booked at 17.00 valley, although 16.50 still quoted. Demand for steel in almost every form is ravenous at Detroit. Eastern producers of plates, shapes and bars reporting September specifications the largest for any month this year, expect just as good a record for October, because materials are passing directly into consumption. Iron and steel scrap prices continue to advance in both the East and West.

"A sale of about 15,000 tons of heavy melting steel by a Chicago district consumer at 14.00 was reported.

"Copper is quiet at 15.25c, delivered Connecticut. Zinc is holding at 6.25c, St. Louis. Lead quiet at 6.32½c, St. Louis. Tin lower at 48.87½@49.00c, New York."

Se Ensayará la Cura de la Lepra en un Reo de Muerte Indultado

RIGA (Latvia), Octubre 5.—Gustav Zemgals, presidente de Latvia, ha indultado al asesino Janis Kirschstein, que estaba sentenciado a muerte. Kirschstein, en cambio, ha convenido someterse a los experimentos del profesor de esta ciudad, Paul Sniller, quien ha recibido permiso del gobierno para inocularle al citado reo la lepra. Esta experiencia será la segunda que registran los anales médicos. La primera se hizo hace algunos años en Hawai. Están muy interesadas en el asunto las autoridades médicas del Báltico, pues creen que ya andan cerca del descubrimiento de una curación para tan terrible mal.

Las autoridades encaran ahora el problema de dónde poner al preso, pues los reclusos de la prisión de Riga amenazan con el plante si no se llevan a Kirschstein a otro lugar; al paso que el administrador de la colonia de lazarinos de aquí se niega a albergar un criminal en su establecimiento.

"Tay Pay" Sigue Contento a Pesar de Haber Llegado a los Ochenta

LONDRES, Octubre 5.—"Tay Pay," Thomas Power O'Connor, "padre de la cámara de los comunes", ha celebrado hoy su octogésimo cumpleaños. Es el último superviviente del partido nacionalista irlandés, y, además, consejero privado y famoso periodista. Si bien ha sido un mártir de los dolores reumáticos, goza ahora de mucho mejor salud que de algunos meses a esta parte.

"Tay Pay", como cariñosamente se le llama en todas partes, al grado de que dicho nombre es su dirección cablegráfico, dice que su credo es el de un optimista realista—realista, porque se hace cargo cabal de lo triste que es este mundo; y optimista, porque cree que todo hombre puede hacer algo por aliviar la tristeza de la vida.

"La esperanza de hacerlo yo también es el consuelo de mi vejez", agregó, "y la razón de que espere vivir algunos años más para desempeñar mi parte en esa tarea."

"No Debe Morir", Exclaman sus Pacientes Agradecidos

NILES (Michigan), Octubre 5.—Muchas docenas de personas ciegas o médio ciegas de Niles y sus cercanías, que fueron sus pacientes, están observando con gran ansiedad la lucha que aquí está sosteniendo con la muerte el doctor Fred N. Bonine, oculista de fama mundial, hoy gravemente enfermo de neumonía bronquial.

Frente a su modesto consultorio, en la humilde casa que ocupa desde hace cuarenta y dos años, estacionan diariamente grupos de sus pacientes esperando noticias del enfermo.

"No debe morir", es la frase que todos pronuncian, y que se repite por todas las calles de la población.

De todas partes del mundo han venido aquí pacientes para recibir los auxilios profesionales del anciano de cabeza blanca. Ninguno de ellos ha tenido que pagar de honorarios más que $2 por la primera consulta y $1 por cada tratamiento consecutivo. Muchos han sido atendidos gratuitamente.

El doctor Bonine tiene 65 años de edad. En su juventud, fue atleta de la Universidad de Michigan, y en 1886 se ganó el campeonato mundial en la carrera de 100 yardas. Es miembro de la Comisión de Boxeo del Estado de Michigan.

Sospechoso que Niega Haber Cometido un Asesinato en 1903

Aunque faltan datos para hacer una identificación precisa, ayer a última hora se hicieron gestiones para entregarle a la policía de Deming (Nuevo Méjico) a Sam Rodgers, alias Carlos Martínez, sospechoso del asesinato cometido hace veinticinco años en la persona de Octaviana Ponce, hermana del individuo que procuró aquí la aprehensión de Rodgers. Este, negando categóricamente que sea él el hombre a quien buscan, renuncia, con todo, a luchar contra la extradición.

Declara Rodgers ser indio Cherokee, de Cotton City (Oklahoma), y haber vivido en las cercanías de Los Angeles y San Diego desde hace cuarenta y cinco años. Dice tener 62, y asegura no haber cometido nunca delito alguno.

La noche del jueves, a última hora, fue detenido Rodgers cerca de la esquina de las calles Main y Commercial, después de que Francisco Ponce hubo dicho a los tenientes detectives Buxton y Emery que reconocía en el detenido al individuo que asesinó a su hermana e hirió a su sobrina en 1903, en un rancho cercano a Deming. Manifestó Ponce que le llamó la atención la voz de Rodgers, y que luego, al observarle una cicatriz en la mejilla izquierda, se persuadió de que había dado con el hombre a quien buscaba desde hace veinticinco años.

Créese Haya Sido Secuestrada una Muchacha

Temeroso de que haya sido plagiada una nieta suya, Henry Poke, rico hombre de negocios retirado, de Sawtelle, ayudó ayer a la policía en las pesquisas que se hacen en todo el Estado por encontrar a Florence Poke, que así se llama la nieta, desaparecida desde el lunes. Tiene 19 años de edad.

Se le vió por última vez en una droguería de la esquina del bulevar de Glendale y San Fernando Road, a la 1 p.m. de ese día, según declara Poke. Había ido a esperar un tranvía para ir al centro. Había estado de visita en casa de una tía, y se dirigía a las tiendas de Los Angeles. El señor Poke sospecha que la muchacha haya aceptado la oferta de algún automovilista, y que éste se la llevara.

Vivía con su abuelo en Sawtelle, Dunn Drive, 3603. Pesa unas 130 libras, tiene 5 pies, tres pulgadas de estatura, ojos azul pálido, pelo claro; e iba vestida de verde claro, con medias color de carne, chinelas negras, sombrero con adornos de plata, boa de zorro blanco y reloj pulsera de platino.

RADIO FROLICS AT LATE HOURS

Fun Program Planned for Many Stations

Dance Music Features Will be Put on Ether

Widely Known Orchestras to be Broadcast

The radio frolickers who don't go home until morning on Saturday nights, if they go home at all, will be on the air again tonight, starting somewhere around midnight. Just how long they will remain in command of the ether waves is problematical, but they are certain to keep up the fun for two or three hours.

Charlie Wellman, "The Prince of Pep" of Don Lee's station, KHJ, and his merrymakers will head the list of frolickers who will chime in from KFI, KNX and KMTR in Los Angeles, KYA in San Francisco and KJR in Seattle.

To prepare the way for the frolic program KHJ will be on the air from 10 to 12 p.m., with Earl Burtnett's orchestra. At the same time KNX will be broadcasting tunes of Gus Arnheim's orchestra and KMTR will be on the air with Maurice Menge's dance band.

CHANGE IN TIME OF HOOVER'S TALK

Due to an eleventh-hour change in Herbert Hoover's speaking program at Elizabethton, Tenn., today, he will start his speech at 3 o'clock, Eastern Standard time, instead of later as had been planned, according to an Associated Press dispatch from Washington. As originally scheduled Mr. Hoover's speech was to have been broadcast locally by KFI from 6 to 6:30 p.m. Under the new arrangement the speech is expected here by radio at 12 o'clock noon.

The announcement from Washington states that twenty-four radio stations will carry the speech, but KFI is not included in the list. Following is a list of the stations said to be in the new hook-up:

ALABAMANS MULCTED

Authorities Report Large Sums Lost in Stock Swindle

BIRMINGHAM (Ala.) Oct. 5. (AP) Sale of asserted fake stock in two automobile manufacturing companies has cost people of Alabama "hundreds of thousands of dollars," it was revealed here today as police continued an investigation of a reported wholesale swindle, which is believed to extend to other cities of the South.

Arrest of two suspects yesterday was one of the first steps in the State-wide investigation under way, in which residents of Birmingham, Troy, Evergreen, Huntsville, Sheffield, Anniston and Florence, are said to be heavy investors.

The offices of the finance corporation here were closed yesterday.

"TAY PAY" GAY AT EIGHTY YEARS

many dollars from the pockets of Americans.

Last winter he visited New York to see old friends and the blaze and the blare, the breath-taking skyscraper elevators, drove him home. He announced that New York would never see him again.

"Tay Pay" received his first journalistic assignment sixty-one years ago and came to London in search of work in 1870—ten years before he was elected a Member of Parliament for Galway. He founded and was the first editor of the Star, the Sun, the Weekly Sun and T. P.'s Weekly. For a full generation of readers "The Book of the Week" in T. P.'s Weekly has been devoured by the masses. It is a new vein in book reviewing, quotations from the author spiced with his comments, remarks about himself, his views, his emotions, his early struggles, his lost fortunes.

One of the best known of "Tay Pay's" journalistic feats occurred on the death in 1914 of "Joe" Chamberlain, British statesman and the father of the present Foreign Secretary, Sir Austen Chamberlain. At 5 o'clock in the afternoon, the Daily Telegraph called up Mr. O'Connor at the House of Commons requesting a biography. Commons adjourned at 6; and at 6:30 O'Connor started his typewriter. He worked until 9:30 turning out 6000 words of a brilliant article and then turned up at a dinner.

KING EXTENDS HIS CONGRATULATIONS

LONDON, Oct. 5. (AP)—King George today sent this message to T. P. O'Connor:

"On this your eightieth birthday, I offer you my heartiest congratulations with the hope that you may long continue to enjoy your active and useful life."

HOOVER STARTS TOWARD DIXIE

ate train will be made tomorrow at 10:48 a.m., eastern standard time, when his train will spend ten minutes at Bristol, Va.,-Tenn. The second stop will be made at Childers, Tenn., where the party will leave the train to continue the journey to Elizabethton by automobile, arriving there at 11:40 o'clock.

The procession of automobiles will travel down the main street of the town to the hotel where the party will be luncheon guests of the Elizabethton Hoover-Curtis Club. No speeches will be made at the luncheon and the candidate will rest at the hotel until 2:30 p.m. when he will start for the fair grounds. There at 3 o'clock, eastern standard Time, he will deliver the speech which will be broadcast over a hook-up of twenty-four Southern, Eastern and Middle-Western radio stations.

His party will leave Elizabethton at 5:15 p.m. for the National Soldiers Home on the outskirts of Johnson City, where the nominee will make a short speech to the veterans there. He will proceed to Johnson City by automobile to be the guest of the Johnson City Chamber of Commerce at dinner, entraining for the return trip to Washington at 7:15 p.m. central standard time.

HOOVER LEAVES CAPITAL FOR COAST NOVEMBER 1 OR 2

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5. (Exclusive)—Herbert Hoover indicated today that he will leave Washington for Palo Alto with Mrs. Hoover and their son Allan either on November 1 or 2, and will make but one formal speech on the way West. That will be in St. Louis, as forecast in the Los Angeles Times several days ago. He then will proceed direct to his home and reach there on the afternoon of Monday, November 5. His last appeal to the voters of America will be a national hook-up from his home on the night before election.

Final details of his trip home will not be worked out till later in the month, and then may be changed at the last minute.

SEWER CZAR'S POWER CITED

ness, "and he said 'I'll see what I can do.'"

Two days later they quit making the pipe on the job.

Angelo Paino, red-faced and slightly defiant, testified he was one Queens contractor who wasn't afraid of "Jack" Phillips, but Paino buckled in the end and his story must be finally written as that of the contractor who defied the "King" once too often.

Considering the Phillips lock-joint pipe an expensive luxury, Paino testified he started making a pipe of his own. But he did not dare lay it without an officially approved laboratory test, and somehow he couldn't get this. Finally he, too, saw Phillips and they did a $1,200,000 business in the next five years. But Paino paid the stiffest prices of anyone for his pipe thereafter. Out of three jobs with a total contract price of $1,877,203 he paid to Phillips for pipe $533,496.

DENIAL GIVEN

"Didn't you offer another contractor $10,000 for a job?" asked the prosecutor.

Paino denied this.

"But you can pull a $10,000 bill out of your pocket at any time, can't you?"

"Sure," and Paino reached for it, but Max Steuer, attorney for Connolly, objected and the jury box regained its accustomed calm.

James Galloway, contractor, was the last witness today. This is the way he started:

"Did you use Phillips's pipe on any sewer job in Queens?" asked Buckner.

"I sure did," said the witness. "I used that pipe on every job and I had twenty-six contracts."

INSURGENT RAIDING PARTY TAKES TOWN

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 5. (AP)—The town of Cadereyta in the State of Quereta was held by insurgents for three and a half hours yesterday. They freed all prisoners in the jail and burned all court and municipal records in the street. Dispatches to the newspaper El Universal state that the raiders fled when Federal cavalry arrived.

CIVIL WARFARE FOR AUSTRIANS

ists on the other side in the afternoon.

The troops probably will be able to preserve order among the peacefully inclined Austrians, but what about the evening when the little groups of Heimwehr and Schultzbund men are returning home to isolated villages along the same roads without a military cordon between them? There is plenty for the government to worry about on that score.

Wiener-Neustadt and the surrounding area will know prohibition over Sunday. That is expected to help some.

Government officials here are inclined to emit forced laughs and state it is all quite simple, but Vienna is nervous. Tourists are giving up their reservations in the hotels along the Ringstrasse. Berths on outgoing trains cannot be had. A repercussion of whatever might happen at Wiener-Neustadt is feared in Vienna.

While the Socialists hold the whip hand in Vienna they are living in terror of the efficient, daring Heimwehr, which is led by Maj. Pabst, a sinister individual, who was one of the leaders in the Kapp putsch in Germany and who was implicated seriously in the murder of Rosa Luxemburg and Dr. Karl Liebknecht, Red agitators in Berlin in 1919.

Another complicating element is the Communists who, despite the government ban, are going 4000 strong to Wiener-Neustadt looking for trouble. It is remembered that they started shooting in the tragic riots of a year ago.

Byrd Praises 'Times' School of Aviation

"In inaugurating the first aviation school for boys in America the Los Angeles Times has pioneered a form of juvenile education that marks a new era in the further advancement of aeronautics."

This was the statement of Commander Richard E. Byrd, who arrived in Los Angeles yesterday before embarking in the whaler Larson for the Ross Sea, the last outpost on his Antarctic expedition. Commander Byrd had planned to visit The Times' school this morning, but illness prevented his acceptance of an invitation sent him by the 1000 students.

"Teaching boys the theoretical and practical fundamentals of aviation is a splendid work," said Commander Byrd, "and the youngsters who are now enthusiastically trying to study any kind of a contraption that will rise from the ground will find the primary and senior ground course of The Times a valuable handbook in later years. It is timely education and a movement that should be followed in every State in the Union."

ETIWANDA PAVING ASKED

The paving of Etiwanda avenue from Sherman Way to Hart street was asked of the City Council yesterday by W. G. Lauesen and other property owners, the pavement to be cement concrete, the paved roadway to be twenty feet wide with eight-foot oiled shoulders.

HEALTH ROW ENDS WITH RESIGNATION

Commissioner Spradling Quits and Mayor Appoints Fred L. Wilke to Post

The Health Officer Parrish-Health Commissioner Spradling fued ended yesterday when Spradling presented his resignation to Mayor Cryer. Shortly after its acceptance the Mayor appointed Fred L. Wilke, business man and financier, to the post. Commissioner Wilke is president of the Fred L. Wilke Company, a financial house and is associated with the Standard Mortgage Company. Confirmation of the appointment will come before the Council Monday.

Mayor Cryer notified the Council of Spradling's resignation and its acceptance, therefore no action by the Council was necessary on the executive's message announcing the removal. The Council informed Mayor Cryer he would be sustained in enforced action should it be necessary.

Councilmen Foster and Webster were anxious to avoid any hearing on the removal. Following Mayor Cryer's conference with members of the Council, Spradling, who was waiting in Councilman Foster's office, was told that the Council's majority was prepared to sustain the removal action.

Spradling, without further controversy, agreed to resign and his agreement was accepted promptly. Mayor Cryer said he twice requested Spradling to resign.

The new commissioner's home is at 6298 Warner Drive.

Hardest Task Faces Fighters of Gusher Fire

Good progress is being made in excavations at Santa Fe Springs in preparation for an attempt to extinguish the fire at the Getty gusher which has been aflame for nineteen days, officials in charge of the work announced yesterday.

Workmen now are employed in the hardest task in the preparations, the construction of the subterranean chamber, fifty feet beneath the flames, at the end of a tunnel 250-feet long. The cavern surrounds the casing and in the room, which is to be cemented as wartime "pill-boxes" were constructed, the workmen will attempt to tap the casing with especial engineering devices.

Progress in the construction of the underground room is impeded by earth cavings, occuring before the men are enabled to erect the shoring and underpinning.

GIGANTIC NAVY 'FIGHT' PLANNED

Entire Armada to Engage in Exercises Next Week

Eighty Surface Ships and 100 Planes Will be Used

Night Battle Firing Will be Practiced Later

A vivid picture of the complexity and vast scope of modern naval warfare will be presented off the coast next week by the battle fleet, when the entire armada combines in three days of tactical exercises and maneuvers, beginning Thursday evening. Every phase of fleet strategy and tactics will be employed in the problem in which eighty surface ships and more than 100 aircraft will be engaged simultaneously.

The battleship divisions and attendant forces, under Admiral William V. Pratt, commander-in-chief, will represent an invading fleet. During Thursday night a search will be made for this fleet by the destroyer squadrons, under Rear-Admiral Thomas J. Senn.

ATTACK TO FOLLOW

If the "enemy" is located during the night, on Friday morning the aircraft squadrons, commanded by Rear-Admiral Joseph M. Reeves, will make concerted attack on the battleships with fighters, "strafers," torpedo and bombing planes.

On Friday afternoon, Rear-Admiral Ridley McLean will launch a submarine attack on the dreadnaught squadron, while that night the battleships will again be harassed with a night torpedo attack by the destroyers. All forces will return to bases Saturday morning.

The maneuvers will mark the first combined tactical effort of the entire battle fleet since the large V-type submarines and new-model aircraft have joined the force.

FIRING SCHEDULED

Next week, the battleships will put to sea, after a fortnight in port, to rehearse and fire anti-aircraft practices, while for the remainder of October the squadron will operate in the Santa Rosa and Coronados areas for rehearsals and firing of night battle and battle torpedo practice.

Navy Day, on the 29th inst., will be celebrated this year at San Pedro, it was announced yesterday, as the demands of the year's intensive gunnery schedule will not permit the usual dispersion to various Coast ports. Armistice Day, November 11, will be fittingly observed, however, by all units.

TEACHER INJURED IN COLLISION

Crash Sends Mrs. Nichols of Los Angeles High School to Lutheran Hospital

Mrs. Della Nichols, 57 years of age, who for more than twenty years has been connected with the English department of Los Angeles High School, is at the California Lutheran Hospital in a serious condition as the result of injuries received yesterday when the automobile in which she was riding collided with one driven by Nels Pearson of 419 South Templeton street at Country Club Drive and Crenshaw Boulevard. She suffered possible basal skull fracture, fractured clevicle and two fractured ribs.

Mrs. Nichols, with her granddaughter, Barbara, 16, was riding with Miss Grace McPherron of 833 South Flower street, another of the school faculty, when the accident took place. The granddaughter, who is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. L. E. Nichols of Fontana, received a painful bruise on the head. She is living in this city with her grandmother at present. The injured persons were treated first at the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital.

When the light truck he was driving yesterday morning collided at Eighth street and Wilton Place with an automobile driven by H. B. Kuhn of 735 Towne avenue, Todashi Adachi, 30 years of age of 1028 South Fedora street, was almost instantly killed. He was taken to the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital and then his body was transferred to the County Morgue. Kuhn is being held on a charge of suspicion of manslaughter.

ABDUCTION OF MISSING GIRL FEARED

Wealthy Retired Business Man of Sawtelle Starts Hunt for Grand-daughter

Fearful that she has become the victim of kidnapers Henry Poke, wealthy retired business man of Sawtelle, late yesterday aided police in a State-wide search for his grand-daughter, Florence Poke, 19 years of age, who disappeared Monday.

FLORENCE POKE

The girl was seen last in a drug store at Glendale Boulevard and San Fernando Road at 1 p.m., according to Mr. Poke, where she had gone to wait for a street car into the city. She had been visiting with her aunt, Mrs. A. McCurdy, at 208 Eulalia street, Glendale, and intended to go shopping in Los Angeles. Mr. Poke stated he believes she may have accepted a ride from some motorist who kidnaped her.

Until she visited her aunt Miss Poke had been living with her grandfather at 3603 Dunn Drive, Sawtelle. She is described as being about 130 pounds in weight, five feet three inches tall, with light-blue eyes and sandy hair, and wearing a light-green dress, light-tan stockings, black pumps, silver-trimmed hat, white fox neck fur and a platinum wrist watch.

Shaw Urges New Rules on Traffic Fines

Councilman Shaw brought to the attention of the City Council yesterday the fact that many persons who have mailed traffic law violation fines to the Traffic Violations Bureau have been arrested, due to the loss of the money in the mail. The Councilman said that this situation, which causes unjust embarrassment to citizens, should be corrected. Shaw proposed an amendment to the traffic ordinance definitely permitting these fines to be paid by mail, providing the payments are made by money order or draft and inclosed in registered envelopes. The resolution was sent to City Prosecutor Lickley for recommendation and report.

MYRON T. HERRICK, Ambassador to France, arrived in Los Angeles from San Francisco as part of the general process, as he laughingly explained it, of "recharging his batteries."

In short, the tall diplomat said at the Western Air Express terminal as he alighted from an airplane, he is on a vacation and getting acquainted with his country again after eight years of hard work. And he anticipates more hard work immediately ahead, and wants to be in good trim to do the job properly. He was accompanied on the flight from the north by G. O. Noville, noted aviator who flew with Commander Byrd on the memorable flight over the North Pole. Noville is here merely on a visit and to chat with Byrd before the latter shoves off for his Antarctic expedition.

For a good rest and recuperation Mr. Herrick recommends traveling across one's own country. It has been eight years since he was out on the coast, having made a trip to Honolulu in 1920. He did not desire to discuss business or treaties or "situations," of any kind and directed most of his comment to quips aimed at the photographers. He chided them about taking so many pictures, reeling off the film and producing so few pictures.

Pausing in Los Angeles only long enough to change planes, Mr. Herrick flew down to San Diego for a visit with his sister, Mrs. A. B. Smith of that city. He expects to be back in his Ohio home in time to vote at the election.

Invalid Will Aid in Drive of Veterans

Adrian Dennis Brady, World War veteran who has been bedridden since he suffered an accident four years ago, has been designated by his comrades of Highland Park Post, No. 206, American Legion, to receive telephone orders for the post collectors to call at homes and gather old newspapers and magazines. The post is raising funds by this method for its new clubhouse, and to date has collected and sold 700,000 pounds of old paper.

The post has placed a telephone at Brady's bedside and he will receive names and addresses of homes where old newspapers and magazines can be obtained. His telephone is GArfield 3690.

'GET OUT VOTE' PLANS FORMED

Development Council Ready to Push Campaign

Session Decides on Rally to Increase Interest

Many Other Topics Taken Up at Conference

Enlistment of efforts of every civic and commercial organization in Southern California to "get out the vote" on November 6 will be undertaken by the Southern California regional advisory council of the California Development Association, it was decided yesterday at its bimonthly meeting at the Alexandria.

The action was taken on recommendation of the publicity committee following a report that California ranked thirty-second in the United States in 1924 in proportion to the percentage of eligible votes cast and that this standing was increased through efforts of the organization in 1926 to twenty-first place.

A 1000-plate patriotic rally dinner will be the outstanding feature of the vote-getting campaign. The dinner will be held here the night of November 1. Plans for the rally will be made at a meeting of members of the association the 11th inst. at 7:45 p.m. at the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce. Representatives of every city and community in Southern California are expected.

POLL-TAX PLAN

In carrying out its "better-citizenship" policy, the publicity committee also announced to the meeting its intention to recommend at the next gathering in December that the State organization initiate a campaign for the adoption of a poll-tax system, creating a penalty for nonexercise of the franchise.

The council sessions opened at 7:30 a.m. with a meeting of the executive committee and was continued throughout the morning with meetings of the various committees. The general council convened at noon for luncheon which was followed by reports of committee chairmen.

Emphasis of the importance of Southern California having a good representation at the annual meeting of councils and committees at San Francisco the 18th and 19th inst., was stressed by Norman Sloane, general manager of the association.

ONE REPORT BEATEN

All committee reports were adopted unanimously by the council with the exception of that of the conservation commission which recommended the withdrawal of support for the $6,000,000 park bond issue to be voted on at the general election. The motion was tabled.

Full support is to be given to the $1,000,000 Olympic bond issue to be used to assist Los Angeles in the 1932 Olympic Games and appeals for votes on this measure, which will be on the November ballot, are to be made throughout the State by the association.

A campaign against the failure of motorists to adjust headlights properly is to be made this month by the safety committe of the council, it was reported by J. L. Steinberger, committee chairman.

OTHER MEASURES

A reminder that the State association has indorsed the measure reducing stockholders' liability in State corporations and that every vote should be registered for the act was made by A. E. Holloway of San Diego, industrial committee chairman. The committee also stated that action is to be taken to induce the Goodyear Rubber Company to locate a plant in Southern California for the manufacture of two Navy dirigibles.

Opposition to the anti-rodeo bill was voiced by the agriculture committee under A. C. Hardison, chairman, when it was stated that passage of the measure would make frequent lawbreakers of all farmers and work a hardship on races, polo and the motion-picture industry.

Appointment of all airport managers in the State as special peace officers with authority to enforce air ordinances was recommended by the aeronautical committee through Maj. T. C. Macauley, chairman.

The State association was requested by Wallace S. Woodworth of Pasadena, highway committee chairman, to sponsor a plan to organize planning commissions in every county. He stated that Los Angeles county's planning commission has saved millions of dollars. A survey of secondary highways in the State is to be requested from the

by Harry Carr

EDITOR of two Japanese newspapers with a combined circulation of about 2,000,000, Shingoro Takaishi must be regarded as one of the most influential men in the world.

The sanity and friendliness of the views he expressed toward this country during his visit to Los Angeles are a good harbinger of peace in the Pacific.

We can safely leave Europe wallowing in its gangrened hatreds; turn westward and see to it that no similar hatreds start between us and our neighbors of the Far East.

THE WORLD LANGUAGE

Mr. Takaishi told the reporters here that the English language is now a compulsory study in all Japanese public schools.

This is significant: English is rapidly replacing French as the international language. This is partly due to the predominant influence of America in world affairs; partly due to the fact that English exactly expresses the mood of the modern world. It is sharp, direct, simple; yet singularly elastic.

Incidentally, a common tongue is the best possible equipment for the peace dove.

BOXING

I don't know whether it is intended as a compliment or a knock, but the propaganda literature against boxing quotes liberally—prodigally—from this column.

As a matter of justice and fair play I think it right to say that the proponents of the antiboxing bill had no right to do this.

I have been very close to this sport for many years. It can be either a very rotten stench, or a harmless entertainment. As a sport, it has the indorsement of the Navy and Army. It is harmful or not according to the men who run it. There are sections of this country where it is in the hands of dirty gamblers. In California it is regulated on a high plane. The Boxing Commission is headed by James Woods of the Biltmore; one boxing pavilion is owned by business men who are behind the Los Angeles Athletic Club; the other is owned by the American Legion.

The two clubs are managed by Jack Doyle and Tom Gallery—both men of business standing and unimpeachable personal integrity. Never in the history of boxing has the sport been on such a firm and decent foundation.

CONQUEST OF NATURE

"Man's Conquest of Nature" once in a while gets a retort from Mother Nature—as in the case of this Santa Fe Springs oil well. The old lady is not to be broken like a fractious colt.

Twice in the history of shipping, vessels have been launched with the blatant announcement that they were too big and powerful to be in danger from storms and perils. Both sank on their first voyages—the Great Eastern and the Titanic.

SLAUGHTER

Some of the most interesting motion pictures that ever have been made are those showing African wild animals.

Out of the number, however, some have been marred by the senseless slaughter shown on the screen. I saw one a week or so ago in which one of the few specimens of the white rhinoceros in the world was killed in front of the camera. I couldn't help thinking how much better the

PAPERS SURPRISE VISITOR

Japanese Editor Compares Size of Publications Here With Those in His Native Land

The size of American newspapers is one of the most notable things about them in the eyes of a Japanese editor. Shingoro Takaishi, editor-in-chief of Osaka Mainichi, yesterday stated that in contrast with the papers of his own country the size of publications in the United States is exceptional.

"Of course," he said, "the size of your dailies is governed by the amount of advertising you carry, and of course, the volume of advertising again is the sign of prosperity of the paper and the community in which it is published. Apparently, Southern California is a prosperous, happy and energetic part of the world, as its papers are undoubtedly to be ranked with the world's greatest in their influence and prosperity.

CONTRAST IN ADVERTISING

"Our advertising, as compared with the enormous displays of your department stores, is in marked contrast. We have little of the advertising that is so prominent in your papers—that for women's wear and similar things. Ours is advertising chiefly for books, toilet articles, current functions, automobiles, furnishings and not so great in proportion in the matter of fashions and modes."

The visiting editor was guest of honor yesterday at the Biltmore at a luncheon given by Consul Midsusawa, for the Japanese government here. With him as honored guest was his chief editorial writer, S. Akasaka. Prominent Japanese newspaper men and S. Takaoka, the Vice-Consul, also were

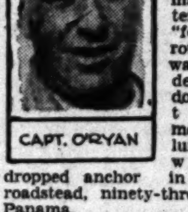
RELIC'S SKIPPER CHEATS DOOM

Four-Masted Schooner Brought Smartly Into Port by Paddy O'Ryan After Ninety-three-Day Battle With Cruel and Capricious Sea

Sailors who gave up the four-masted schooner William H. Harriman as lost when she was two months overdue at Los Angeles Harbor from Boston did not reckon on veteran Capt. Patrick O'Ryan being in command. But yesterday the large "fore-and-after" rounded Breakwater Light under full sail, dodged adroitly the myriad men-of-war, luffed up in the wind and dropped anchor in the crowded roadstead, ninety-three days from Panama.



CAPT. O'RYAN

"Paddy O'Ryan must be on her poop," said a grizzled port pilot as he watched that bit of seamanship. "It's been fifteen years since windjammers made them flying moorings."

The famous Irish skipper was aboard and in his cabin later he said it was the toughest voyage of his varied career.

"We left Balboa on July 2 and were twenty-five days in getting out of the Bay of Panama," Capt. O'Ryan recounted. "Then we drifted almost to the equator, spent another month in working out of the doldrums and beat out in midocean to 139 west longitude before we got the nor'wester that brought us home.

California Trade Will be Advanced When Liner City of Los Angeles Starts Trip South

California's greatest gesture of good-will and trade development toward the Southern Americas will be made from the harbor this afternoon, when the Lassco flagship City of Los Angeles sails on a sixty-four-day cruise in circumnavigation of Central and South America. Every commercial area in the nation will have its special representative among the liner's 236 passengers.

Twenty ports and cities will be visited en route, and the City of Los Angeles will carry the message of the Southwest Empire more than 16,000 miles before she comes home on December 9. The Queen of the Pacific this morning gleams like a new yacht, $75,000 having been expended in preparing her for the pathfinding tour, sponsored by The Times and the Los Angeles Steamship Company.

OPPORTUNITY SEEN

Unusual government approval was given the enterprise when the Department of Commerce ordered Spencer B. HARDY CHARGES DRAWN BY BAR

Superior Court to be Asked to Discipline Jurist

Papers Sent Chairman to Affix Signature

Judge's Counsel Undecided as to Next Move

A petition asking the Superior Court to adjudge Superior Judge Hardy guilty of contempt for his refusal to testify last Saturday at the State Bar investigation into his acceptance of a $2500 check from Aimee Semple McPherson and her mother, Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, was prepared yesterday by Special Bar Examiners Victor E. Shaw and Kenyon F. Lee.

Last night the petition was forwarded to San Diego for the signature of Eugene Daney, chairman of the special bar committee in charge of the inquiry. As soon as it is signed and returned it will be filed in Superior Court unless the judge volunteers to appear and testify or his attorneys take some court action to block the proceedings, according to the examiners.

REQUEST IGNORED

Prior to preparing the petition the special examiners asked Judge Hardy's attorneys to let them know early in the afternoon whether the judge would voluntarily submit himself to the investigation. No answer having been received late in the afternoon, the papers were prepared and mailed, according to Examiner Lee.

When informed of the examiners' action last night, Rex V. Hardy, the judge's son and one of his legal counsel, stated that he and his associates have not yet decided what their position or next move will be.

DEFER CONFERENCE

"We will be unable to hold a conference until Monday and our next step will not be decided upon until then," he said. "We have not changed our belief that the bar has no authority to investigate the conduct of Judge Hardy or have him adjudged guilty of contempt for refusing to testify, but we do not know what we will do.

"There are only three courses of action left open to us, it appears, and we are considering them all. They are: Judge Hardy may voluntarily testify; we may wait until the bar examiners file contempt proceedings in Superior Court and then ask the Appellate Court or the State Supreme Court to restrain them, or we may fight the contempt charges when they are filed in Superior Court."

HARDY BALKS

The bar inquiry opened last Saturday after Judge Hardy had informed Daney that he would testify to all the facts. After submitting a voluntary statement admitting acceptance of the check as a "good-will offering" and denying any wrongdoing on his part, he refused to be sworn and testify or submit to cross-examination.

His refusal was based on the advice of his attorneys that the bar lacks jurisdiction to conduct the investigation. The contempt proceedings were then ordered by the committee chairman and the judge's attorneys asked the Appellate Court to issue a writ of prohibition restraining the bar examiners from proceeding with the investigation. The writ was denied Thursday, last.

FOREST FIRES

Enactment of legislation empowering counties and municipalities to contract for co-operation in fighting forest fires was recommended by the conservation committee. The committee also plans to bring pressure on Gen. Lord, director of the United States budget, to approve an increase in the appropriation of funds for use in regional forest influence study.

A short talk on the State tax situation was made at the close of the council meeting by M. D. Lack, vice-chairman of the California Taxpayers' Association.

The council meeting was presided over by Dr. T. C. Young of Glendale, regional director.

Chest Campaign Committee Set 'Big Giver' Quota

Stuart O'Melveny, president of the Title Insurance and Trust Company and vice-chairman of Committee No. 12, Central Division, 1928 Community Chest Campaign, which is soliciting "big givers," met with the ten members of his committee at a luncheon yesterday at which the committee's quota was announced, a total of $74,085 being set.

Solicitation of the subscribers assigned to this committee will begin at once, with the effort being made to complete the work by November 1.

Mr. O'Melveny is to obtain a quota of $48,000 from a list of individuals who are expected to contribute $1000 or more each. The ten committee men have been set a quota of $26,085, and will solicit contributors expected to give in amounts of from $100 to $1000.

The ten committee men serving with O'Melveny are: W. N. Bucklin, Arden L. Day, Richard S. Davis, Spencer Thorpe, James A. Gibson, Jr., Henry O. Wheeler, Alfred Wright, J. C. MacFarland, John O'Melveny, Paul D. Bucklin.

Air, water and rail transportation were discussed by authorities in each field at a luncheon gathering of Sigma Beta Chi, national transportation fraternity, in the Student Union of the University of Southern California, yesterday. When he baked his millionth ice cream cone yesterday, Jack Halstein, veteran concessionaire of the amusement zone at Venice, celebrated a unique anniversary. He has been baking cones ever since the late Abbot Kinney founded Venice.

Jack estimates that his crispy cones, placed end to end, would stretch across the continent to Coney Island and back to Conestoga, Pa. He declares that the combined smacking of lips over his delicious cones, united in a mammoth chorus, would make a smack loud enough to wreck all the "talkie" recording machines in Hollywood and Culver City.

In yesterday's anniversary, celebrated with an ice cream cone banquet which drew throngs of brother concessionaires and friends to his booth, Jack also commemorated the sale of 4,500,000 cones purchased from his contemporaries when business was so brisk his own cone factory wouldn't produce fast enough to keep up with the appetites. Installation of the latest in cone-baking equipment, however, has relieved the danger of any future shortage.

The luncheon was informal in tone, and discussion was centered chiefly in the shop talk that rises whenever newspaper men meet. Among other things, the visitors pointed out, sports hold as great a place in the public news-eye in Japan as in this country. The Mainichi, it was said, carries 3000 or 4000 words daily by cable during world series, and prints play-by-play accounts of the games with complete box scores. Baseball, they said, is truly the national game of Japan, with tennis and golf, particularly the former, growing in popularity every day.

The two visitors will leave today for San Francisco, where they will remain for a short time.

JOBS FOR JAIL BIRDS

Getting jobs for prisoners released from jail is a work of such enlightened value that you forgive the Sheriff's office for losing a few of them now and then in the jail.

At the Whittier State School, they have found out that the one sure and practical measure of prison reform is to put a boy in a job that appeals to him. For instance, there was one seemingly hopeless incorrigible who was turned into a good, faithful, hard-working boy by letting him drive a big five-ton auto truck. It exactly satisfied the longing for adventure that had driven him to crime.

CONVENTION TO BE BID BY LEGION

Veterans Ride on Special Train to San Antonio for Session There

One of the longest special trains to operate from California this year left here yesterday morning on the Southern Pacific bearing 250 officials and members of American Legion posts in this section to San Antonio for the annual Legion convention which begins Monday.

Before their departure the local Legionnaires were joined by San Francisco delegates who had arrived earlier in the morning on three special cars of the Sunset Limited.

The local delegation is headed by State Commander Frank Belgrano. The State championship drum and bugle corps of South Pasadena and the corps of Los Angeles and Catalina accompanied the delegation and will assist in the compaign to bring the 1930 convention to Los Angeles.

Assuring the World War veterans who left yesterday that Los Angeles would make Southern California the best place possible for holding a Legion convention, Supervisor Bean handed Philip H. Dodson, past State commander, an official invitation from the Board of Supervisors.

Dodson stated that he and the California contingency will bring Los Angeles to the front in the sessions of the convention at San Antonio and felt sure that they will bring back the convention of 1930 to Los Angeles.

Action Against Actress Shifted

By an order of Superior Judge McComb the suit of Louis O. MacLoon, theatrical producer, against Jane Cowl, actress, was transferred yesterday from the Superior Court to the United States District Court. MacLoon is suing for recovery of $4375, said to be the balance due on a loan of $10,000, asserted to have been made to the actress April 28, 1925, together with interest at 7 per cent from June, 1927.

The suit was filed in the Federal Court because Jane Cowl is a citizen of New York and MacLoon of California.

Scores of Pacific Coast manufacturers, export concerns and other commercial interests likewise are sending special trade representatives.

The City of Los Angeles will be in command of the veteran Pacific mariner, Capt. Fred I. Hamma, commodore of the Lassco fleet; while direction of the cruise will be in equally capable hands—those of Charles C. Ilgard, conductor of eleven previous cruises through the Latin Americas and also director of the around-the-world cruises of the Hamburg-American Line.

OTHERS ON TOUR

Rev. Harold H. Kelley, "sea-going pastor," will be chaplain on the voyage, while the hostess will be Mrs. Merle C. Sproull, formerly hostess of the Royal Hawaiian and Moana hotels, at Waikiki, Hawaii.

Ralph J. Chandler, vice-president and general manager of Lassco, will superintend progress of the cruise, while there also will be aboard other members of the company's operating staff.

Sailing today at 4 p.m., the City of Los Angeles will proceed direct to Callao, principal port of Peru, and thence to Valparaiso. From the Chilean port the liner will steam southward and through the Straits of Magellan to stop at Punta Arenas, southernmost port on the American continent. Up the east coast she will visit Montevideo, Rio de Janeiro, Santos, La Guayra, Port au Spain, the Panama Canal, La Libertad, San Jose de Guatemala, Mazatlan, and then home on December 9.

RODEO BILL OPPOSED BY RICHARDSON

Former Governor Goes on Record for Defeat of Proposition No. 21

Stating that the Penal Code of California amply provides for the protection of animals against cruelty, and that Initiative No. 21 is unnecessary and confusing to existing laws, Friend W. Richardson, former Governor of California and president of the California Press Association, today went on record as opposing the measure.

Richardson's letter, addressed to Fred Weybret, Salinas publisher and member of the executive committee of the California Newspaper Publishers' Association, said:

"I have attended a number of rodeos or horse shows in various California cities and was pleased with the parades of beautiful horses and thrilled at the excellent horsemanship. I took my young son with me on several occasions and surely would not have done so the second time had there been any display of cruelty. Section 597 of the Penal Code seems ample to prevent cruelty at other places. Your society would, I am sure, put on a high-class humane show, even if there were no inhibitions in the California code."

In a letter being sent to the hotels of California by John F. Shea, secretary of the California Northern Hotel Men's Association, stating that the executive committee had unanimously voted to oppose Initiative No. 21, he said:

"This measure, if carried, would abolish rodeos, and eventually fairs, horse shows, historical celebrations, polo, etc., would meet the same fate. Hotel business and also other lines of business share in promoting these attractions and should endeavor to defeat Initiative Measure No. 21."

JULIAN PETITION GIVEN APPROVAL

Foreclosure Proceedings Sanctioned

Order Marks First Step in Reorganization

Receivers Have 84 Per Cent Authorization

As the first step looking toward the formal reorganization of the Julian Petroleum Corporation United States District Judge McCormick yesterday approved the petition of the receivers of the company to begin foreclosure proceedings against the Julian properties.

It was said that the proceedings probably will require about three months of work on the part of Receivers H. L. Carnahan and Joseph Scott.

Following the foreclosures the property of the Julian company is expected to be transferred to the Sunset Pacific Oil Company, and holders of stock in the Julian company will receive stock in the Sunset company.

The receivers reported to the court that 84 per cent of the stockholders of the Julian company, whether holding valid or invalid stock, have approved the reorganization plan of the receivers, and that other assents are being received daily by mail.

The receivers reported that since taking over the Julian company they have acquired fifty-six new oil leases in the Southern California district.

BYRD ARRIVES ILL FROM COLD

temperature on the under side of the world is estimated to be about 25 deg. lower than in the Arctics.

TWO SHIPS ON WAY

The two mother ships of the expedition are on their way south now. The City of New York, formerly the Samson, steel ice-breaker, is now off Galapagos with thirty-two men. She is a combined sailor and steamer. The Eleanor Bowling, named after Byrd's mother, is approaching Panama. These will be the two base ships.

In addition to this there are a couple of whalers on their way south with dog teams, sledges and men. These whalers are giving "courtesy" service and are not part of the expedition proper. All of the ships will meet at New Zealand, where the final preparations will be made and the expedition gotten under way. The two ships after pushing as far south into the ice fields as possible, will be sent back before the sea freezes for the winter, as it is not thought possible for any ship to withstand the crushing effect of the southern ice fields. They will leave the expedition's base camp established and will return the following season.

OTHERS IN PARTY

Commander Byrd plans to leave Los Angeles Harbor on the Larsen as soon as that ship can take on a cargo of fuel oil. She is expected in port Monday and will require about twenty-four hours to take on her cargo.

Among those who arrived in Los Angeles in Commander Byrd's party, besides Mrs. Byrd, were: R. G. Brophy, business manager; C. E. Lofgren, his secretary; Thomas B. Mulrey, chief engineer; Russell Owen, correspondent for the Los Angeles Times and the New York Times, who will accompany the expedition at all times, and William Vandeever, photographer.

Upon his arrival in the city Byrd was pleasantly surprised to be met by G. O. Noville, noted aviator, who accompanied him on his flight over the North Pole. Others who were at the train included Charles Cook, representing the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce; Capt. A. H. Woodbine of the Naval Reserve, and Capt. A. N. Parker of the Marine Corps, who will be one of the pilots on the expedition.

A squadron of airplanes from March Field met the train and escorted it as far as Riverside, a courtesy extended by Maj. M. F. Harmon of March Field.

CITY POWER BUREAU HAS INCOME GAIN

Gross Earnings in Fiscal Year of $13,558,049 Made Despite Loss of Plant

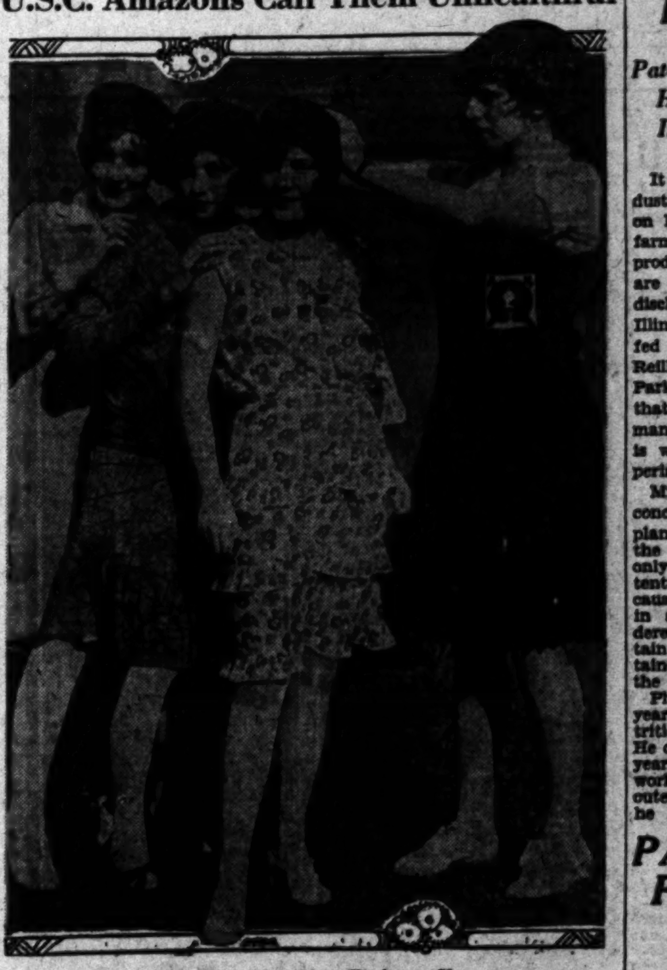
Gross earning of the Municipal Bureau of Power and Light in the last fiscal year were $13,558,049.44, according to the report on the audit of the bureau's books by Price, Waterhouse & Co., filed with the Board of Water and Power Commissioners yesterday. The earnings show a gain in round figures of $900,000 over the preceding year, in spite of the fact that early in the year a reduction in electric rates was put into effect, applying principally to householders, and also that a heavy loss of revenue was caused through destruction by the St. Francis Dam flood of power plant No. 2 in San Francisquito Canyon.

The report shows that the operating and power purchase expenses were $7,023,274.13 for the year, and bond interest payments and depreciation of plant and other expenses $3,473,046.40, leaving a net income of $3,061,728.91.

The bureau therefore, after reducing its rates and taking care of all power bonds, taking up a loss of $929,870.65 by destruction of power plant No. 2, as shown by the auditors' report, another loss estimated at $500,000 paid for electric energy purchased while plant No. 2 was out of commission, and spending $274,806.67 for what the report terms the extraordinary expenses of guarding the Owens River Aqueduct against dynamiters, still has made a gain of $900,000 in gross earnings, and net earnings of more than $3,000,000.

CO-EDS' ROOTING CAPS BANNED

U.S.C. Amazons Call Them Unhealthful



Girls Hate to Give Turbans Up

There will be no rooting caps on the heads of University of Southern California co-eds at the Trojan-Oregon State football game in the Coliseum this afternoon.

Not because most of the co-eds don't want to wear the cardinal and gold turbans, but rather due to an edict banning the hats by the Trojan Amazons, women student body tradition enforcers.

Meanwhile a fresh consignment of the co-ed caps rests in the basement of the Student Union store, never to grace the curls of the fair rooters.

What to do with the hats has presented a problem to student business managers, for the Amazon word on the S. C. campus is law.

Blondes cannot wear the hats because of the colors, say the Amazons. And furthermore the cut of the turbans is unbecoming to the feminine rooters, they are too tight, they cause headaches, and make the girls look too young.

Despite these reasons, many of the collegiennes are clamoring for a chance to rival the men in the Trojan rooting section, but the Amazons have shown no sign of weakening.

Manufacturer From Australia Here on Tour

Motion-picture studios will be under observation from an industrial point of view today by H. Goldman, millionaire furniture manufacturer of Melbourne, Australia, who arrived here yesterday en route home on a 'round-the-world tour.

Mr. Goldman presented Mayor Cryer with a letter from the Lord Mayor of Melbourne yesterday.

Forest conservation, educational methods, as well as industrial phases of American activities, have been observed in Mr. Goldman's tour of the country. He and Mrs. Goldman are stopping with friends, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Millhauser, 819 Fifth avenue, formerly of Australia.

The Goldmans will leave on the 9th inst. for Vancouver, where they will board a steamer for Melbourne. They expect to arrive home by November 15, next.

State Commission Plans Trip Along Malibu Coast

Need for Public Areas at Seaside to Be Shown

Importance of Bond Issue's Passage Stressed

A trip along the Malibu coast, arranged for the State Park Commission by Hugh Pomeroy of the Regional Planning Commission, is scheduled for the 15th inst., as a part of the program of investigation of sites for State parks.

Henry O'Melveny and Maj. Frederick R. Burnham, local members of the commission, and Frederick Law Olmsted, the commission's technical adviser, will accompany the

ISSUE MUST CARRY

The purpose of the trip is to demonstrate the need of acquiring extensive beach property to be developed into a State park. This acquisition is contingent, Maj. Burnham pointed out, upon the success of the $6,000,000 State park bond issue, No. 4 on the November 6 ballot. If the bonds carry, the State will benefit by a $12,000,000 park program, as private and local contributions are required in equal amounts to the State expenditures.

Maj. Burnham yesterday challenged the argument that the State will not be of direct financial benefit to the State.

VALUES STABILIZED

"In addition," he said, "to the millions of dollars which tourists will bring into California because of the parks, they are of immediate assistance to the communities near them. They are a sure stabilizer and creator of values. It would be hard to estimate the value of Pershing Square or Griffith Park at the present time. When parks are established they attract people to them, both as visitors and as permanent residents in the vicinity. The tremendous increase in property values and the consequent rise in assessed valuation will more than surpass the cost of the parks.

"As an example of this, imagine the roar of disapproval which would arise if some one proposed filling up the lake in Westlake Park and subdividing the property into business lots, or turning Yosemite Park or the Redwood Park in Santa Cruz county over to lumbering concerns."

JUDGMENT TAKEN BY CREDITOR OF JULIAN

C. C. Julian was ordered to pay $648.15 to Harry W. Brooks yesterday by Municipal Judge Thompson. Brooks declared that a note for $600 was issued to him by Julian July 15, 1926, and never paid. Attorney's fees of $48.15 were included in the judgment by Judge Thompson.

LEWIS TRIAL DATA GROW

More Documents to be Introduced in Oil Case; Books and Letters Identified on Stand

With the courtroom of United States District Judge Henning already stacked with records, books and documents, Dep. U. S. Attys. Peterson and Armstrong said last night that additional documents will be presented to the court today in the trial of S. C. Lewis, former head of the Lewis Oil Corporation; Jacob Berman, alias Jack Bennett; and C. O. Steppe, all charged with using the mails to defraud.

It is charged by the government that the three obtained nearly $1,000,000 in the promotion of the Lewis company, and that the mails were misused in the project.

L. E. Rader, formerly auditor of the Lewis company, completed his testimony yesterday by the identification of 270 documents and books of the company, all of which were introduced into evidence. He was followed by A. Swanson, formerly secretary-treasurer of the company, who identified many letters written to him by Lewis, his replies and other papers relating to the affairs of the company. One letter was from Lewis to a Portland bank, authorizing Berman, known as Bennett, to check against the Lewis company.

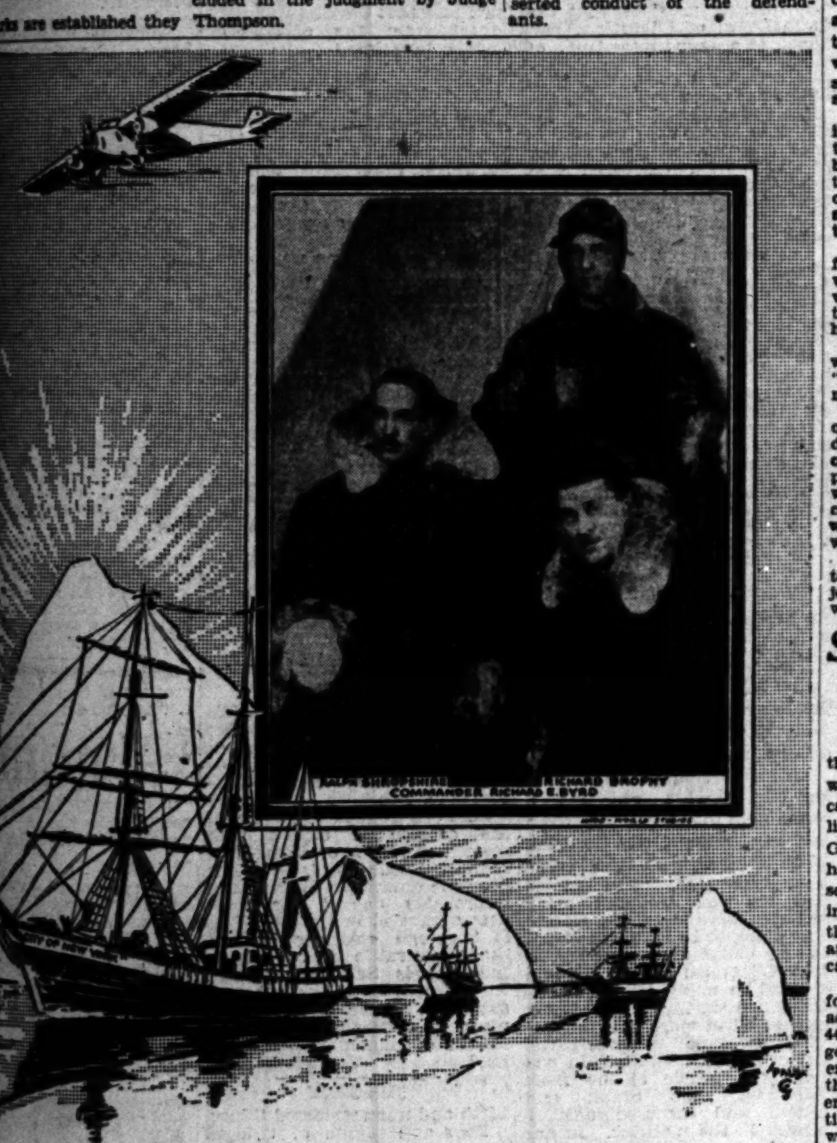
Government counsel introduced Federal income-tax returns of the Lewis company for the year ending March 31, 1924, to show that the corporation sustained a loss of $378,358.59 during that period, whereas salesmen of the company were said to be asserting that the company was on a sound financial basis at the time.

Lewis, acting as his own attorney, asserted that none of the defendants attested the returns. The case will be resumed on Tuesday.

Spiritualists Sued for Loss of Wife's Love

Charging his wife's love was alienated through the asserted activities of a group of spiritualists, M. L. Oliver yesterday filed suit in Superior Court for $25,000 damages against Mrs. Mary A. West-Reinhardt, C. E. Reinhardt, P. C. Grimm and Charles Thomas Carr.

According to Oliver, his wife began attending the meeting of the defendants and finally became under their control to such an extent that she lost all interest in him. Oliver states his wife became secretive, imaginative and suspicious of him and that she eventually became a divine healer for the spiritualist group. He said he effected two reconciliations with her, only to lose her again because of the asserted conduct of the defendants.



Byrd Expedition Takes Brookfield Butter!

Commander Richard E. Byrd knows the value of good food as a builder of strength and morale. His staunch steamships, the City of New York and the Chelsea, bound for the South Pole are carrying many products of Swift & Company.

Brookfield Butter, creamery fresh, is part of the precious cargoes—a sufficient supply for the band of hardy scientists and the crew during their long sojourn in the Antarctic.

Other Swift & Company products that will add pleasure to the meals aboard ship and on the icy wastes are:

Premium Frankfurts Pork Loins
Calf Liver Ox Tails Pigs Feet
"Golden West" Fowl Turkeys

Brookfield Butter is made in selected dairy regions and delivered to all parts of this country by quickest routes possible—fresh from the churn!

Thus the producer is furnished a daily cash market for his butterfat and the Swift nation-wide system of distribution assures consumers everywhere of fine creamery fresh Brookfield Butter as well as other Swift food products.

DOWNTOWN WATERLESS IN MORNING

Reservoir Outlet Tower Balks and Many Forced to Start Day Unwashed

Without warning the water supply of the business section of Los Angeles, which includes many hotels, apartments and residences, was completely cut off yesterday at 7:45 a.m. when the automatic outlet tower in the Silver Lake reservoir went out of commission temporarily, so that the outlet was above the surface of the lake.

City water-department employees in a motorboat sought to push the tower down into the water again, but without success. For an hour the mains had no water. At 8:45 o'clock the water was turned on again from the Ivanhoe reservoir in the northern part of the lake.

W. W. Hurlburt, office engineer for the water department, said it was the first time the outlet tower, which works so that water may be taken from any stratum in the lake, had failed to operate.

"So many faucets were left open when the water stopped," he said, "that it took several hours for the mains to fill again."

All morning yesterday thousands of calls were sent in to the water department and other points to find out what was the matter. Many persons started the day's duties unwashed and unshaved. Where faucets were left open and unattended when the water came on again there were incipient floods.

Repairs to the Silver Lake outlet tower are expected to be a difficult job without lowering the level of the water.

Suspect Seized After Car Crash

When the police checked up on the license plates of an automobile whose driver disappeared after his car had been overturned in a collision last evening at Pico and Georgia streets, they found out why he was in such a hurry to leave the scene without stopping to have his injuries dressed. The police found that the plates had been issued for another make of car, which indicated that they had been stolen.

In the back of the car they found a suitcase with some letters addressed to Charles A. Uvaas at 445 Greenleaf street, Whittier. They got on his trail and found him several hours later under a bed at the home of a friend at 1724 Eleventh street, Santa Monica. Detective Lieutenants Kirk and Thomas, who made the arrest, said they believe Uvaas stole the car in Aberdeen, S. D., several months ago and stole the California license plates which were found on it. Uvaas is being held on suspicion of grand theft.

GEORGE BEBAN GETS LAST CUE

Actor of Stage and Screen Succumbs in Hospital

Complications Due to Injury in Accident Blamed

Funeral Plans Await Arrival of Son and Sister

George Beban, actor and producer, best known for his homely and kindly Italian characterizations, died yesterday during the early morning hours at the California Lutheran Hospital as a result of complications which developed after he was injured by a horse last Saturday.

The actor had gone to the June Lodge dude ranch near Big Pine for a short vacation. Saturday afternoon he went horseback riding, and when he returned to the ranch he dismounted to open a gate. As he attempted to remount, and with one foot in the stirrup, the horse became unruly and reared and plunged wildly. Wheeling suddenly he kicked Beban in the right leg and threw him to the ground.

A fracture resulted from the accident and it was set by doctors summoned to the ranch, after which Beban was taken back to Los Angeles. According to his physician, Dr. S. M. Alter, he had been treating Beban for some time past for uremia and after examining the actor on Monday when he reached the hospital, he found that condition greatly aggravated.

SON SUMMONED

The doctor said he realized at once that the patient's condition was hopeless and Beban's 11-year-old son George, Jr., who has been in school in the East, and his sister, Mrs. Matt Smith of New York, were sent for at once. Beban never regained consciousness after reaching the hospital. With him when he died were Dr. Alter, Dr. A. L. Josephs, his secretary, Miss A. Aubrey, and a brother, Lewis Beban of San Francisco.

Funeral arrangements are being withheld pending arrival of the actor's sister and son from New York Monday. Meanwhile the body is at the Reed Funeral Parlors, 721 West Washington street.

Beban was a native son of the Golden State, having been born in San Francisco in 1873. When but 8 years of age he began his stage career, singing in the Reed and Emerson Minstrels in San Francisco. Following that he played juvenile roles with a stock company in the old California Theater there.

GREATEST TRIUMPH

Later he took part in a number of musical comedies and was with Weber and Fields and Marie Cahill for several seasons. He starred in "The American Idea" and shortly after that there followed a long period when he starred in a vaudeville sketch called "The Sign of the Rose." This is generally considered his most outstanding characterization and his portrayal of the leading role covered a period of about six years, during which time the piece grew from a vaudeville act into a full-length play and finally into a combination motion picture a warm welcome for his friends and and spoken drama.

Beban retired from the screen two years ago after the death of his wife, Edith McBride Beban, in New York City. During his motion-picture career he had amassed a considerable fortune and only recently had built an elaborate home in the hills of Palisades del Rey.

Some of the films in which he had played leading roles and which had endeared him to the hearts of his audiences were "An Alien," "Lost in Transit," "The Land of the Free," "Jules of the Strong Heart," "One More American," "Hearts of Men," "The Greatest Love of All" and "One in a Million."

FINAL PICTURE

The last picture he made before his retirement from the screen was "The Loves of Ricardo."

Beban first was interested in the making of pictures by the late Thomas Ince, who persuaded him to put "The Sign of the Rose" on the screen. When this was done he found that films offered him much greater latitude of expression for his favorite roles. Thereafter he devoted most of his effort to the screen. An added advantage, which appealed to him strongly, was the fact that he was enabled to have a permanent home, where there was always associates.

Beban was a member of the Friars' Club in New York City and the Los Angeles Athletic Club.

For having rescued a fellow-swimmer—a man—from the attack of a shark, 20-year-old Lucy Donaldson of Sydney, Australia, is now wearing the gold medal of the Royal Shipwreck and Relief Society.

INFANTRYMEN IN SHAKE-UP

Twenty-eight Officers of "City's Own" Regiment Affected by Record List of Shifts

One of the greatest shake-ups in the history of the One Hundred and Sixtieth Infantry has just been finished by Col. Harcourt Hervey. Fourteen specific changes in the commissioned personnel of the regiment, involving twenty-eight officers, have been effected. Col. Hervey explained yesterday that the shake-up was in no sense a disciplinary move or because things have not been satisfactory. He stated that certain administrative changes were found necessary and to accomplish this many changes were essential.

The officers involved include Maj. Carle H. Belt, who leaves the command of the Third Battalion and becomes regimental machine gun officer. Maj. Belt succeeds Maj. Edwin H. Goad, who has been transferred to the National Guard Reserve.

BELT'S SUCCESSOR

Capt. Harry G. Brown, formerly in command of Company M, succeeds Maj. Belt in command of the Third Battalion. First Lieut. Hume Wright succeeds Capt. Brown in command of Company M. Second Lieutenant Jesse E. Brinker is assigned to Headquarters One Hundred and Sixtieth Infantry, and appointed plans and training officer. First Lieutenant Daniel H. Hudelson is transferred from Headquarters Company to command Company C. First Lieutenant Malcolm C. Story is relieved from command of Company C and assigned to Company L. First Lieutenant Gurson R. Thompson is transferred from Company D to Company B. First Lieutenant Darrell R. Nordwall is transferred from Company B to Headquarters Company, First Battalion.

OTHER CHANGES

First Lieutenant Wendall H. Sanford is transferred from Headquarters Company, Second Battalion, to command of Company G. First Lieutenant Benjamin F. Tanner is transferred from Company E and assigned to command Headquarters Company, Second Battallion. Second Lieutenant Robert M. Chestnut is transferred from Company G and assigned to Company E. First Lieutenant Max E. Miller is transferred from Headquarters Company, Third Battalion, to Company D. First Lieutenant Lowell C. Johnson is transferred from Company G to command Headquarters Company, Third Battalion. Second Lieutenant Edward H. Von Seeth is transferred from Company L to Company G.

Inasmuch as the many changes involve transfers of property responsibility it will be several weeks before the reorganization is completely in effect.

"Oh goody! We don't have to go to the drug store for Coca-Cola any more," said Maurice to Jack, his boon companion—"Because," continued Maurice, "our mother gets a dozen bottles at one time and keeps it ready for us to drink whenever we want it"—and he spoke the truth, for Katrina, their knowing mother, heard about the new special home package of 12 bottles for 50 cents, which all better grocers now sell, so she always keeps Coca-Cola on hand for her family and friends. Isn't it a great idea, and one worth following?

To kill cooking odors of cabbage, green or white beans, onions, chicken, mutton or kraut, put in with the meat or vegetables a piece of red pepper, size of a 10-cent piece, when starting to cook them.

It is a distinct joy to do all of your banking in the Women's Department on the second floor of the Bank of Italy National Trust and Savings Association at 7th and Olive streets. The atmosphere, as Lorelei would say, is "so refined," while the courtesy shown you by Miss Grace S. Stoermer, the very able director, and her assistants is an ever increasing pleasure. Won't you if you are not a depositor go in and investigate to your satisfaction the benefits to be derived from banking in this splendid department?

To clean gas stove burners, pick holes open with a large pin and apply a vacuum cleaned to take out the particles of dirt. Boil them once a month in hot soapsuds to remove grease; or, put in a pail of boiling water with a little washing powder, or one-half pound of washing soda to a gallon of water. Wipe with old soft flannel. A new pipe cleaner is also excellent for cleaning out burner holes.

To polish a faucet, nothing is better than half of a lemon after the juice has been squeezed out. After scouring, wash it and polish with soft, dry cloth; it will shine like new. An orange peel also gives good results.

You are invited by Mr. Travaglini to spend the week-end at beautiful San Clemente, the Spanish Village by the Sea, where the epicureans of Southern California meet and dine at Travaglini's—partaking of his delicious dinners.

Now why not do this . . . on the way down stop at his Rotisserie which is located at 1801 W. 7th street, corner of Burlington, and have a box lunch put up for you; then spend the day at San Clemente, having dinner there at night afterward coming home by moonlight. It will be a glorious day or week-end and one you will long remember. Please let me remind you that you can always get at Travaglini's Roma Rotisserie chickens, spaghetti, Ravioli, and salads to take home. The phone number, by the way, is WAshington 1873.

If your fingers become stained with ink, wet the head of a match and rub it on the spots. Then rinse with soap and water and the ink will quickly vanish. Ammonia will also remove ink stains from the fingers, or try rubbing them for a few minutes with the inside of a banana peel, or a ripe tomato.

Of course it's Hughes if the cream is real, thick and rich, the flavoring fresh fruits and you can tell real chocolate and vanilla when you taste it—By all these tests do you know Hughes Ice Cream and then once you try it no other brand satisfies you. Note the smoothness of the texture—that's the acid test, and proves right away that there is genuine fresh cream used in the making—Oh, there's no doubt but what you must be on the lookout for the near-by dealer displaying a Hughes sign.

Piquante mayonnaise dressing—To one cupful of plain mayonnaise dressing add two tablespoonfuls each of finely chopped olives and pickles.

What an ideal birthday gift a box of "Udelco" stationery makes—and so inexpensive, too! Only $1 for 200 sheets and 100 envelopes with your full name and address printed in blue on envelope and single sheets. Write or phone the Udell Co., 5457 Virginia ave. (HOlly. 1155) for samples.

It's Mrs. Bim who breaks into print today and all because of a bridge-supper which she gave for her club. You see she had intended having only the "girl friends," but in some way Mr. Bim overheard a conversation in which Guasti Flavoring was mentioned, and at once the good man insisted upon a mixed crowd, so that his friends might enjoy the repast prepared with the assistance of such delectable sweet sherry as Guasti's is. Now you, too, can make your contract bridge soirees as popular as the Bims by using Guasti's flavorings—tell you what you do this morning: Write a wee note or postcard to the Italian Vineyard Co., 1248 Palmetto st., Los Angeles, for a free copy of "Treasured Flavors," then call your good grocer and have him send a bottle of sweet sherry flavoring at once!

When vegetables, meat or fruits are scorched, instantly drop in a small piece of charcoal and the scorched taste will entirely disappear.

It still remains fashionable to be slender, so lets start reducing by the very easiest most satisfactory of ways—namely, by eating a slice of Basy Bread with each meal. The pounds will quickly disappear if this ever so simple method is followed, and what is more interesting, they will not return while you eat this mighty worth-while bread.

To secure a loaf all that is necessary for you to do is phone or stop in at Young's Market Co., 7th and Union sts. The telephone number is DUnkirk 2201, remember — when you order be sure to have them inclose the descriptive booklet which tells you the "whys" and "wherefores" of Basy Bread.

Pineapple Punch—A delicious hot day drink: Mix one cupful of pineapple juice with the juice of one orange and the juice of one lemon; add two tablespoonfuls of vanilla extract and one cupful of ice water; sugar to taste. After chilling well in the icebox serve with cracked ice.

Yes, indeed, brass andirons may be refinished so that they shine like new, by the Peerless Platers, 239½ S. Spring st. (upstairs.) They also do excellent replating of silver and mend jewelry, too. You will find their workmanship of the best, while their prices are unusually small. May I urge you to give them a trial?

Excellent stove polish—Mix equal parts of kerosene and turpentine with a good stove polish to the consistency of thick cream. Apply it to the stove while it is slightly warm; polish with flannel.

To remove fruit stains from the hands, wash them in clear water, dry slightly, and hold them over the fumes of a few lighted sulphur matches. Or, scrub the stains with a brush and a strong solution of tea—(try this also for vegetable stains.)

HOUSE FOUND ON WRONG LOT

Legal Battle Begins Over Tangle Discovered Through Postman and Involving Mortgage Concerns and Several Individuals

No one seemed to know much about what lot was whose until after the house had been built on it. Then the mail man puzzled it out in his conscientious effort to take a letter to exactly the right address, and yesterday saw two mortgage concerns and the Morga family before Judge McComb in the first engagement of what promises to be a lengthy battle over the mix-up.

Samuel A. Morga and Letty Morga, his wife, sold lot 70, Tract 1977, on East Eighty-seventh street, to Howard Shriver and Trixell Shriver, his wife, by good and sufficient conveyance. The Shrivers mortgaged the lot to the Security Housing Corporation for $2000 with which to build a house. So they took the $2000 and proceeded to build a house on Lot 68.

Subsequently Morga bought Lot 70 back. He thought he was buying the lot with the house on it. The mailman broke the bad news to him. He checked the records and found that Lot 68, with the house on it, belonged to Mrs. Eleanor Johnson, who lives in Nebraska. She offered to sell it to him for $2500, and because it was improved, the Long Beach Building and Loan Association loaned him the $2500, taking a mortgage on lot 68.

The Security Housing Corporation heard about all this and found that its loan was secured by a mortgage on a vacant lot, which is a nerve-racking experience for a loan company. So it has sued to establish an equitable lien on lot 70 and the house its money went into. The Long Beach Building and Loan Association, asserting it had no notice of the tangle when it loaned its $2500 on lot 68, demurred to the complaint and Judge McComb sustained the demurrer. But that did not end the lawsuit. The plaintiff will start all over with a new complaint.

PIPING GAS TO BAY CITY PROJECTED

Railroad Commission Gets Tentative Plan to Take Fuel from Valley

The major gas interests of California yesterday presented a tentative plan to the State Railroad Commission under which natural gas would be made available to San Francisco and other cities in the Bay region, San Jose, Fresno and a number of smaller cities in the San Joaquin Valley south of Fresno. The project, which was announced by A. B. Macbeth, president of the Southern California Gas Company, would necessitate the expenditure of about $16,000,000 for the construction of a main pipe line from Buttonwillow, Kern county, to San Jose, and for smaller connecting pipe lines and equipment.

For the natural gas business a new company, to be known as the Northern California Gas Company, would be formed. It would be owned by the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, the Southern California Gas Corporation and the Pacific Gas Corporation.

The lines connecting with the main pipe line would run eastward to the Southern California Gas Company's properties in Tulare and King counties and to the Pacific Gas and Electric Company's properties in the vicinity of Fresno. It also is planned to build a supply line from Ventura to Buttonwillow. The lines would have an initial capacity of 60,000,000 cubic feet of gas a day for the San Jose terminal in addition to the gas used in the San Joaquin Valley towns.

MILITARY PRISONER SHOT DEAD

Court-martial Ordered Following Slaying by Fort MacArthur Sentry

A military prisoner at Fort MacArthur was shot through the back of the head and killed by a sentry yesterday morning. The prisoner was Max J. Silverman, 19 years of age, a private who deserted from Fort Wadsworth in New York, August 2, last, and surrendered himself at the San Pedro fort on September 10, last. He enlisted from Brooklyn, N. Y., and his nearest kin as given on the army records is his father, Soloman Silverman of 290 Leonard street, Brooklyn.

Silverman was cleaning the messroom of the headquarters battery yesterday morning when he was shot by the sentry, W. A. Tucker, who is a private in Battery A, Third Coast Artillery. Although Tucker's superior officers were inclined to think the shooting accidental, it was said by Capt. George Fisher, post adjutant, that it was against regulations for him to have his rifle loaded on his particular post.

An Army examining board made an investigation of the shooting yesterday afternoon and at the conclusion of its inquiry ordered that Tucker be tried at a general court-martial.

AIR MEET PROPOSED FOR 1932

Race Association Plans International Event Here Prior to Olympic Games

An international aviation meet and exposition for Los Angeles in 1932 loomed last night as members of the executive committee of the California Air Race Association took under advisement the suggestion of such a project.

That such an affair undoubtedly would attract aviators and enthusiasts from all parts of the world was the declaration of Cliff Henderson, managing director of the recent national air races, who stated that aviation will have developed to such a point within four years that a great increase in interest will be registered and it will be possible to finance the project successfully.

Under the tentative plan, the international meet would be held just prior to the Olympic Games and in addition to attracting large crowds which would attend because of interest in aviation the association would have the advantage of other thousands to draw from who would be here to attend the track and field meet.

The success of the national air races which made expenses here for the first time since the races became an annual affair has brought confidence to the association, it was pointed out, and another such undertaking will bring still greater local support than was accorded the races this year.

A meeting of the association's executive committee will be held at the Ambassador next Thursday evening when the proposal to make a further investigation of the international meet proposal probably will be brought up for action.

JUSTICES TO BE GUESTS

Southwestern University Alumni Association will meet Tuesday at 6:30 p.m., at the University Club. The members of the Supreme Court of California will be guests of honor. Members of the association who were successful at the recent bar examination also will be guests.

Today's Bible Text

Teach me Thy way, O Lord; I will walk in Thy truth: unite my heart to fear Thy name. Psalm lxxxvi:11.

CATCH THE DRIFT?

The marriage of William Winter to Alberta Snow was celebrated in Colorado the other day. This would seem to be an eminently proper union yet it is well to look out for little squalls.

CAN HAPPEN

The biographer of a great singer conveys the surprising statement that at the age of 11 years his heroine always seemed to be hungry. Oh, well, this same adventure has happened to other kids at that age.

THE BATTLING ACTOR

According to the critics Jack Dempsey is making good as an actor in the play, "The Big Fight," which has been running in New York under the direction of David Belasco. Speaking of highbrows, Tunney only reads Shakespeare, Dempsey may act him.

BEAUTY FOR MEN

Another expert cosmetician turns up with an announcement that the men of America last year paid a beauty bill of nearly a billion dollars—just for dolling themselves up. It was spent for cosmetics, marcels, facials and other ladylike effects. Presently the tired business man will be having his face lifted and then we will know him no more. But it is no longer considered a crime for a male to consort with talcum powder and rouge.

KEEPING RECORDS

We are breaking records every day right here in Los Angeles, but there are thousands of records left. In fact, the business of the recorder's office is so vast that there is a call for the erection of a new county building to house the accumulating archives. They overflow the present quarters. During the past year 560,000 documents were filed for record or preservation. This is only 10,000 more than the previous year, but it must be admitted that conditions are supposed to be slower in the land market. There's a massive mass of business just the same.

GETTING TOGETHER

The Scandinavian governments are trying to revive the monetary union of the northland with the idea of stabilizing all their circulation and putting it all on an exchange basis which any citizen might understand. But it is hard to get varying peoples to get their money on the counter under even terms. Norway and Denmark might have agreed, but Sweden figured that a money agreement could not be of service unless there was also a customs union. That proposition broke up the party at this time. Nations are still touchy about their tariffs.

HUMILIATION DAYS

By order of the new Chinese national government twenty-five days of each year have been set aside as Humiliation Days. The idea is to keep the people in mind of different acts of "foreign aggression" which have militated against the progress of China. Each day is to have its own peculiar ceremony in order to give variety and piquancy to the general scheme of humility.

To the occidental mind such observances are not readily comprehensible. The western world celebrates its victories, never its defeats. But in China the idea is an old one. In the days of the empire asserted wrongs done to the nation often called forth such demonstrations.

From a western point of view, if the object of the twenty-five Humiliation Days is to foster patriotism and keep alive the resentment of foreign interference in their affairs, as the cables have stated, the Chinese are not approaching their international problem in the right way.

The former foes of the Teutonic powers have been leaning over backward to mend the World War breach. From their racial viewpoint it will be difficult to reconcile the Chinese lest-we-forget idea with that of the "humble and the contrite heart" which not only deprecates vainglory but seeks to soften international resentment.

Despite its pronounced tendency toward the adoption of occidental economic, cultural and other ideas, China is still China.

NEW ARGONAUTS

The golden fleece sought by the 300 passengers on the Lassco liner, City of Los Angeles, which leaves this port today for a voyage of 17,000 miles and sixty-four days, will be the development of a rich trade between Los Angeles and the various ports of Latin America. Many of those accompanying the expedition are already familiar with some of the things they will encounter, but to others the territory traversed will be entirely new.

Los Angeles, though her trade with Central and South America is already impressive, is getting but a sprinkle of the flood that should come here and will come here as time goes on if it is properly developed and exploited. The United States as a whole buys products from the Latin-American countries to the value of hundreds of millions yearly, sells to them other hundreds of millions in goods, a mutually profitable exchange which is increasing rapidly, though as yet only a small proportion of this trade is conducted through Southern California.

Experience has shown that acquaintance and friendship play as large a part as value and prices in the commercial relationships of Latin-American firms, and if these can be developed by the Los Angeles excursionists a long step forward will have been taken for Southern California. It was with this idea in mind that the trip of the City of Los Angeles was arranged, by co-operation of The Times and the Los Angeles Steamship Company with various chambers of commerce of California and Hawaii. No more elaborate preparations were ever made for a trip of this kind, but if its result is an increase in trade and closer relations with our southern neighbors all the time and trouble will have been justified, and the trip will pay dividends for years to come.

Southern California, with the largest Spanish-speaking population in the United States, with its excellent port and merchandising facilities, with its rail lines radiating to every part of the country, has natural advantages for the entry of a vast tonnage and a great variety of Latin-American goods, and as an exporting point to most of the Latin-American countries. These advantages need to have more attention called to them; the rest will follow naturally.

The travelers are to carry the word of these things to twenty cities and eleven countries in the course of their journey. It is by no means a Los Angeles enterprise alone; besides the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce are represented the Chambers of Commerce of Honolulu, of San Francisco and of Long Beach, and the United States Department of Commerce will have on board a trade expert. A specialist on the West Coast of South America will join the cruise at Callao.

Los Angeles has much to gain from the success of this cruise and from those which undoubtedly will follow. The best wishes of the entire city go with the City of Los Angeles as she sails out through the breakwater today.

TAKAISHI'S VISIT

Shingoro Takaishi, editor-in-chief of one of Japan's largest daily newspapers, and prominent Japanese who accompanied him on a month's tour of the United States, have done more than add some illustrious names to the international list of visitors to this country. They have made themselves part of a movement for promoting international harmony, now generally recognized as one of major importance in the universal crusade for world peace. Los Angeles feels itself particularly privileged in being selected as one of the American cities on the itinerary of this great Japanese publicist.

California, whose friendly and commercial contacts with the Orient are peculiarly close and growing yearly in importance, has thus been given an opportunity to hear at first hand the trend of Japanese thought from one who in large measure is a director of Japanese public opinion. We trust in return that Mr. Takaishi will take back to his own country a stronger appreciation of the spirit of friendliness which California entertains for her oriental neighbor. Through his newspapers, the Osaki Mainichi and the Tokyo Nichi Nichi, he reaches daily nearly 2,000,000 Japanese readers. The influence he can thus exercise ranks hardly second to that of ministers and diplomats in determining international relations.

Our people have enjoyed the visit of these friends from over the Pacific, representing the press, the banking and industrial and religious thought and the chambers of commerce of the leading power of the Orient. We have appreciated the complimentary comments on our own country from the lips of our Japanese guests as well as their criticisms, always conceived in a fair and give-and-take spirit. We trust such international exchanges will multiply so that the better understanding between nations brought about by these means may take a permanent part in the program for world peace.

RANCH RELIEF

The past two seasons have demonstrated that it is possible for the peach growers to have too large a crop. Nature at times is too prodigal. It is possible to suffer from too much prosperity. The clouds and sunshine may be too generous. Too much produce may make the market dyspeptic.

The grape growers became too optimistic and planted too large an acreage. Prices and ripened clusters fell together. However, the California ranchers do not blame it on the President.

Chicken fanciers might easily incubate too many birds. Not enough hungry jaws may be born to dispose of all the backs and breasts. Because over-enthusiasm may brood too many roosters and pullets is no reason for using their drumsticks to punch holes in the drum on the political band wagon.

The best way is to cease hatching so many eggs. Fewer setting hens will dispose of necessity for any chicken equalization fee. A plank from the old chicken coop hardly makes good political platform lumber. Putting your eggs all in one basket is not common sense.

Ranches might easily sow too much alfalfa. There may not be enough dairy cows to negotiate it and convert it into milk. High prices might stimulate too much zeal for beans. Beans may easily be overdone; Boston has her limitations. Just so many shrimp cocktails are exacted. More than law would be required to excite a larger appetite.

The truth is, supply and demand determine prices. Government has nothing to do with it. When too much of any one thing floods the market, prices are likely to tumble. An equalization fee makes a poor parachute. Advertising for the people to eat more of anything has its value; but it is adventitious and local.

Too many of anything is always too much. Legislating prices is always an unsound economic subterfuge. If the farmers were to get an equalization fee, what then could prevent the motor-car builders from demanding the same sort of relief in an off season? Movie concerns might demand film relief. Jazz orchestras might want jazz relief. However, one thing we are likely never in peril of—religious relief.

AN ESTIMATE THAT FAILED

The Census Bureau has just released its estimates of populations of cities in the United States as of July 1, 1928. Two California centers stand out in considerable relief in having "no estimate" given: Los Angeles and Long Beach. It is frankly stated that the growth of these cities has been too big to guess at.

The five metropolitan areas listed with more than a million inhabitants are naturally headed by New York, with 6,017,500. However, she is acknowledged to have lost 200,000 since 1925. Then follow Chicago with 3,157,400; Philadelphia, 2,064,200; Detroit, 1,378,900; and Cleveland, 1,010,300.

Los Angeles should rightfully occupy the fifth place. It is possible that by 1930 she may nose Detroit out of the fourth berth.

If, as is unlikely, anybody thought to forget Los Angeles lest she receive too much advertisement, the scheme will prove a distinct failure. The omission but calls attention to her claims.

The rate growth of this city may have sand-bagged the officials and left them in a state of coma. We blame them little; for it is almost unbelievable for a population to more than double in eight years. Being enamored of accuracy and fearing lest the figures may have been pied or juggled in transit, the authorities may be excused for not committing themselves.

Or possibly the adding machine burned out its bearings!

At all events the failure as usual puts Los Angeles in a class by herself. Even if the Census Bureau did fail us, rumor will make its own estimates, and they are not likely to do us any damage.

So why worry? Tens of thousands are being added annually over against the day of reckoning. Tourists are carrying back Brobdingnagian tales. A whispering campaign that is worth while is being carried on. When the real census of 1930 comes the showing will be more tremendous than ever.

Can reapportionment have anything to do with it?

ON THE SPOT

Looks as if Gov. Smith has acted rather promptly on informal advice. He was told to go to Helena and, therefore, he felt impelled to go to Helena. They told him he resembled Lincoln and so he took the train for Nebraska to see what Lincoln looked like. They told him that St. Paul was a fiery crusader and so he visited St. Paul. Nobody can say that he isn't willing to look, live and learn.

The LEE SIDE o' L.A.
BY Lee Shippey

THE telephone company touches us all.

We're not alluding to the monthly bills, but to the amazing part in our daily life which the telephone plays.

It saves us long trips, tedious delays, the expense of messengers. It makes us neighbors to millions of people. It enables us to hear the voices and see the faces, through telephotography, of people thousands of miles away. It has entirely taken the place of Paul Revere, as was shown in the Santa Paula flood. It can transmit both the words and the dramatic picture of a Presidential candidate speech or the fingerprints of a murderer to the ends of America before an airplane could even rise from the earth.

Confessing Our Ignorance

For years we have idly wondered and vaguely conjectured about many things connected with telephony, so yesterday we set out to enlighten ourself. But it wasn't much use. The first thing we learned was that we lack the brain to comprehend its major wonders. But we learned a few surprising things. And it may be that some other folks who use telephones daily are as ignorant as we were.

Lesson in Courtesy

The first thing we learned is that the telephone company is the most chivalrous organization in town. Every male employee, when he enters an elevator operated by a girl, removes his hat. And no smoking is permitted in any of the company's buildings, not even in the offices of high executives—not even in the office of the publicity man!

Not So Slow

We have cherished the idea that the company is painfully dilatory about installing new phones. In a small town, your phone is installed the day after you order it. But in a system of the magnitude necessary here the installation of a new phone calls for 150 separate actions involving fifty people. There are approximately 1,700,000 miles of wire in the Los Angeles system, which enter the central stations in trunk lines carrying 2424 lines each. There are forty central stations, each with capacity for 10,000 phones. To put a new subscriber in touch with all those other subscribers is not a task which can be accomplished in a day.

Gossipy Centrals

We used to imagine, when we couldn't get a number the instant we called, that the central girls all must be busy discussing a new hat. A visit to the Metropolitan exchange convinced us that is impossible: One hundred eighty girls work in that exchange, with a supervisor to every ten or eleven operators. The supervisors constantly walk to and fro behind the operators, and you don't hear or see a word exchanged between operators. Indeed, you don't hear a word spoken, for the operators speak directly into the transmitters, their mouths so close to them that not a syllable escapes, and in such low tones that not a syllable is distinguished to a person standing five feet behind them. You don't have to shout over the phone when you learn to talk into it right, and they are well taught. As for listening in, no central has time nor inclination. She must handle an average of 200 calls per hour—completing that many calls—in busy hours.

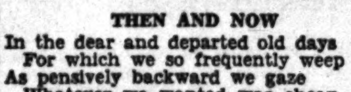
Not Giddy Young Things

Though three-fourths of the calls the telephone company handles daily are from dial phones, 2000 manual operators are employed. Those girls first attend a school, on pay, until they are competent. One of the important things they are taught is how to answer foolish questions. Try asking central what her name is or if she won't come out to luncheon if you want to learn how well they are taught. Thousands of flappers who don't, really should attend the telephone school.

Many of the telephone girls are college graduates, many others are studying music, art, business or drama. But often after they have fitted themselves for other vocations they continue to be centrals. They have grown so accustomed to acting like ladies and being treated like ladies that the atmosphere of many offices jars on them.

Marvels of Invention

The mechanical wonders of the telephone plants made us feel very humble. It was amazing to realize that men could create such devices. The telephotography room alone made our head swim. A perfect picture of an advertisement of a new motor car in Detroit or a new style in New York can be "telephoned" to Los Angeles in about eight minutes. A "positive" picture put in a roll at one end is transmitted, one-thousandth of an inch at a flash, and cut of a machine at the other end comes a perfect "negative," showing every detail of the original picture. So accurate is the process that the fingerprints of a criminal so transmitted can positively identify or clear a suspect.



THEN AND NOW

In the dear and departed old days
For which we so frequently weep
As pensively backward we gaze
Whatever we wanted was cheap.
A dime was considered a pretty fair tip
To bestow on a Pullman-car porter.
Six dollars would pay for a holiday trip,
And a pretty good show cost a quarter.

In that gentle and kindly old time
A washable celluloid collar
Could be had anywhere for a dime,
And neckties were three for a dollar.
For pleasure and clothing, for bed and for board
One had very little to pay
And he could exist for a week, like a lord
Upon what it now costs him per day.

In that simple and innocent age
Life moved at a moderate speed.
There was little in which to engage,
There was little to do, see or read.
A man who played cards or sat up after ten
Was considered a bit of a devil.
A kelly pool parlor was labeled a den,
And a ride in a cab was a revel.

It costs a bit more to abide
At the speedier pace of today.
We move at a livelier stride,
And it's tough to tuck savings away.
But much as it costs to keep up with the game
And hard as the present-day gait is,
You wouldn't for any reward I might name
Turn backward and dwell in the 'eighties.

STATE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NO. 6

BY SUSAN M. DORSEY
Superintendent of City Schools

A measure most important to the public schools, one that will appear on the ballot November 6, is Constitutional Amendment No. 6 (originally No. 26.) The object of this measure is to effect a reorganization of the State Department of Education in order to do away with the present double-headed character of the organization and to remove the office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction from the danger of political interference or domination.

At the present time the State Department of Education consists of a State Board of Education appointed by the Governor and a Superintendent of Public Instruction selected by the people. So long as the Governor's appointees, the State Board, and the people's choice, the State superintendent, carry on their work with no opposing interests, education prospers, but once let either the Board of Education or the State superintendent decide to carry a point at variance with the opinion of the other and a deadlock results, with the schools of the State for the victim.

Amendment No. 6 is designed to correct this dangerous situation by bringing the State Department under unified direction. It provides for the appointment of a State Board of Education by the Governor, the same to consist of ten members, two of whom are to be appointed in each odd-numbered year. It further provides that these appointments of the Governor shall in each case be ratified by a two-thirds vote of the Senate, thereby giving the people's representatives a controlling influence in the selection of the State Board of Education. An advantage growing out of the length of term of each member, namely, ten years, is the fact that no Governor in one term of office can appoint a majority of the board and thereby gain control of the educational forces of the State.

It further provides that the State Board of Education shall appoint a superintendent of public instruction to be known as a director of education. This method of procedure relieves the superintendent of public instruction of the expense, annoyance and political maneuvering of an election campaign and minimizes the chances of friction between the State Board of Education and the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

The measure has the approval of many thoughtful citizens and prominent educators who have studied conditions in other States and observed the workings of our own State organization for years; they have brought to the shaping of this amendment the results of their best judgment and study, and are a unit in believing that a simpler, more unified organization than the present one is imperative.

AL SMITH AND THE CANADIAN LIQUOR SYSTEM

BY ELMER ELLSWORTH HELMS
III

Under the Canadian system liquor also may be delivered by the brewers direct to the home, and all kinds of liquor can be ordered mailed to the home.

Liquor is simply everywhere. In one hotel I overhead a woman in the adjoining room beg her husband not to drink while they were on their vacation. She said, "You promised me you wouldn't drink while we were away, and we are only going to be here two weeks. Please, please keep your word." I have traveled not a little and stopped in many American hotels, but never have I heard that duplicated in more than a hundred thousand miles of travel throughout the States. In one hotel the people in the room adjoining ours drank and soused and caroused until 3 o'clock in the morning. In one morning's session in one court in Toronto five women were tried for drunkenness on the street. All five testified that they got drunk in their homes and wandered on to the street. In another court at one morning's session, six women were sentenced to jail for drunkenness.

As I have said, hard liquors are bought only by single bottles in the government stores, and are to be taken unsealed to the home and there drank. It is absolutely illegal to keep or consume liquor on business premises. Yet all of the Canadian papers are full of the daily growing violation of this feature of the law, and full of the stories of men, singly and in groups, turning their offices and business places into drinking carousals.

MATCHES FOR BONFIRE

Anyone who has an opportunity of a bird's-eye view of a big crowd at night will notice that there is not a second but what it is possible to locate a burning match at some point in the gathering. It has been figured out that each minute 500,000 matches are consumed in the United States and every one of them is a fire hazard! It has been determined that the average match burns about thirty seconds, and that it takes anywhere from six to fourteen seconds to light a cigarette, a cigar or a pipe. It is in ace lies; and that it is a menace is proved by the many fires attributed each year to matches tossed aside carelessly.

ELECTRIC PAD IMPROVEMENT

The electrically heated pads for the sick room are now to be had not only in the standard square shape but also in various sizes to conform to any part of the body. Narrow strips are made for foreheads, and to wind around arms or legs, longer ones will encompass the waist and back and electric blankets in a variety of dimensions are available.

Going to Church

HUNTINGTON PARK, Oct. 3. [To the Editor of The Times:] Allow me to thank Eugene Brown for his article, "Going to Church," in the October 3 issue of your paper. Why do not the ministers of Los Angeles resign and go into politics? Most of us who go to church are intelligent enough to form our own opinions on politics and crime. We go to church in vain for a little spiritual uplift—instead we hear smart headline comments on the news. This is attracting a certain class of people, but driving away a large proportion of earnest, sensible men and women.

A foreign friend remarked that going to church now was as good as going to a show. When will the ministers wake up and realize what harm they are doing?

It is a deplorable sight to see our Protestant Christian services depart from the dignity of Christ's teachings?

Favors No. 21

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 2.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Opponents of Initiative Measure No. 21 on November ballot are appearing, among them the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, who have gone on record as indorsing the rodeo.

The measure in no way interferes with the legitimate business of cattle raising, dairying, farm or allied industries, as the rodeo promoters would have the public believe. The money-making rodeo is a caricature of pioneer days. The cowboy of the ring has nothing in common with the real men who rode herd on the wide open spaces. Today their places are taken before the public by imitation cowboys, manicured and marcelled, adorned with silk embroidered shirts and other fripperies whose business consists largely in tormenting and terrorizing helpless animals quivering with fear, mutilating them with monstrous spurs, drugging them to a frenzy—all for the sake of the gate money.

A Rough Block

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 3.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The City Engineering Department or the Board of Public Works, or whatever agency may be responsible, has been doing some good work resurfacing some of the cobblestone streets with smooth asphalt or something similar. Now, there is one block near the downtown district that is probably one of the most heavy traveled in the city. Yet it is rough cobblestones that shake and rattle the car frightfully. It is Sunset Boulevard from Broadway up the hill west. Could not the city resurface this piece of disgrace and win the thanks of thousands of motorists?

MYSTERY

Birth and unremembered things,
Days and nights of twilight and of mist,
Straying dreams of starlands and of wings
And the hungry lips that mother loved and kissed.

I came here playing, playing, making believe,
Loving the fields, the birds and the day.
Make me again to play before I leave
To make believe once more in going away.

Manhood was labor love, and hell
Let into my heart all mixed with unbelief.
And wrote a history too strange to know or tell.
Life lied to me, I swear it! Life was a thief.

Then let me go down the westward hill in the starlight
To breathe the breath of dreams again a coming o'er the sea,
To roam again the poppy fields in moonlight
To meet the olden gods once more, life stole away from me.

Youth's palladium of dreams again restore me
Ere the last of life's illusions fail and pall,
The mountain of my youth shall rise before me
And before the gods I loved my soul shall fall.

Fur That Can't Be Well Imitated

A survey of the fox ranching industry of Canada shows that in the last two years there has been an increase of 50 per cent in the price of silver fox furs in spite of the fact that more than 60,000 pelts, from foxes raised in captivity, have been placed upon the market this season. One explanation of this situation is that the fur of the silver fox cannot be well imitated, whereas all other pelts can be quite easily imitated in one way or another.

SONGBIRD SHOWS SHE CAN FLY

Opera Star Comes Here by Airplane

Important Roles to Be Hers

Madam Rethberg and President Newlin of the Los Angeles Grand Opera Association.

SONGBIRDS can fly. The Los Angeles Grand Opera Association has proven this by bringing one of its star songsters from San Francisco by airplane. Mme. Rethberg, her husband, Arthur Doman, and a bird cage containing two love birds made the trip safely yesterday and were met by President Gurney E. Newlin of the Los Angeles Grand Opera Association, and Manager Merle Armitage.

Mme. Rethberg was heard last night in "Madam Butterfly," and will sing Marguerite in "Faust" next Thursday; Santuzzi in "Cavallerio Rusticana" the 13th inst., and in "Andrea Chenier" on the 15th inst.

A telegram was received by the opera association yesterday that Lawrence Tibbett received the greatest ovation given any artist during the opera season in San Francisco, after the prologue in "Pagliacci" Wednesday evening. The Los Angeles singer will sing "Cavalleria Rusticana" with Rethberg, Martin and others, and "Pagliacci" with Johnson, Vettori and others on the evening of the 13th inst. here.

OPERA STARS ATTEND LUNCHEON OF CLUB

Most of the stars of the company assembled by the Los Angeles Grand Opera Association for the present season, were present at the meeting and luncheon yesterday of the Friday Morning Club. The meeting, which was presided over by Mrs. Sara Bixby Smith, was devoted entirely to music, with Lawrence Strauss, tenor, giving a program of songs, and Gurney, E. Newlin speaking on "Our Civic Opera."

Singers who attended included Edward Johnson, Guiseppe Danise, Angela Bada, Pompilio Malatesta, Armand Tokatyan, Ludovico Oliviero, Ezio Pinza, Louis D'Angelo, Millo Picco, Gennaro Barra and Marion Telva. Gaetano Merola, conductor, also was there, and the singers were introduced by Merle Armitage, who spoke briefly on the career of each of the artists.

PLANS MADE TO OPERATE BOATHOUSE

Stalls Will Be Rented by Playground Department and Vessels to Be Let Out

A working program for the operation of the city's first municipal boathouse—that constructed at Cabrillo Beach, San Pedro—has been adopted by the Playground and Recreation Commission on recommendation of Supt. Hjelte. The program covers certain policies and suggestions by Walter Madge, newly appointed director of boating for the playground department.

The service, according to the plans adopted, will cover rental of storage stalls and slips for small boats and moorings assigned in restricted anchorage provided by the harbor department.

There will be motor-boat excursions, chartering of excursion launches by hour or day, and rental of outboard motorboats, rowboats, canoes and possibly sailboats by the hour.

Promotion of boating will be encouraged by providing a meeting place for Sea Scouts. School crews and other groups will be encouraged in rowing and other activities. There will be promotion of water carnivals and regattas and promotion of model yacht building.

It is planned to build the rowboats in the boat shop in the new building, and to rebuild launches and other boats.

The staff already has been provided for in the budget, according to Mr. Hjelte. He expects that the municipal venture will be entirely self-supporting within a year.

The fees are to be announced at a later date.

NO CARD PLAYING AT HOME

Douglas M. Herrin was keen for playing cards at the homes of his friends but refused to play at his own home. Mrs. Julia E. Herrin declared at the hearing on her divorce petition yesterday before Superior Judge Yankwich. This was one of the wife's complaints among numerous others. The decree was granted.

Financiers From Canada on Visit

Robert Aylsworth, general manager of the Huron and Erie Mortgage Corporation and of the Canada Trust Company of London, Ont., Can., accompanied by Robert P. Baker, Toronto manager of the two companies, is making his first visit to Los Angeles and is stopping at the Biltmore.

"Canadian interests are becoming more and more closely allied with the prosperity and financial advancement of America and this is particularly true of the western development of this nation," he said yesterday. "While my trip is in the nature of a vacation the newness and activity of Los Angeles has held me as a study. I can only be one of thousands who marvel at the development of this portion of California."

Co-eds Present Annual Hi-jinks

With stalwart "cops" patrolling all entrances to Millspaugh Hall auditorium to keep out stray males, the Associated Women Students of the University of California at Los Angeles presented their annual "Hi-Jinks" last night on the U.C.L.A. campus. Twenty-six dramatic skits four curtain acts and costume parades featured the evening's entertainment, which was under the direction of Dorothy Parker, vice-president of the Associated Women Students.

Prizes for the best skits and for the most clever individual costume were awarded, the prizes being donated by campus merchants. Members of the faculty who acted as judges in the contests are Miss Ruth Atkinson, Mrs. Alice Hunnewell and Miss Helen Giddings.

DEFENSE BEGUN BY WICKERSHAM

Promoter Takes Stand to Refute Fraud Charges

Plea for Instructed Verdict Denied by Court

Notary Public May Face Loss of Her License

Sam Wickersham, asserted swindler, took the stand yesterday in Judge Wilson's court in his own defense to three counts of grand theft accusing him of defrauding Mrs. Frank E. Neumann, aged widow, and her daughter, Mrs. Frances Fay, of approximately $70,000. Wickersham's examination had been under way but a few minutes when adjournment was taken to Monday.

The defense opened its case after Judge Wilson had denied a motion for an instructed verdict, interposed by defense counsel. In overruling the motion, Judge Wilson indicated it will be up to the jury solely to determine the extent of Wickersham's guilt or innocence in the promotion of a gold mine.

One of the concluding witnesses for the prosecution was Marianne L. Hudson, a notary, who gave testimony relative to asserted assignments made by Mrs. Neumann to Wickersham of $40,000 worth of stock and a trust deed valued at $27,500 for an interest in his mine.

Miss Hudson stated she witnessed Mrs. Neumann sign one document and Wickersham another, but she failed to identify signatures on three other documents in the transaction. She testified she placed her official seal on three documents she did not see Mrs. Neumann sign, and Judge Wilson ordered a transcript of her copy submitted to the Governor for the purpose of conducting an investigation to determine if her license as a notary is to be revoked.

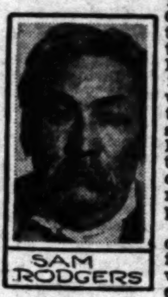
Other witnesses included William Wahyan, who gave testimony relative to the gold mine. Wahyan stated the mine was only a prospect and that he never saw any traces of its containing valuable ore.

The trial will be resumed Monday with Wickersham on the stand.

MURDER IN 1903 DENIED BY SUSPECT

Prisoner to be Released to Deming (N. M.) Police in Death of Woman

While definite indentification was lacking, arrangements were being made late yesterday to release Sam Rodgers, alias Carlos Martinez, to police authorities of Deming, N. M., in connection with the murder twenty-five years ago of Octavina Ponce, sister of the man who caused the arrest of the suspect here.



SAM RODGERS

Rodgers, still denying that he is the man wanted, asserted he will waive extradition.

Rodgers asserted he is a Cherokee Indian from Cotton City, Okla., and has lived around Los Angeles and San Diego for the last forty-five years. He is 62 years of age, he said. He admits he has been arrested many times here for intoxication, but would admit to no other wrongdoing.

Rodgers was taken into custody late Thursday night near Main and Commercial streets after Francisco Ponce told Detective Lieutenants Buxton and Emery that he recognized Rodgers as the man who murdered his sister and wounded his niece on a ranch near Deming in 1903. Ponce said the man's voice attracted his attention and later a scar on the left cheek convinced him he had found the man be had been seeking for twenty-five years.

Second in Series of Art Forums Opens Monday

The second in the series of art forums conducted at the California Art Club in Barnsdall Park by Kem Weber, craftsman-designer, will be held Monday night. There is no admission charge.

These discussions have as their basic topic the consideration of America's present economic situation and its relation to artistic effort. Jock D. Peters will act as host and lead the discussion.

At the present time the galleries of the club contain an exhibition of the latest drawings, water colors and oil paintings of the famous "Group of Eight." Admission to this exhibition is free on Monday nights and Thursday afternoons and on other afternoons, between 2 and 5 o'clock, there is a charge of 25 cents.

DELAY TO BE REDUCED IN MUNICIPAL COURT

Delays in civil cases in the Municipal Courts were ordered reduced to a minimum yesterday by President Judge Chambers. The judge ordered that no continuances be granted in civil cases without legal reasons. "There has been too much delay in bringing civil cases to trial during recent months," declared Judge Chambers. "Congestion of the courts caused by frequent continuances are making it difficult to get early hearings on many of the new cases being filed."

DAKOTANS PLAN PICNIC

More than 4000 former residents of South Dakota are expected to attend the picnic of the South Dakota State Society, at Sycamore Grove tomorrow. J. G. McFarland of Watertown, S. POACHED EGGS, LOS ANGELES

For each person to be served cut two rounds of toasted bread three inches in diameter and two thick slices of peeled and cored apple. Dip the apple slices in milk, roll in flour and fry a nice brown on both sides in hot butter. Place a slice of fried apple on a round of toast, sprinkle lightly with curry powder, and cover with a poached egg.

ROAST TAME DUCK

Clean, dress, wash, wipe and stuff a tame duck with a dressing made by mixing half a cupful of stale bread crumbs with two tablespoonfuls of melted butter, one cupful of mashed potatoes, half a teaspoonful of salt, half a finely chopped onion cooked until soft in one tablespoonful of butter with two tablespoonfuls of finely chopped salt pork, a few grains of cayenne pepper, two teaspoonfuls of finely chopped capers, and a little mace; when well mixed add one slightly beaten egg. Truss the stuffed duck, place in a roasting pan on a rack, add to the pan one chopped stalk of celery, half a sliced onion, one sliced carrot, one bay leaf, and three whole cloves, rub the breast with mixed salt and pepper, cover with thin slices of salt pork and bake until tender, allowing sixteen minutes to the pound. Baste five or six times and twenty minutes before removing from the oven take off the slices of salt pork and serve with pan gravy.

ORANGE SALAD

Peel and slice three oranges, cut in dice and mix with half a cupful of chopped preserved ginger, one cupful of broken walnut meats, and half a cupful of lemon French dressing. Mound on lettuce covered plates and garnish with ripe olives and finely chopped white celery.

PEACH COBBLER

Drain the syrup from one large can of sliced peaches, and cut the peaches in dice; place them in the bottom of a shallow baking dish and sprinkle over four tablespoonfuls of sugar mixed with one tablespoonful of flour, one quarter of a teaspoonful of cinnamon, and a pinch of salt. Add half a cupful of water and dot the tops of the peaches with bits of butter. Sift one cupful of sifted flour with two level teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one teaspoonful of sugar, and a few grains of salt; rub into it one tablespoonful of butter, and one tablespoonful of lard, and when like coarse meal work to a smooth dough with three tablespoonfuls of ice water. Roll out the size of the baking dish, place over the peaches, cut two or three slits in the crust, brush it with milk, and bake in a moderate oven twenty-five minutes. Cut in squares and serve hot or cold with a serving of ice cream on top.

GUIDING YOUR CHILD

PUNISHMENT

BY MRS. AGNES LYNE

If there is one rule in child training, it is, "Never punish in anger."

Punishment which descends upon the child as if it came from some avenging god, goes back in spirit to the most primitive form of justice, an eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth.

Society today handles even its criminals with more enlightened methods than the majority of parents employ from time to time in dealing with their disobedient children.

A certain young mother has the best intentions in the world in bringing up her child, whom she adores. She reads all the books she can find on child psychology and child training. But, unfortunately, books cannot give her one thing which is essential in bringing up any child. They cannot give her self-control, without which all high-sounding principles fall to the ground.

Her little girl knows that she is quite free to do much as she pleases so long as she does not annoy her mother. But when she inadvertently crumples her mother's dress, or spills milk on the dining-room rug, she knows that wrath is sure to descend, in the form of a shaking or a spanking. Gone at once is her mother's fictitious calm, and primitive revenge has taken its place.

The object of punishment should never be to relieve parental anger. When some deliberate misdeed seems to call for punishment, it should be given with some insight as to what it will mean to the child. It should be meted out not in proportion to the damage done, but in proportion to the child's conscious naughtiness.

The youngster who accidentally broke a costly lamp deserves no punishment at all, but he who ran across the street to play after being expressly forbidden to do so, deserves perhaps some penalty to impress upon him that his disobedience will bring unpleasant results.

The child who is punished in anger and revenge knows it. The injustice of it rankles long after his mother has forgotten all about it. It undermines his faith in her and makes him vindictive and resentful in turn.

NETTLE RASH

Many people are troubled with the appearance of a rash on the skin, accompanied by an intense stinging, burning sensation. This rash is in the form of wheals, and they become maximum size, varying from that of a pinhead to that of a half-dollar, within a few minutes, and they sometimes disappear as rapidly as they form.

These lesions may appear on any part of the skin, and they sometimes occur inside the throat on the epiglottis, giving a choking sensation or feeling of suffocation. When they appear on the tongue, they may cause it to become greatly enlarged.

The itching is so intense that it is almost impossible for the patient to resist scratching, which only increases the size of the wheals.

Attacks of hives can only occur in people who are suffering from a form of chronic acidosis, and each attack is preceded by a period of lassitude, digestive disorders, coated tongue and possibly headaches. A fingernail drawn over the surface of the skin of these patients usually leaves a red line, and it is possible to write words on the surface of their bodies in this manner.

Poorly fed and undernourished children are most frequent sufferers from this disorder. The eruptions are usually small and appear about the hair follicles, accompanied by the usual intense itching.

In some forms of this disease, technically known as urticaria, there are also large swellings under the skin like small eggs, occuring most frequently on the face. The disease has a variety of forms. In some cases it occurs at regular intervals. Sometimes the irritations leave brownish discolorations or stains. These people usually become badly swollen as the result of mosquito or insect bites.

One susceptible to this disorder may suffer an attack from a number of causes, but there is almost always some irritation of the digestive tract. The foods that are most frequently blamed for bringing on these eruptions are shellfish, cheese, sausage, pork, strawberries, cucumbers, and an almost endless variety of foods and drugs.

This disease may occur as a complication in the course of many chronic diseases, and in susceptible people the irritation of various substances applied to the skin will bring on an attack. Some of the substances which bring on this rash most frequently when in contact with the skin are rotogravure ink from newspapers, the content of certain plants such as the primrose, various types of essential oils and gases. Worry and nervous irritation are also likely to bring on the eruption.

Such eruptions are readily cured, since all that is required is to thoroughly alkalinize the blood. This is accomplished through the use of the acid-fruit diet, such as apples, grapes, oranges or grape fruit for a period varying from five to ten days and followed by a well-balanced diet as outlined in my weekly articles in the newspapers.

One should be particularly careful to avoid fermentation in the intestines, and I am convinced that wrong food combinations are more responsible for skin troubles than most of the foods that are blamed by the sufferers. One with a tendency to such a disorder must be particularly careful in this respect. I will gladly send without charge my article on food combinations to those who are interested, provided they will send large, self-addressed, stamped envelopes.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Question: Mrs. H. writes: "I have been told by a friend that a rolling pin is good for reducing. Another friend contradicted the statement, saying that it was very injurious. Is it or is it not? I am five feet, five inches tall, 32 years old, and weigh 126 pounds. Am I underweight or overweight?"

A.: The only correct way to reduce is through diet and exercise. Massage with a rolling pin is not very effective, and only tends to break down the cellular structure. Your weight for your age and height seems to me to be about normal.

Q.: I. L. writes: "I am very interested in your articles, and would like very much to see a write-up on 'Alcoholic Drinks.'"

A.: I cannot elaborate on this subject in a short answer in this Question and Answed Department. Alcoholic drinks should be used carefully if at all. They are stimulating and helpful in certain cases and under certain conditions. Where too much is used, stimulation stops, and depression or intoxication begins.

Q.: G. H. asks: "What would you advise for gall bladder trouble? I am having sick headaches, and vomit often."

A.: I have written a great deal on this subject, and will be glad to send you complete information about the cause and cure of various forms of gall bladder trouble if you will send a request to me, inclosing a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope. In the meantime, cut down on the amount of food you are using, and to begin with, try a short fast on fruit for a few days.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

BY MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope, forwarded to this office, will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, styes and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

MOTHER SHOUD RECOGNIZE TYPES OF STOOLS

The stools of the healthy baby may look differently than the classic description of them would indicate and still not be a matter for concern. If the baby is sleeping well, gaining neither too much nor too little, and especially if breast fed, the mother would do well to ignore slight variations from the usual. When things are going wrong they may be valuable as indicators of what needs correction.

The stool of the breast-fed baby is yellow or light orange in color, pasty rather than formed and of inoffensive odor. Cow's milk added to the diet changes them to a darker color and lends definite form and a characteristic odor. If there is much malt sugar used in the formula they will be very dark brown.

Vegetables may appear in the stools looking much as when swallowed. When the child is on a general diet of orange juice, sieved vegetables and whole grain cereals little attention should be paid to the appearance of particles in the stools, because the diet contains indigestible material, which is bound to show there.

The stool of the breast-fed baby, which turns slightly olive green after standing, is of small consequence. It is the watery, green stool, accompanied by fever and undeniable evidences of illness that should warn the mother of trouble.

The pale, grey, stiff stool, passed with difficulty may be the result of a diet containing too much milk and not enough sugar. The addition of more sugar in the diet will usually end the difficulty. A somewhat similar stool might be caused by an excess of cream or fat in the diet.

Pink stools or diapers showing a rusty stain may indicate nothing more serious than the lack of too little water to drink. Rinse the diapers more perfectly, and increase the baby's fluid intake. If this doesn't end the trouble, better tell the doctor.

Too large an amount of sugar in the formula will probably result in foamy stools that burn the buttocks. More than six level tablespoonfuls for any baby will likely cause a fermented stool.

Starvation stools are greenish-brown in color, show much mucus and little fecal matter, and have a musty odor. The persistent vomiter (who gets little food,) the child fed on small rations, because he is thought to have a "weak" stomach, the child who has recently suffered diarrhea, may have this type of stool. The breast-fed baby who is getting far less to eat than he needs may likewise exhibit this sign of starvation.

Small, bean-like curds in the stool are probably undigested protein. Boiling the baby's milk will cause them to disappear.

While too much attention to the "looks" of the stools often results in useless worry, mothers should be able to recognize a definitely pathological stool so that they can take steps to correct the diet.

NORTHWESTERNERS TO RALLY

Residents of this section who hail from New York, Washington or Oregon are to participate in an all-day rally to be held on the 13th inst., at Sycamore Grove Park.

Botanic Garden Shows Blooms

Spectacular displays of dahlias and chrysanthemums will greet members of the California Botanic Garden attending the harvest festival meeting in Mandeville Canyon this afternoon from 2 until 6 o'clock, it was said yesterday by Mrs. Martha Nelson McCan, chairman of membership activities. Pasadena and and the Pasadena Garden Club have been selected for signal honors in the day's program, with Mrs. Sherman Hoyt, vice-president of the club, presenting three benches as its contribution to the garden.

A flower and fruit show will be opened to members at 2 o'clock, and followed by presentation ceremonies at 3 o'clock. Eight architects will display sketches for treatment of home gardens.

The flower show and other exhibits will be open to the public all day tomorrow.

"I BELIEVE IN GOD"

Rev. Walter P. Doty will preach on "I Believe in God" tomorrow morning at St. Paul's Cathedral. In the evening, following an organ recital by Dudley W. Fitch, a sermon will be preached by Rev. Bertrand M. Hause. Holy communion will be celebrated at 7:45 a.m. and 10 a.m.

BUILDERS WILL LAY STONE

West Adams Presbyterian Church Ceremony Set; Congregation to Conduct Rite Tomorrow

Cornerstone-laying ceremonies for the West Adams Presbyterian Church, being built at 1449 West Adams street at a cost of $100,000, will be conducted at 3 p.m. tomorrow, according to announcement made yesterday by Dr. William E. Roberts, the pastor. The public is invited. Following a brilliant musical program, addresses will be given by Dr. Herbert Booth Smith, moderator of the Los Angeles Presbytery; Rev. W. E. Edmonds, moderator of the California Synod; Rev. Newell Elliott, pastor of South West Presbyterian Church; Mrs. W. S. Bartlett, noted Bible teacher, and Miss Martha Chase, sister-in-law of the late Francis M. Dimmick, founder of the church.

Mr. Dimmick donated the original church building and lot in 1885 as a thanksgiving offering for the recovery of his wife. Into the corner-stone will be placed many interesting and valuable documents, including a message from Dr. Hugh K. Walker, pasto rof the First Presbyterian Church and moderator of the Presbyterian churches of the United States.

Inspired by the spirit of service manifested by those who first introduced the light of Christianity to the aborigines of the Golden State, and by the simple beauty of the architecture of their temples, Dr. Roberts and his congregation erected the new church in the old mission style, even to the tower. The auditorium has a seating capacity of 800 and the Dimmick Memorial Chapel, adjoining, is a charming feature of the edifice.

Dr. Roberts, formerly pastor of the Santa Ana Presbyterian Church, has been pastor of the West Adams church for the past two years, and during his pastorate the membership has grown to 700, with a Sunday-school enrollment of 400. The new building, which is practically paid for, will be finished within the next three months. At the services tomorrow morning Dr. Roberts will preach on "Moving Machinery."

DR. G. A. BRIEGLEB

"Has the former general assembly moderator, Dr. Henry Van Dyke, befouled the Presbyterian nest in his indorsement of Al Smith and his antiprohibition program? Would Canada's liquor control system help the United States solve the prohibition problem? Is prize fighting a brutal sport and should voters repeal the present State boxing law? Did Judge Hardy make a travesty of the law by his defiance of the State bar, and is Ford's defense of him a reward for Hardy's decision in the appeal of the Follies Theater case?" These questions will be discussed by Dr. C. A. Briegleb in his sermon at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church tomorrow evening, following a program by the Scottish Choir. Services will be conducted in the morning, also.

DR. O. S. DAVIS HERE

"Thirty Years Among the Dead," a book by Dr. Carl A. Wickland, will be discussed by Dr. E. Lee Howard tomorrow evening at First Congregational Church. In the morning Dr. Ozra S. Davis, president of Chicago Theological Seminary and moderator of the National Council of Congregational Churches, will preach on "Two Great Experiences."

"AWAKENING OF THE SELF"

Dr. Walter W. Raymond, pastor of the First Church of Divine Science, 424 South Broadway, has returned from his lecture tour in the Northwest and will be in charge of services at his church tomorrow. The sermon topics for morning and evening are, respectively, "Where Thy Treasure is" and "The Awakening of the Self." Dr. Raymond also will give a free lecture at the church next Wednesday evening.

TO GIVE CONCERT

The choir of the First Baptist Church, Hollywood, will give the first musicale of the season tomorrow evening. Artists on the program include Zaruhi Elmassian, Charles L. Munro, Harold D. Winn, Morrill Boynton and Clinton E. Dawson. The concert will be free to the public. Rev. E. B. Pratt will preach in the morning.

FIRST METHODIST

"Finding God in Zion National Park and Bryce Canyon" is the subject of a sermon to be preached by Dr. E. E. Helms tomorrow evening at First Methodist Church. The subject for morning is "God so Loved That He Gave." Musical program will be directed by Frederick Vance Evans, with Albert Tufts at the organ.

REYNOLD E. BLIGHT

"The Greatest Opportunity in the History of the Church" is the subject of an address to be given by Reynold E. Blight at St. Philip's Episcopal Church tomorrow morning. Mr. Blight, who formerly was pastor of the Church of the People, is a well-known contributor to The Churchman and other magazines, his latest article in The Churchman being on the subject "The Scientific Spirit and Preaching."

"LOVE AND FREEDOM"

"There is nothing more profound nor dynamic than the truth—and it doesn't need the megaphone," declares Genevieve Behrend, teacher of psychology, who will give a series of free evening lectures at Trinity Auditorium beginning tomorrow. The topics of the lectures, which will start each evening at 8 p.m., are as follows: Tomorrow evening, "How to Get What You Want;" Monday, "Love and Freedom;" Tuesday, "How to Attract $100,000;" Wednesday, "Instantaneous Healing;" Thursday, "Your Three Best Friends;" Friday, "How to Contact the Spirit World;" Sunday, the 14th inst., "How to Visualize and Realize."

"LIBERTY SAFEGUARDED"

Dr. Harold Griffis, pastor of Wilshire Boulevard Christian Church, will preach tomorrow morning on "My Father's Business," the topic for evening being "Liberty, Safeguarded by Law." The musical program in the evening will include selections by America's Bird Whistling Chorus under direction of Agnes Woodward, with Helen Ward as accompanist.

DR. HERBERT B. SMITH

"Startling Facts for Christian Citizens" is the subject of a sermon to be preached by Dr. Herbert Booth Smith tomorrow evening at Immanuel Presbyterian Church. Among questions to be discussed are: "Will women's votes save the situation? What is Hoover's position on world peace? What is the truth about prohibition in Canada?" The topic for morning is "Pillars in the Temple of the New Church." At 3 p.m. tomorrow Dr. Smith will be the principal speaker at the laying of the corner-stone of West Adams Presbyterian Church.

"THE LORD'S PRAYER"

Dr. Charles Clarkson Merrill of Chicago, chief of the missionary enterprises of the Congregational denomination in America and abroad, will be the preacher tomorrow morning at Plymouth Congregational Church. In the evening a musical program will be given by Prof. Theophilus Fitz, who will give selections on the Neo-vox an instrument which he recently invented. Dr. H. C. Culbertson, the pastor, will preach on "The Lord's Prayer."

TO GIVE DRAMA

The play "Ordered South" will be presented by young people of the First Christian Church tomorrow evening at the church, 511 West Eleventh street. The drama, free to the public, is in connection with the first session of the Church School of World Friendship, which will open at 7:15 p.m. with addresses by Rev. Ira L. Ketcham, Prof. Shirley R. Shaw and Dr. John P. Fisher. In the morning Dr. Warren Grafton will preach on "The Place of Personal Religion."

"TRAGIC FAILURES"

Dr. Cortland Myers, nationally known pulpiteer, will be the preacher tomorrow at Glendale Presbyterian Church. The sermon subjects for morning and evening are, respectively, "Spiders' Webs in the Modern Religious World" and "Tragic Failures in This World and the Next."

"ART OF LETTING GO"

Mrs. Leila Castberg, pastor of the Church of Divine Power, will preach at Belasco Theater tomorrow morning on "The Art of Letting Go." A song service with Morris Stoloff as violin accompanist will precede the discourse. Sunday-school will be conducted at 9:30 a.m. at 2828 Reservoir street.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN

Members of First Presbyterian Church will partake Holy Communion tomorrow morning at the church, Twentieth and Figueroa streets. Dr. L. E. McNair, co-pastor, with Dr. Hugh K. Walker, will preside and will welcome several new members into the congregation. In the evening Dr. McNair will preach on "Those Who Come and Those Who Are Sought."

FIRST BAPTIST

"A Lawbreaker Who Became a Lawgiver" is the subject of a sermon to be preached by Dr. Norman B. Henderson tomorrow morning at First Baptist Church. In the evening Dr. Henderson will discuss the following questions: "Would the election of Alfred Smith mean the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment? Is the Eighteenth Amendment the instrument of a ddry minority?"

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

At all Churches of Christ, Scientist, in Los Angeles, branches of the Mother Church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Boston, Sunday morning services are conducted at 11 a.m. Some of the churches repeat the services at 8 p.m.

The subject of the lesson-sermon tomorrow is "Unreality," with the following Golden Text: "He that will love life, and see good days, let him refrain his tongue from evil and his lips that they speak no guile." (I Peter 3:10.)

On Wednesday evening all of these churches conduct meetings at which testimonies of Christian Science healing are given. A Wednesday testimonial meeting is conducted also by Third Church of Christ, Scientist, beginning at noon.

COUNCILMAN TO SPEAK

A "Good Citizenship" service will feature the program tomorrow evening at Highland Park Baptist Church, Monte Vista street at North Avenue 59. William G. Bonelli, President of City Council, will speak on "The Christian Citizen's Oppor-

CUMMINGS DIRECTS FOR WALSH

Hackett Plays Original "Dugan" Role in Film Version; Mal St. Clair Directs Lasky's "Unconquered;" Junior Coghlan Gets New Pathe Role

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

No sadder fate has befallen any young director, it seems to us, than that which befell Raoul Walsh two days ago in Utah, when, hurrying to location full of enthusiasm at making the first out-door talker, "In Old Arizona," he was injured in an automobile accident which will necessitate a long lay-off for him with the possible loss of an eye. This director, maker of "What Price Glory" and "Sadie Thompson," is one of the most promising of them all; and his enthusiasm for the talking pictures and the talents he brought to them were of quite incalculable value.

Irving Cummings, we hear from an authentic source, will replace Walsh as director of the picture. Cummings has made some very successful pictures of late.

As Walsh was also to play a part, and as Cummings himself does not care to act as well as direct, Warner Baxter will probably be cast in the Walsh role, although I believe he is not yet actually signed.

RAY HACKETT PLAYS FORMER STAGE ROLE

RAYMOND HACKETT

When Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer goes into the production of "The Trial of Mary Dugan," that engaging young actor, Raymond Hackett, who played the role of the young brother and attorney in the stage production here will also play it in the screen version, according to word just received.

Young Hackett has had considerable stage experience in and around New York, and gave an excellent account of himself in "The Trial of Mary Dugan" during its recent long run at the Mason.

Mal St. Clair Directs Dix

Mal St. Clair's injured foot doesn't at all hamper his directorial career, it would seem. Even if he does walk with a cane, the plaster cast has been removed, and he appears to be three jumps ahead of most directors when it comes to work.

It became known yesterday that he will direct "Unconquered" for Paramount, with Richard Dix starred and Florence Vidor playing the feminine lead.

MELVILLE BROWN.

Junior Coghlan, juvenile Pathe star, is at school both in realty and in the movies.

Paul Bern is preparing to produce "Square Shoulders" with this 12-year-old player. This is a story with a boys' military academy as its background. George Dromgold and Peggy Prior are preparing the continuity.

It is quite likely that Melville Brown will direct. By the way Brown made a record with "Geraldine," which he is just finishing, inasmuch as, when the finishing shots are made today, he will already have all the foregoing part of the picture cut and titled.

Madge Bellamy's New One

MADGE BELLAMY.

Instead of "Subway," Madge Bellamy will star next for Fox in "Exiles," it was learned yesterday. William Beaudine will direct.

"Exiles" is a story which Fox has owned for many years. The story was filmed once before. Now it is being brought down to date, even to the extent of becoming a talker. In it Miss Bellamy will have the role of a cabaret girl; and since her work in "Mother Knows Best" along the talking lines was so excellent, she will probably have more of this work to do.

Miss Bellamy was formerly of the stage, making her New York debut in Barrie's "Dear Brutus."

Irene Franklin With Vitaphone

Irene Franklin, who is appearing this week at the Orpheum with her husband, Jerry Jarnagan, has been engaged by Vitaphone to appear in a short subject in which she will sing two of her new songs. Jarnagan will accompany her on the piano.

Reginald Denny Story

That snappy comedian, Reginald Denny, is to be provided by Universal with a new story by Joseph Franklin Poland and Earle Snell. It is called "His Lucky Day."

There is such heavy demand for the Denny pictures, according to Universal officials, that it is almost impossible to keep up the supply.

Al Santell to Travel

Alfred Santell, director of Vilma Banky's next United Artists' picture, produced by Samuel Goldwyn, will slip quietly out of Los Angeles today en route to New York, where he will look over locations for the story, which will be filmed largely in the heart of the big city. It will be a talking picture with all the city sounds incorporated.

Just when the star and cast will go east is not yet decided, nor has a name been given to the story. Fritzi Ridgeway will probably play an important part in the picture.

Wallace MacDonald Cast

Wallace MacDonald has been cast for the masculine lead in "Blockade," in which Anna Q. Nilsson is starring for FBO.

This is the picture which FBO has been trying ineffectually to start during the past three months. The first postponement came when Miss Nilsson was injured and her leg fractured.

Rex Lease in Vaudeville

Rex Lease is leaving next week on a vaudeville tour, appearing in a playlet. He is booked by the Orpheum Circuit, opening in Santa Barbara. Later he will play Long Beach and then Los Angeles.

ABOUT THE STAY-AT-HOMES

"The Jazz of Patriotism," Fanny Bixby Spencer's antiwar play which will be produced at the Egan Theater early in October, gives a new angle on the war period. It shows the experiences of the Stay-at-Homes. The incidents of the story are said to be built upon real happenings that came under Mrs. Spencer's observation in some instances word for word as she heard them. Josephine Dillon has been brought from New York to stage the play.

RETHBERG IS RARE SINGER

Prima Donna Scores Vocal Triumph on Debut

'Butterfly' Holds New Lyrical Allurements

Cimini Gives Fine Reading of Puccini Score

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

Elizabeth Rethberg is a captivating singer. She is the second prima donna to be introduced this season by the Los Angeles Grand Opera Association, and her success here is assured, gauged by the reception accorded her last evening in Puccini's sensuous and pathetic lyric tragedy, "Madame Butterfly."

It was an event of vocal art preeminently—this second performance of the opera series at Shrine Auditorium—credit being due in the majority of respects to the gifted soprano, new to Los Angeles, but undoubtedly destined—if skill in the employment of beauteous tone means aught—to be a favorite.

The audience which hear Rethberg last evening was distinctly receptive. The house was nearly capacity, and the appraisal of the new artist was singularly discriminating. At times, it seemed as if she received more actual applause for her personal efforts than Jeritza. So the pace of rivalry is effectively set for the balance of the productions.

Rethberg is hardly the type to be associated with the diminutive role of Butterfly. A tiny Japanese singer has established a standard for presence in the role, as far as Los Angeles is concerned, for all time. That is the Tamaki Miura of elder period, of Max Rabinoff's Boston Opera Company, though strangely enough, she has never meant as much at any time in eastern circles as she did here.

Between the voice of Miura and the voice of Miss Rethberg it would be absolutely ridiculous to make comparisons. Miss Rethberg represents an ultima Thule in the application of song in drama, to which the youthful student might aspire to as a goal, and, at that, idealistically.

She did not look Butterfly but she sang it exquisitely, with such nuances of phrasing as are seldom if ever heard in this opera. Even with the entrance song she had made a radiant impression. She brought this impression to the point of a triumph in the final love duet, where honors are ordinarily very liberally shared with the tenor. The applause when she alone came on the stage, with bravos permeating it evidenced the audience's admiration.

Again was she accorded tribute even after the pianissimo close of the second act—never conducive to much of an ovation. The air, "One Fine Day," and the climaxing scene after the arrival of Pinkerton's ship brought her additional popular approbation. Altogether, it could hardly have been a more convincing garnering of laurels which belong to a Butterfly interpreter who knows how to make Butterfly lyrically inviting to the public.

As regards her acting of the role, Rethberg achieves an effect a little less decided. I would, however, largely attribute this to the fact that she is not physically suited to it, and that we are spoiled in our demands for such physical suitability by an overwhelming demand for perfect types in this locality.

Actually it was a sensitive and sincere portrayal of Butterfly that she gave, without any flaunting of emotionalism except possibly in the final death scene. It was a portrayal eminently efficient in its routine, and (with slight exception of nervousness, perhaps, right after her entrance) in its assurance. She lived Butterfly intellectually, and never forgot to spellbind her hearers with ideal shadings of tonal quality, and an ease in voice production that was unmatchable. We anticipate her further appearances, especially in "Faust" and "Andrea Chenier."

Final musical detail did not end with the work of Rethberg. In the orchestra pit Pietro Cimini added almost as much of such excellence. He seemed intent on bringing out the more delicate elements of phrasing in the smoothest manner possible. There was a flow to Cimini's reading of the score that left few, if any, rough contours.

The tenor, Genaro Barra (new, and seemingly also a little green,) had good moments vocally. I liked his softer tones throughout the love duet immensely. His voice blended excellently with that of Rethberg. At times, there is a certain forced hard quality to his tones but he overcomes this most agreeably when apparently he is not self-conscious. It would seem from his gestures especially that he was a little ill at ease either in the role of Pinkerton, or on the stage. There is promise in his work, at all events.

Millo Picco hardly realized satisfactorily the part of Sharpless vocally, and it can be made rather important. Marion Telva, on the other hand, was a most pleasing Suzuki. Much praise for her portion of the Flower Duet, which is rarely sung with such grace as it was last evening by Miss Rethberg and her. Miss Telva also acts capably. The Bonze, and Goro were undertaken by Louis D'Angelo and Ludovico Oliviero.

"Butterfly" was musically a singularly interesting performance, and tonight another and very different Puccini opera, "Turandot," will be heard with Jeritza.

AMERICANS ABROAD IN FOX FILM

"Dry Martini" Stripped of Hokum; D'Arrast Registers in Direction

BY PHILIP K. SCHEUER

Paris—Paris Americanized—a far cry from the Paris of Baedeker, although even he and his guide-book are not neglected—that is the locale of "Dry Martini," a Fox product which was poured onto the Metropolitan Theater screen yesterday. It is my humble opinion that it is one of the most delightful movies ever made.

All the conventional terms, all those adjectives which are indicative of a quality at once bubbling, sparkling, airy, irresistible, fragile, effervescent, must suffice to here describe a most unconventional motion picture. H. d'Abbadie d'Arrast, a young director who served an apprenticeship with Charles Chaplin, has taken a book by John Thomas and an adaptation by Douglas Z. Doty and made of it a photoplay so completely devoid of artifice, so unequivocally defiant of the commandments laid down for directors to follow, that it is extremely doubtful—and this is the paradoxical part of it—if "Dry Martini" will enjoy even a small portion of public favor.

I fear it cannot be swallowed in one unpremeditated gulp.

The film's flimsy narrative winds around the very ordinary activities of a party of Americans in a geographically alien land. To all intents and purposes, the contrast would seem to end there. D'Arrast's principal concern is with these expatriated citizens of the United States; the French who appear do so only in strict furtherance of the plot; but in perhaps 5000 feet of celluloid he has plumbed straight to the quintessence of the customs, the ideals, the very mental processes of two great peoples—and shown them to be as dissimilar as day and night.

The subject has been a favorite one with novelists in recent years. "The Sun Also Rises," by Ernest Hemingway, comes naturally to mind. In a sense, D'Arrast has caught the spirit of that work—entirely minus, of course, the galling bitterness of its pages. Perhaps it would be more reasonable to compare the film to "A Woman of Paris," Chaplin's solo-effort at producing a drama. It is characterized by the same fine subtlety of style in camera work and performance, boasting additionally the progressive advantages of modern studio facilities.

The players are splendid, all of them. Albert Gran stands out with a beautifully shaded interpretation of Willoughby Quimby—he is the pivotal figure of the story. Matt Moore, Mary Astor, Jocelyn Lee, Sally Eilers, Albert Conti, Hugh Trevor, Marcelle Corday, Tom Ricketts and Jack Dillon—these are the others who contribute to the gently repressed moods of the comedy.

All the titles are spoken ones. They are well written; in a carefully produced and edited photoplay, the misspelling of Fontainebleau is a single flaw.

"Dry Martini," then, is recommended—with reservations. According to your taste in literary hors d'oeuvres, you may smack your lips over it—or pass it up.

Chic Sale is heard at the "Met" in an amusing Movietone sketch called "The Star Witness." Sale demonstrates his mastery of the art of make-up by appearing as a walrus-mustached individual reminiscent of Hugh Herbert, if you happen to recall Hugh Herbert.

The stage presentation, "Sunny Skies," is unimportant. "Wee Willie" Robyn, a member of Roxy's "Gang;" Maurice Colleano, Georgie Hayes, Bobby Gilbert, Eddy Magill, the Pedro Rubin Dancers and others take part in its unfoldment.

TALKIE RUSHED NORTH FOR FIRST SCREENING

"The Melody of Love," Universal's first 100 per cent talking picture, will be sent by airplane to San Francisco for its world premiere at the Pantages Theater there tonight. A Western Air Express machine will pick up the photoplay at 2 o'clock this afternoon and land it in the northern city at 5 o'clock.

Strauss Heard in Recital at Morning Club

Laurence Strauss, of San Francisco, sang at the Friday Morning Club yesterday and impressed his hearers with his intelligence, his vivid delineation of song-poems and the quality of his musicianship.

His program was of particular interest because of its variety. A Schubert group of five songs, including the "Wanderer," commemorated the hundredth anniversary of this composer and demonstrated Mr. Strauss's artistry. It was his privilege to study Schubert with the late George Henschel.

A folk-song group, one of French, a Brahms and a Beethoven, and a concluding group of English numbers rounded out a well-balanced recital. The English numbers; "Little Boy Blue" by Nevin and "The Piper" by Michael Head, were especially well received. Mr. Strauss has had unusual success singing in the Greek Theater at Berkley and at the Municipal Auditorium at Oakland, having that lyric quality of voice which projects easily into large auditoriums.

Blond Beauty Sings Tonight

Jeritza will appear tonight in her famous role of "Turandot." It is as far as possible in appearance, from the blond, blue-eyed person she really is. Noted as one of the great beauties of the opera world, Mme. Jeritza adds to her reputation by superlative taste in dress and magnificent costume. She is a tall Teutonic type and even at 11 o'clock in the morning after singing "Tosca" the night before and enjoying her success until 2 o'clock in the morning, she is radiant with the loveliness that is best described in the writings about Helen of Troy. Her type is most truly the reason "gentlemen prefer blohds."

Jeritza, (and by the way it is correctly pronounced Yeritza with the accent on the first syllable,) is most interested in her role of Fedora which she will sing Monday evening. In it she is a Russian woman of tragic love. The libretto is comparatively modern and there is a tremendous demand for intense dramatic action. She will also sing "Garmen" on Wednesday night.

PRYOR IN "ALL AT SEA"

Herbert Pryor, well-know character actor, will play the part of Josephine Dunn's father in "All At Sea," which Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer is filming as a new co-starring comedy for Karl Dane and George K. Arthur. Pryor recently appeared in "The Smart Set" as William Haines's father.

GANGSTER HERO OF FEATURE

Adaptation of Coe Story Introduces Don Terry to Loew's State Fans

BY MARQUIS BUSBY

It must have taken considerable detective work on the part of the Fox studio to find a motion-picture plot in Charles Francis Coe's magazine story, "Me, Gangster," although this diary of a crook was genuinely interesting.

The chief fault of the screen adaptation, showing at Loew's State this week, is a lack of coherence. The story itself was sketchy, and while considerable since has been written in to add a few necessary box-office attributes, the picture is episodic. Yet, the film has considerable merit, and gives a new flavor to underworld stories.

"Me, Gangster" is the story of a youth of the underworld, his boyhood and his manhood. There are two influences for good in the boy's life—his mother and the girl he loves. His father is a "peanut politician" of the docks district, and his companions in boyhood were sneak thieves. As he grows older he becomes a gangster Through his father's influence he is freed from his first contact with the law. When his father loses his power, the boy is sentenced to the penitentiary for a bank robbery. His mother dies of a broken heart, and for the first time in his life the gangster experiences a genuine emotion, remorse. He decides to go straight, and returns the money which he has secreted. There is a typical, but stirring, climax depicting a battle between the gangsters and the police.

There is a commendable simplicity to both direction and acting. One feels that the characters are human, and their frailties are forgiven for that very reason.

Don Terry, the Harvard man, recruited to the screen for the role of the young gangster, shows considerable promise. He has youth, rugged strength, and a lack of acting tricks which would have detracted from the role. It is not a particularly sympathetic character, but Terry by sheer personality makes it likable.

Stella Adams is sincere without being saccharine in a mother role, and Anders Randolf is the grafting politician father.

June Collyer imparts sweetness to her role of the fiancee, although the part affords her few opportunities.

Gustav Von Seyffertitz gives a polished characterization as the man whom the boy robs.

The direction of Raoul Walsh is noteworthy considering the story material at hand.

Fanchon and Marco's "Frivols" Idea has some spectacular dancing by a large chorus, and several clever featured entertainers. The Volga Boys are heard to good effect in several choral numbers. The Rich Trio is adept at acrobats. One of the girls is a splendid contortionist if you are interested in seeing somebody sit on her own head. Jack Cavanaugh knows some new twists to rope twirling.

The program is completed by a Stan Laurel-Oliver Hardy comedy, and the Fox Movietone News. The football practice at Yale, Princeton and Notre Dame is particularly interesting.

'MADAME X' GIVEN BY LAFAYETTE TROUPE

The Lafayette Players, colored artists, opened a week's engagement of "Madame X," the old stage favorite, last evening at the Lincoln Theater as the first anniversary attraction.

The revival of the famous play, which was adapted from the French drama of Alexandre Bisson by John Raphael, was well received by the Lincoln Theater patrons.

The part of the French gentlewoman who was victimized by circumstance and folly and hid her identity in shame is taken by Cleo Desmond, and is most effectively handled. Edward Thompson has the part of the woman's son, who, unaware of her identity, is attorney for her defense in the trial for the murder of her lover. Evelyn Preer enacts the role of the boy's fiancee. Sidney Kirkpatrick plays the part of the husband of the fallen woman, and Charles Olden, his friend. Malcolm H. Patton and Arthur Ray extract humor from their roles as a pair of ultra-genteel blackmailers. Other members of the cast are J. Lawrence Criner, Thomas M. Southern, Edwin L. Jefferson, Leslie Perry, Monte Hawley, Laura Bowman, Bebe Townsend and Howard Brown.

SMASHING CLIMAX IN FILM

Those two darlings of the picture-makers, the underworld and newspaper life, are presented once again in "Freedom of the Press," which opened yesterday at the Boulevard Theater.

In spite of the many pictures with crimes and newspaper office backgrounds that have gone before, Peter B. Kyne turned in a strong story with many fresh situations. As screened, this story drags at times, but it works up to a smashing climax, and it has some rare bits of characterization along the way. An excellent cast helps to hold the interest of the audience.

Henry B. Walthall plays the part of a fearless editor and publisher of a metropolitan daily, who is fighting to expose the corrupt gang that is running the city for its own profit. The discovery that the sinister shadow behind the Mayor's chair is none other than his old friend does not stop the editor's campaign. With Walthall as the editor and Lewis Stone as the underworld leader, the audience is treated to acting that is acting.

Malcolm McGregor enters the story as the son of the editor, starting his newspaper career as a reporter. He meets and succumbs to the charms of the ward of the graft baron, which brings about some very pretty complications and provides several interesting situations. Marceline Day has the part of the ward. The presence of Miss Day and McGregor in the cast insures that the love interest of the story is well cared for.

The picture has its lighter moments, but "comedy relief" is noticeably absent. As in all stories of the sort, there are some melodramatic moments, and most of these are adequately handled and the hokum is not laid on quite as heavily as usual.

For the sake of nervous theater patrons suffering from shellshock from the barrage of underworld pictures, it should be mentioned that this film has less than the usual quota of machine guns, underworld dives and leering villains. Several situations of thriller potentialities are indeed handled with repression, to the benefit of their dramatic value. The climax is well built up, and the ending strikes a strong and unconventional note.

"Freedom of the Press" is, on the whole, a picture that follows well-beaten paths, but it has occasional moments that are undeniably novel and strong.

George Melford directed the picture, while J. Grubb Alexander wrote the script from the story of Peter B. Kyne. Walter Anthony wrote the titles.

The stage show presented in conjunction with the picture is a little o' this and that and is entertaining in spots. Jimmy Hodges, comedian, and Red Corcoran, with his banjo and eccentric songs, are two of the headliners. Gwen Evans and Girls present dancing specialties, and Paul Titsworth and Band provide the music for them to step to.

A comedy and a news reel complete the program.

CRY OF FORGERY HALTS HEARING

Pasadena Avenue Light-Post Petition Disputed

Property Owners Say They Did Not Sign It

Investigation Ordered and New Meeting Set

Charges that their names were forged to a petition asking for the installation of ornamental lighting posts on Pasadena avenue from San Pascual avenue to York Boulevard were made to the City Council yesterday by several property owners. They were appearing in support of a majority protest against the lighting posts.

On motion of Councilman Randall the consideration of the protests against the lights was postponed until the 15th inst. and the circulator of the petition was ordered subpoenaed to appear before the Council on that day. City Prosecutor Lickley was instructed to investigate the charges and also to be present at the hearing to determine whether criminal action is to be taken.

The original petition supposedly was signed by owners of 56 per cent of the property to be assessed. The protest petition was signed by 61 per cent of the property owners. Some of them said their signatures on the original petition are forgeries.

The Council has a rule that when an improvement is started on a majority petition and then the majority change their minds and file majority protests the property owners shall repay the city for its engineering and legal expenses in connection with the improvement in order to obtain its abandonment.

The expense in the lighting improvement to date is $274. If it develops that there are forgeries on the petition, thus reducing it to a minority one, then the Council will abandon the proceedings without expense to the property owners and the City Prosecutor will prosecute those responsible for the forgeries.

VOTERS SET NEW RECORD FOR LISTING

Registrations in County and City Near 900,000 Mark Last Night

As the final hour for the closing of the registration books approaches today, figures announced last night by Registrar of Voters Kerr indicate that Los Angeles city and county have established a new record in all parties for the balloting prerogative.

Tonight at midnight the books will be closed for the forthcoming election. Kerr again emphasized that deputy registrars will be on duty at strategic points throughout the city and at the registrar's office in the Hall of Justice annex on North Broadway to accommodate last-minute registrations.

To 9 o'clock last night Kerr's figures show 317,110 Republicans registered in the city and 243,818 in the county. The Democrats have 118,862 in the city and 82,434 in the county. Other figures are: Socialist, city, 3328, county 2387; Prohibition, city 4609, county 7068; declined to state, city 46,462, county 32,657, and miscellaneous, city 75, county 86.

The total for the city is 490,446, and for the county, 368,450, making a grand total of 858,896.

Millions Saved by Foresight on Olympic Games

A saving of $2,500,000 to California in costs of presenting the Olympic games in 1932 will result from foresight in building the Los Angeles Coliseum and other major structural facilities in anticipation of the event, in the opinion of Russell H. Ballard, treasurer of the California Tenth Olympiad Association.

R.H.BALLARD

"Because of this," said Mr. Ballard yesterday, "it was necessary to ask for only $1,000,000 State aid for the games, which was voted almost unanimously by the Legislature.

Mr. Ballard points out that costs of construction of facilities for giving the games in other countries invariably have run into millions of dollars because of the unavailability of the cramped facilities ordinarily maintained.

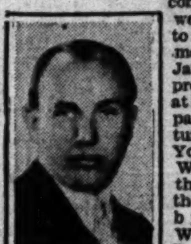
WARNERS' PROGRAM DELAYED

Production Manager Not Yet Ready to Announce Studio's New Policy

A statement setting forth the new policy of the Warner Brothers-First National Studios will not be forthcoming until next week, according to an announcement made by Jack Warner, production chief at Warner Company, on his return from New York yesterday. Warner said that details of the transaction by which Warner Brothers purchased the First National Studio, a chain of theaters and real estate and other holdings in a $100,000,000 deal are not yet ready for public announcement here.



JACK WARNER

"Other than to confirm reports of the deal I cannot make a statement at this time," Warner said on his arrival yesterday. "However, all of the details of the purchase probably will be ready for announcement the first of next week. There are many things for me to go over before I can say anything."

Al Rockett, studio manager and production chief at First National, returned from New York early this week, but he, too, declined to disclose the details of the purchase and, like Jack Warner, merely said the deal had gone through and that as far as he knows the two studios will be operated independently for the present, except that First National's first sound pictures probably will be made at the Warner studios until the talking stages at Burbank are completed.

WORKERS GET CLASS

Swimming Instruction to be Given to Employed Group Next Week

Following a successful summer's campaign in the municipal swimming pools during which hundreds of children and adults were taught to swim, the playground and recreation department will carry its slogan of "Every bather a swimmer" into the commercial and industrial organizations of Los Angeles during the remainder of the year.

Classes for employed men and women are now being organized by the industrial recreation division of the department, with instruction scheduled to begin on the 15th inst. at the Carter College of Swimming. Lessons in swimming will be given free by a swimming director from the playground department, and members of the industrial classes will also be admitted to the plunge at reduced rates.

TENNIS CLASSES START

Beginning next Tuesday Miss Lois Clark, an instructor of the physical education department, Young Women's Christian Association, will conduct a series of tennis lessons. The first class will meet at the Clark Memorial Home tennis courts, 336 Loma Drive, at 9:45 o'clock. All interested should register Monday at the association, 941 South Figueroa street.

PARRISH LEAVES TODAY

Health Officer Parrish will leave Los Angeles today to represent Los Angeles at the national meeting of the American Public Health Association at Chicago, the 15th to 19th inst. On the way to Chicago he will attend the national convention of the National Milk and Ice Cream Association at Cleveland, which opens next Thursday.

ORCHESTRA TO PLAY

Joseph Rosenfeld and his concert orchestra will be featured on the program at Westlake Park tomorrow to be given by the Board of Park Commissioners. Vocal selections will be given by the members of the California Mixed Quartet. They will be accompanied by Irene Miller.
